"Back The Attack" Urges Chief Johnson

Drivers and pedestrians in Virginia Beach were urged today to make one more New Year's resolution by Chief Bevis E. Johnson, of the Virginia Beach Police. The resolution is "I will back the attack on traffic accidents in 1957."

"The year-long 'back the attack' program is a nation-wide effort by the National Safety Council to curb the rising tide of traffic accidents," Chief Johnson explained. "While the official total for 1956 are not yet available, indications point to an all-time high in traffic fatalities last year."

"The program is a three-pronged attack on the causes of traffic accidents. Traffic officials and the traffic courts are stepping up enforcement against traffic violators. Your local police department is carrying the ball on getting the public to cooperate. The third arm of the attack is public support both by walking and driving safely and in its understanding, acceptance and cooperation with the police. Launched in December, the 'Back the attack' campaign will continue through 1957, according to chief Johnson. He appealed to drivers to support the program this month by observing these winter driving rules:

- Adapt your driving to road conditions.
- Use good tires and reinforced tire chains on snow or ice.
- Keep windshield and windows clear of snow or ice.
- Get the "feet of the road" by trying your brakes while driving slowly and away from traffic.
- Follow at a safe distance.
- Pump your brakes to slow down or stop.

In addition Chief Johnson called on the citizens of Virginia Beach to get behind traffic officials and to get behind traffic officials.

High Driver Education

Fifty-one per cent of the public high schools in the United States now provide driver education, which the National Safety Council declares is one of the most promising methods to reduce the traffic accident toll.

At the end of the 1948-49 school year, only 29 per cent of the nation's public high schools offered driver education, according to the Council.

Recognition of the importance of driver education has been growing among educators and parents, the Council says, with many women's club and parent-teacher organizations taking the lead.

As an example, the Council cited the top winner in the last Carol Lane award program. The Decatur, Ga., Business and Professional Women's Club was instrumental in providing driver education in 11 county high schools.

The Carol Lane Awards are administered by the Council under a grant of the Shell Oil Co. to recognize and reward the achievements of women in support of traffic safety.

The Council announced that the deadline for entries in the 1957 award program is June 15. Named for the women's travel director of Shell, the awards are open to any American woman, woman's club or parents' group. Awards in each category are $1,000, $500 and $250 savings bonds, as well as bronze statuettes. Information may be obtained from the Council at 425 N. Michigan Ave., Chicago.

Dr. Beck Opens Office At Beach

The Tidewater District of the Virginia Chiropractic Association yesterday announced that, as part of a state-wide effort to bring chiropractic services to communities not possessing such health care, chiropractic assistance will be made available to Virginia Beach residents next week. Acting upon frequent requests from individuals in the Virginia Beach area, the state association has persuaded Dr. Earl C. Beck of Norfolk to open an office at 1803 Atlantic Avenue, Virginia Beach.

Dr. Beck, a native of Wisconsin, received his Bachelor of Arts degree from St. Francis College, Milwaukee, Wisconsin and his Bachelor of Science degree from Shurtleff College, Alton, Illinois. Valley, doctor of his class, he received his Doctor of Chiropractic degree from Logan College of Chiropractic, St. Louis, Missouri in 1933.

Dr. Beck has also done post-graduate work in Europe and has served in the armed forces as chief technician at Fitzsimmons Army Hospital, Denver, Colorado. Presently practicing in Norfolk, Dr. Beck will hold office hours three days each week in Virginia Beach.

The Virginia Chiropractic Association feels that Dr. Beck, an associate editor of its monthly publication, is well equipped, both by training and by experience, to treat successfully those patients in the Virginia Beach area who need chiropractic care.

Judge Hears 399 Cases In One Day

Holidays are nice, but have you noticed how the work piles up? Judge J. Davis Reed Jr., of the County Court here found a graphic example last Friday afternoon. The Judge heard 399 cases during the afternoon session of the court.

As if that weren't bad enough, the Judge had already heard 194 cases during a morning session of the Norfolk Civil Court, while sitting for Judge Willis V. Fentress.

Whether the 399 cases was a jurist's record for one day or not no one knows, but there is one sure thing Judge Reed had a full day.

A REPORT

The Princess Anne County Chapter of the American Red Cross has announced that the special fund drive for Hungarian Relief has not quite reached the halfway mark. The total contributions received to date is $405. The quota assigned the local chapter is $534.

Anyone wishing to contribute to the fund may do so by sending a check or money order to the Hungarian Relief, care of the American Red Cross, Community House, Virginia Beach.

Early Start On School Is Urged

County school authorities notified the parents that Norfolk has been asked to concur in award of a contract later this month to a 28-classroom elementary school at Larrymore. The school may be ready for use next fall.

Chuck Sweeney, president of the P-T-A, said he had been advised of the formal request to Norfolk by County School Superintendent Frank W. Cox.

The new school site is in the area awarded Norfolk by a special annexation court. Sweeney last month appeared before the City Council to request the county be allowed to go ahead with the school.

Since Sweeney appeared before the Council, the county has called for construction bids, to be opened at 2 p.m. on Jan. 18. In his letter to the P-T-A, Cox said that while the county has received no formal reply to its request for a go ahead from the city, "we are encouraged to believe that the Norfolk City school authorities will wish to cooperate with the Princess Anne school authorities to the end that this building may be constructed at the earliest date possible."

Tidewater Highlighted In Travel Publication

Focus On Virginia Attractions

The frontispiece of the 350th anniversary of Jamestown Festival Guidebook, issued in connection with the observance next year of the 350th anniversary of the settlement of Jamestown.

Points of interest in the immediate Norfolk area and Tidewater Virginia dominate a multi-colored publication, Virginia Scenic Historyland, which will be given international circulation in connection with the 350th anniversary of the founding of Jamestown to be observed next year.

Ben Wahrman, detached as promotion director of the Norfolk Chamber of Commerce to help organize the International Naval Review to be staged June 8-17 in Hampton Roads, said a circulation of 50,000 has been guaranteed in the initial run alone.

The back page of the publication, which is being issued by the Virginia Travel Council, is devoted to the naval review, a joint promotion of Hampton, Newport News, Norfolk, Norfolk County, Portsmouth, South Norfolk, Virginia Beach, Warwick and Princess Anne County.

Large Official Map In the center of the magazine is a double-page version of an official map issued by the commerce organization showing in color and symbol the numerous historical shrines in Tidewater.

Spotted through the magazine are pictures and illustrations of other Virginia points of historic interest and descriptive material covering these and other favorite spots which cater to the tourist and traveler.

Wahrman said that only pilot copies of the publication, which will sell for $1 a copy, are available now.

Subsequently, he added, the magazine will be distributed widely for sale when regular press runs begin.

Cancer Society Appointments

Dr. George Cooper, President of the Virginia Division of the American Cancer Society, recently appointed two members of the Princess Anne Unit of the Cancer Society to State Committees.

Mrs. Paul Dolgins, Secretary of our local Unit, was appointed to the Lay Service Committee. This committee serves in an advisory and planning capacity to the Board of Directors on matters pertaining to cancer dressings, loan and gift, caskets, and transportation, and information services.

Mrs. Margaret P. Tompkins was reappointed to the Unit Organization of new Units throughout the State and to make suggestions for the betterment of existing Units.

The Princess Anne Unit of the American Cancer Society wishes everyone a very happy and prosperous New Year.

AR&E Lecture Here Sunday

Mrs. Gladys Davis Turner, secretary of the Association for Research and Enlightenment, will lecture Sunday, January 6th, on "The Panorama of Rebirth". The lecture will be the first in a series of forums during January on the doctrine of reincarnation.

Mrs. Turner was secretary to the famed American psychic, Edgar Cayce, during his forty years of work as a psychic diagnostician. She recorded in shorthand most of the 300,000 readings given by Mr. Cayce. These later were typed and filed in a concrete and steel vault in the A.R.E. headquarters, now located at 67th and Atlantic Avenue.

The Edgar Cayce readings contained much information on the concept of reincarnation. Mrs. Turner will present Sunday the various incarnations of several persons as given in the Cayce readings, to show the pattern of growth of the souls those persons.

On following Sundays, lectures will be given by other A.R.E. lecturers on other aspects of reincarnation, including those of the laws of karma and those found in the Bible.

All lectures will begin at 4 p.m. and will be held in the A.R.E. headquarters. The general public will be invited to attend.

Sidney S. Kellam, Vice-Chairman Of Monorail Commission

A special commission was created by the City Council yesterday to begin immediate consideration of a Monorail system to serve Norfolk and possibly Virginia Beach.

Named for the special assignment were seven leaders of commerce, industry and finance. Another five-man committee will compile facts on the feasibility of the new high speed, overhead rail transline.

Harry O. Nichols, president of the Chamber of Commerce will head the commission, with Sidney S. Kellam, Virginia Beach, principal and business leader, as vice chairman.

Other members are James W. Roberts, who also is chairman of the City Planning Commission; J. Rives Worsham, who is chairman of the Norfolk Port Authority; Charles L. Kaufman, chairman of the Norfolk Redevelopment and Housing Authority; John A. Alfriend, president of the National Bank of Commerce; and Lill H. Zehmer, vice president of the Bank of Virginia.

School Contract Of $455,000 Let

The County School Board here has reached a compromise with the A&P Construction Co. of Norfolk and last Friday afternoon awarded the firm a $455,000 contract for the construction of a 20-classroom elementary school near Kempsville.

The company's original bid on the school—the lowest of eight received the week before Christmas—was $481,799. The compromise was reached, according to Frank W. Cox, Division Superintendent of Schools, after making minor changes in the plans.

To be known as Woodstock, the school is one of two to be constructed with funds from a $1,200,000 bond issue approved by the residents of Kempsville District. Bids will be received on a second school in Larrymore on Jan. 18, Cox said today.

A P's contract is on a cost plus fixed fee basis with a guaranteed top cost. School officials hope that further savings will be made and that the structure will cost less than the anticipated $455,000.

In an average day more than 215,000 telephone conversations take place in the U.S.A.

HOLIDAY SAFETY
FORT STORY, Va. — With the holiday leave season half past here, Fort Story officials announced a 100 per cent effective safety program to date.

A large segment of the post's military population was authorized leaves to points all over the United States, but not one report of a personal injury accident had reached post headquarters by day's end December 28.

Policy permits soldiers to travel only during daylight hours and other stringent safety precautions are being enforced.

OFFICERS DEPART

Three Fort Story officers, two of them residents of the local area, have received orders to new assignments.

Captain Charles R. Cole, a post headquarters staff officer, since last spring, has departed Fort Story for an assignment in Orleans, France. He had been assigned here for about two years.

Captain John N. Sims, post surgeon since May, has been ordered to Redstone Arsenal. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Sims and their four children, aged 7 through 16. Doctor Sims, who resides at 3300 Arctic Avenue, Virginia Beach is an active Tidewater sportsman and a leaders in the local conservation projects of the Fort Story Rod and Gun Club.

Chief Warrant Officer John S. Gilman, of 114 8th Street, Virginia Beach, ends his second Fort Story tour in January. He will attend Guided Missile School at Fort Bliss, Tex. Gilman had been headquarters supply officer here for about 1 1/2 years since his return from Korea.

TOP-KICK TAILOR

An old Army top-kick — wielding needle, thimble and thread — sparked a prize-winning recreation room in the crack 344th Amphibious Truck Company here.

He hemmed the curtains. The recreation room, called "dayroom" in military lingo, was built from salvaged material and voluntary labor in the wooden barrack which housed the former dayroom. It was a bare room with a sagging pool table at one end and an array of shabby vending machines at the other.

Now it contains partitioned soft drink, writing, television, and game rooms. It is smartly furnished with remodeled Special Services furniture and a number of pieces rebuilt from wrecks found at a salvage dump.

According to First Lieutenant William A. Schilling, Jr., 24, of Feasterville, Pa., who made the dayroom a pet project when the assumed command of the company, the entire unit provided after-hours labor. He cited particularly Specialist Third Class Thomas R. McGilboney, 22, a former professional upholsterer from Roseville, Ga. McGilboney rejuvenated the furniture.

Schilling, a career officer whose wife, Virginia, is secretary to Post Executive Officer, also mentioned Private First Class Donald Sunderlin, 21, of Bluemound, Ill., who led a company carpentering bee in which the partitions were made from old ammunition cases.

Pvt. Ira C. Waterfield

(AHTNC) — Army Pvt. Ira C. Waterfield, whose wife, Rosa Lee, and parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Waterfield, live in Buck Bay, Va., recently completed ten weeks of packet platoon training at Fort Knox, Ky. Under this system of training, Waterfield will become a permanent member of a tank crew. Waterfield entered the Army last July.

was by Master Sergeant Murray Bilby, 36, of Richmond. He made window and partition curtains out of salvage target material which he cut, mended, hemmed and dyed personally.

According to Bilby, first sergeant of the company, he learned to see during an amphibious operation on a Caribbean island in '50. "The executive officer ordered us to have our uniforms tailored," he said, "and there wasn't a tailor within swimming distance. I did such a good job on mine, that I was practically turned seamstress for the outfit; sewing's been my hobby ever since."

Did his wife help with the day-room curtains? Not a chance, Bilby revealed. She can't sew.

FORT STORY IMPACT STUDY

Fort Story, a tiny Army Transportation Corps installation surrounded by some of America's greatest military and naval activities, has an impact on the surrounding communities out of all proportion to its size, a study currently underway at the post is expected to show.

The study, an examination of Fort Story's monetary and other impact on the Tidewater Area, is scheduled for release about the middle of January, post officials announced today.

Nicknamed locally "the home of the trucks that swim" because of its mission as site for all the U. S. Army's amphibious wheeled vehicle training, the post occupies fewer than 1500 acres of land and has a military population of only 1900. Yet, according to Army, it brings millions of dollars and an invaluable service to Tidewater.

Army officials said results of the studies would be released to all news media and given to all interested parties.

STATISTICS

November, with 79 Deaths of which 25 were pedestrians, compared badly with last November's 68 of which but eight were pedestrians. Our overall reduction was cut but the unprecedented pedestrian slaughter saw our chances gone for the third consecutive year in which the total was the lowest ever recorded.

The MIXING BOWL..

IT'S Fun TO COOK

By LUCILE CLARK
SUN-NEWS FOOD EDITOR

For the very latest in food fads and foibles... for practical, down-to-earth recipes that please both palate and pocketbook, read the "Mixing Bowl" by Lucile Clark each Thursday in the Sun-News.

Here we are at the beginning of another year - my! my! how time does fly - No matter how slow or fast time may pass by there's one "time" that doesn't pass by unnoticed - "Mealtime" - Its so much fun if you enjoy working with foods to use new ideas in feeding your family. If you don't enjoy cooking - I'm so sorry - for a well fed family is a healthy & happy family and its so gratifying when the family exclaims "Gee! Mom, this is really a wonderful meal!" - I hope my suggestion during the new year will prove helpful to you in planning your meals & preparing them.

I have been wanting to Chat again with you, good neighbors, for a long time about Sour Cream-why Sour Cream? So here, I am with information, from the test kitchen of the American Dairy Association.

I am sure you'll remember on many occasions during the four years. I had my Television show. I would use sour cream in many of the recipes. My boys, cameramen, director - engineers, all would often say "I don't like sour cream!" Why did they say that? Perhaps one reason, so many people are not familiar with the wonders of sour cream is a result of the name itself. The word "sour" may be misleading. Sour cream to-day is a far cry from what grandma used to use. I'm a grandma - & I should know - for many a time I've let cream sour to make a luscious devil's food cake. Not to-day. I've learned the sour cream to-day is a far superior product to that I used twenty years ago. To-day's product is made from Grade A Cream which has been pasteurized & homogenized. Lactic culture is added to produce a rich, clean, medium sharp cultured flavor.

Sour Cream does wonders for your meals from soups to desserts. It is not a new product, in fact it has been relied upon for years & years to add fine full flavor to cooking & baking - Its just that a great many people are not acquainted with sour cream and its versatility.

Sour Cream may be obtained from your milkman - at the super market or your favorite food store. I'm going to give you some sour cream recipes & I hope they will open the door to new taste - thrilling meals.

Sour Cream Nut Bread
2 1/2 x 3 1/2 x 7 3/4 inch pan.
1 loaf Preheat oven to 350° - Bake 1 hour.

2 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon baking soda
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon cloves
1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
1 egg beaten
1 cup brown sugar - firmly packed
1 cup dairy sour cream
1 cup broken nut meats.
Sift flour - baking powder. Soda & spices together. Beat egg - add sugar & mix well. Stir in sour cream carefully - add dry ingredients, stirring only enough to moisten them. Add nut meats. Pour into well buttered loaf pan & bake in 350° preheated oven for 1 hour - good served warm or cold.

Now - here's a recipe of mine for - Sour Cream Biscuits - These are a somewhat richer blacuit.

Sour Cream Biscuit
2 cups sifted flour
2 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
3/4 teaspoon salt
3/4 cup shortening
3/4 cup sour cream - mixed with 1/2 teaspoon soda
Mix flour with salt & baking powder - cut in shortening - until crumbly - Stir in sour cream & soda - Knead with fingertip's - 6 or 7 times - Roll out on lightly flour board - roll 3/4 to 1/2 inch flour & cut out - place on lightly greased baking sheet & bake up to 15 minutes - or until golden brown - in 450° oven.

Caraway Cole Slaw
4 cups shredded cabbage
1/2 cup dairy sour cream
2 tablespoons sugar
2 tablespoons vinegar
1/2 teaspoon salt
dash pepper
1/2 teaspoon caraway seed.

Shred cabbage (have very cold) (shreds easier) Keep chilled until time to combine with remaining ingredients. Combine sour cream, sugar, vinegar - salt, pepper & caraway seeds. Pour over cabbage - mix lightly & serve immediately.

Lime Fruit Mold
2 packages lime flavored gelatin
1 1/2 cups hot water
1 1/2 cups cold water
2/3 cup fruit syrup
1 cup crushed pineapple (drained)
1 cup diced canned pears (drained)
1 cup dairy sour cream
Dissolve gelatin thoroughly in hot water. Add cold water & fruit syrup. Chill until partially thickened. Fold in fruits & sour cream. Pour gelatin mixture into an oiled 2 quart mold or individual molds. Chill until firm. Unmold on crisp salad greens & garnish with pineapple slices - pear halves & marshmallow cherries.

Pineapple Spring Refrigerator Cheese Cake
8 inch. spring form pan -
1 - 9 oz can crushed pineapple
1 no. 303 can apricot halves
1 1/4 teaspoons salt
2 cups sieved cottage cheese (cream style)
2 tablespoons plain gelatin
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 cup liquid - juice from fruit
1 cup dairy sour cream
1 cup whipping cream
1/4 cup sugar
1/2 cup graham cracker crumbs
3 tablespoons melted butter
3 tablespoons finely chopped nuts
Sieve apricot halves & pineapple add salt & sieve cottage cheese & mix well. Dissolve gelatin in lemon juice, heat fruit juice to boiling & pour over gelatin - stir until dissolved - cool slightly - Gradually add to cheese & fruit mixture - blend thoroughly - add sour cream - whip cream - adding the 1/4 cup sugar - fold into cheese mixture. Pour into 8-inch spring form pan & chill several hours - unmold on plate - Mix crumbs, butter & chopped nuts & sprinkle on top of cake - garnish with fresh or canned apricot halves.

Here's a simple yet delicious dessert - Cool - cool - canned apple phums with just a dash of dairy sour cream on top.

Green Beans Supreme
1 quart shallow baking dish
1/2 cup finely minced onion
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1 cup dairy sour cream
2 cups French style green beans cooked - canned or frozen
1/2 cup grated sharp cheddar cheese
Simmer onions in melted butter add flour - salt & pepper & mix well - add sour cream & heat through - Blend with cooked beans & pour into shallow baking dish. Top with grated cheese & bake 15 minute at 350°.

I could go on & on for there are so many ways to use dairy sour cream - and I'm sure you'll like most everyone - I hope so - Bye - now -

To keep Mrs. M.'s
Monday Morning

it's 4-to-1 you'd need full HOUSEPOWER!

Mrs. Modern likes uncrowded Mondays for shopping and appointments. When other housewives are lugging out wet clothes, she's "off at 9" - thanks to Full Housepower and her Electric Dryer.

She measures drying time in minutes! Her Electric Dryer makes clotheslines as obsolete as scrubboards. And it's so much cleaner than sooty, smoggy air - so much kinder to fabrics than the wind-whipping, clothespin-snagging hazards of outdoor drying. Even bath towels come out as fluffy and fluffily as new!

And Mrs. M.'s just YOU with HOUSEPOWER. Ask your Electrical Contractor about new, low cost Housepower - the modern wiring you need for better electric living. Then see your electrical appliance dealer's 1957 Electric Dryers - and declare your independence from washday weather, "waits" and work.

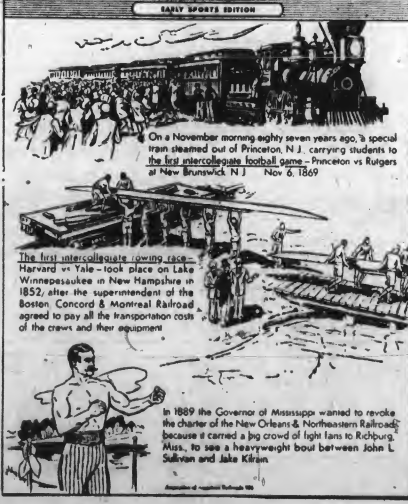

ONLY 1 HOME IN 5
HAS HOUSEPOWER

... that's a 3-wire link with the power line, and a fuse panel of 100-amps or more, with plenty of house circuits. Less may power-starve your present appliances - and is sure to bar you from enjoying today's finest electric helpers. And tomorrow's!

"Grass-Roots Diplomacy" Works

In France, Christmas of 1956 marked the fourth anniversary of one of the most remarkable and successful experiments in international understanding ever undertaken by anyone anywhere.
This is "Friendship Chain", or Chaine D'Amitie, as the French call it. The Chain, which makes it possible for American GIs to discover the true nature of the French people by being invited into their homes, is the idea of a courageous American woman, Therese Bonney, a distinguished former war correspondent and for six months, an OSS agent behind the lines in Finland.
During the past four years, more than 3,500 young American draftees have been welcomed into French homes as a son of the family. Many have gone again and again to visit the same family. And those who have returned home brought a little of France with them in those personal ties that are nourished by correspondence and will remain for life. And in France they have left an understanding and regard for this country that we know by now can not be purchased. This interchange is what Miss Bonney calls "grass-roots diplomacy". And it is succeeding in establishing affectionate regard for each other among ever-increasing thousands of French families and young Americans - where bureaucratic efforts have been notably inept.

But the Chaine D'Amitie is still very much a one-woman operation. Since its inception Miss Bonney has given her full time to this crusade and paid her own expenses, year after year out of her own pocket. French businessmen and Frenchmen in many walks of life have rallied to her support with gifts in cash and cooperation that would be the equivalent of $170,000. Considering the billions America has lavished on foreign aid, it would appear that Uncle Sam might take an interest in this brilliantly successful work. Despite unanimous endorsement of American commanders and chaplains at the base level, the policy-bound Defense Department finds no formula for assistance for the Friendship Chain.
But Miss Bonney, who is carrying on a gallant fight to match the contributions of the French, is not downhearted. She has expanded the Chain into eight other European countries where already, American GIs have spent their Christmas leave and looks forward to the day when it will be extended to include students, professors (on sabbatical leaves) and young business executives who travel abroad for the first time and who can pick up the good-will crusade where the GIs leave off.
Washington, we think, should find the answer.

"Time To Howl"

Dan Throop Smith, top assistant to Treasury Secretary Humphrey on tax matters is on record before a House Ways and Means subcommittee to the effect that the Treasury is opposed to any reduction in individual income taxes, corporate taxes or excise taxes.
"An important House Democrat" is quoted by The Wall Street Journal as saying: "We'll probably be somewhat more liberal than the Treasury would like in giving tax relief next session, but I don't see any big tax cuts before 1958, if then."
But we have yet to hear any Washington spokesman say, "We can't cut taxes now, for Heaven's sake. England is in a jam again and we've got to bail her out, which will take something over a billion dollars." That, however, is what they really mean as demonstrated by the launching of the 95-day Treasury Bill Tax Anticipation Series of one billion dollars to help finance the Mother Country.
Meanwhile, the Government that is thus subsidize our non-taxpaying mutual and frantically borrowing money continues to cooperative corporations by the same amount - one billion dollars!

If the Congressmen whose hearts are bleeding for substantial tax relief would simply decide that the cooperatives and mutual companies and credit unions should pay their taxes on the same basis as any other business organizations, there would be enough money in Uncle's till to take care of England and reduce individual taxes for the people of the US, too.
Rep. Mills' House subcommittee, which has now finished hearings on tax reform, has heard this suggestion of course in its investigation of "tax loopholes". But the matter of taxing the favored co-ops and mutuals will not, we hear, be mentioned among the 20 or more "unintended tax advantages" to be plugged by the new bill. Such a proposal would be too controversial. It is to be pushed off till 1958 - or later.
Much later - along with tax relief - unless those who do pay start howling:

The Only Kind Of Economy That Can Keep America Strong

It is well that we, or a part of us, can be thankful for this nation of ours, which was conceived by our forefathers and dedicated to freedom and justice for all.
We have been rapidly going away from free economic enterprise where any person can start from the most humble home, and reach the very top pinnacle in business, profession or politics. If we have the ability and desire to reach those pinnacles.
Today we have instead of free enterprise for every one, a hodge-podge mixture of free enterprise, welfare state, socialism and in some cases bordering on communism.
The economist yells "WHAT CAN BE DONE", the banks, labor leaders and politicians seem to have reached a dead end. They all agree that the only thing we can do is more, and more inflation. The fact is absolutely untrue, because if the labor leaders, farmers, and the leaders of industry, the House of Representatives, the Senate, and the President would meet with a Christian approach to what is before all America, these problems could easily be solved. If any of these groups should take a selfish viewpoint, meaning to get all that they can regardless of their fellowmen, then nothing can be accomplished.
First, we must control inflation. If we don't the banks, and insurance dollars along with those in your pockets will buy less and less. Should labor and industry agree on some vital problems such as labor agreeing not to demand an increase in salaries, and no strikes, giving a full hour's work for an hour's pay, and industry agreeing to use their research departments and all methods at their disposal to cut the cost of production, and their items of production would become gradually cheaper. This would help the average working man, and those in the labor unions, because their dollars would gradually buy more and more. As it is at the present time labor union bosses have been trying to get more money for their union members than all of the other working people over our country, which has caused a spiral of increased wages, increased costs that has helped no one, but hurt every one.
Industrial workers in all large companies should be given the privilege to buy stock in their company at about two-thirds the rate of the price bid, because then they would feel that "this is my company". Industry and labor should work out a pension plan, sick benefit plan, and a plan for the workmen to get something less than regular pay during a depression or lay-off. The housing problem should be worked out between industry and labor, so that each man could have his own home. Also have insurance to pay off the rest of payments on the home if the head of the family should not live. These things that I suggest are preferable to the working man paying large sums in his local union, which have been found to be very tempting to some of the local union leaders. Some have been indicted and put in prison for absconding with the funds. The government should pay for neutral auditors to check all funds at least once each year.

This plan as suggested would solve most of our problems of subsidizing to business of all kinds, agricultural, and establish free enterprise so that these groups receiving subsidies would not have to depend on the government, because the products would cost much less, therefore would not be controlled by the government.
Research and the increase of the technical know how would enable the American people to buy a lot more with the same amount of money, because it is not the number of dollars you have in your pocket, but how much the dollars will purchase. The government also would save a lot of money, because of freedom from all subsidies and a decrease in all defense material that the government has to buy. The government, in my frank opinion, should stop collecting social security from all the groups working in all large and small industries, because it takes from 40% to 60% of the social security dollars, for the government to keep up this program, when it could be paid into a fund with pension plan and other funds set up by joint industry and labor. There would be no cost to the man or woman who paid his money if the plan were

ARE YOU A 'WACKY WALKER'?

THE SORT WHO CROSSES A BUSY STREET BETWEEN INTERSECTIONS ESPECIALLY WHEN YOUR ARMS ARE FULL OF BUNDLES, AND IT IS A RAINY, SLIPPERY DAY — ?

Hunting a new way to please the Man-of-the-House? Get into the habit of setting your table with new, gay paper tableware! We all know the way to a man's heart is through the menu! But has it occurred to you that how you serve that menu is just as important as what you serve?
On hot summer days when meals have to be really tempting, why not make lunch or dinner time as much fun, as beautiful to look at, and as little work as possible? Serve cool salads on bright-colored paper plates. Use matching paper cups to complete an attractive table-setting and, of course, banish dish washing chores.
The Hunt design, shown by the young sportswoman above, presents a colorful array of riders and horses chasing foxes around the cups and across the plates. The colors are sun-tones of blue, green or orange. This set would be appropriate for Sunday "brunch".
The Hunt cups have a practical appeal, too. They are "chilled" — an improved plastic lining that makes the cup "all-purpose" — for hot or cold coffee, tea or other refreshing drinks! These cups, created by Lily, have a rigid, china-like feel and preserve the true flavor of beverages.
There are many other attractive paperware designs to dress up your summer-living — white gulls flecked across vivid blue, red, green or yellow; individual waxed paper cups are perfect for fruit salads or desserts. "Jigger" cups match the gull pattern in red or blue.
If you add pint- and quart-sized paper buckets with lids to your cupboard you'll have a care-free summer.

Jointly set up by labor and industry.
Finally, the government should watch labor as well as industry to keep down monopolies. Industry with its monopoly could go ahead and increase the cost of the products, since they would not have any competition. Labor with its monopoly at the present time can completely paralyze industry, and make for us very serious conditions in the United States. A good example is to be found at the present time as longshoremen of the East Coast and Gulf Coast have completely stopped all imports and exports. No group of selfish men should be allowed to make all of the American people suffer when they could continue at work and still have collective bargaining between industry and labor.
Please, if you read this article, write your members of the House of Representatives, your Senators, your President, and all the labor leaders that you know. We must save America as a land of freedom, and a land of free enterprise, or sink into oblivion as all other countries have, that tried socialism in a welfare state. Let us all in America be thankful to correct the situation that now exists, and re-establish free enterprise so that our government can save billions of dollars which can be used to reduce the debt and cut taxes.

So this is HOMEMAKING

Managing a budget nowadays gets pretty rough at times and George blows up when I have to admit that I'm just a little short. You know how it is—extra seem to creep in before you know it. You can imagine, then, how pleased I was to discover how I could cut my soap and detergent bills and save up to 25% on the cost of heating my hot water. I read that Uncle Sam remarked that the effects of hard water cost a family of four up to $125 a year, so when I heard about the amazing Evis Water Conditioner I was plenty interested.

It all came about when I called in the Evis dealer for a demonstration. I'm not much for technical matters, but he said it works on an inductive principle that changes the behavior of most waters. He also said something about it recently having won a favorable decision by a government commission. But, what I'm really excited about is how my dishwasher and automatic washer save water and soap.

Now I get the whitest, brightest wash I've ever had. No more stubborn bathtub ring either and my dishes and glassware dry practically spotless. George had to agree, too, when he saw how his car sparkled after washing it.

We've had years and years of conditioned water with no attention or cost. It simply clings on the main water line, takes no floor space and works like a charm. Things are running smoother at our house these days. Easier living too!

In cities of 50,000 or more population, Washington, D. C., continues to hold top place in total telephone per 100 population (64.2), followed by Atlantic City, N. J. (63.8), Los Angeles, Cal. (60.3), and White Plains, N. Y.

MEARY FRENCH PERFUMES Fashion's Newest Flame

By Lisette
Is playing with fire one of your secret desires? You'll be doing just that—in the nearest possible way—when you wear Flambou, Faberge's incandescent new perfume from France!

Flambou means the "love light"—and it's a dazzling fragrance that sparkles and flashes and glows! If you're the volatile, volcanic type, then Flambou is you... or if you're a demure Fair Lady—just imagine the devastating combination of Flambou and you, all sweetness and light, luminous with fragrant Flambou means "fashion with a flare"! And the famous "I wear!" The Experts say red is smartest of all for fall: red, red, red for everything from your big, big hat to your elegant shoes. Neatest trick, they tell, is to wear the luxurious perfume, cologne, and bath powder, so beautifully gift-boxed in molten, brilliant red! Don't waste a minute; Faberge's new perfume creation has just come from France to your favorite store, in a wide range of prices to 110.00. You're in for a thrilling experience if you let Flambou be the light of your life!

ACCESSORIES FOR GRACIOUS LIVING

Long winter evenings and holiday parties invariably mean a deluge of guests and an increased entertainment schedule for many homemakers. This pleased young lady is well prepared for a successful party or a surprise visit from friends or relatives. She knows that her new porcelain enamel serving accessories are attractively designed for the most discriminating hostess, yet are durable and practical enough for everyday use. The glass hard finish of porcelain enamel can never be stained by foods or liquids and mere soap and water cleaning keeps its surface sparkling bright. Long thought of as strictly utilitarian kitchen items, "lifetime" porcelain enamel products now add color, simplicity and beauty to the most gracious living.

Rites Conducted For Miss M. L. Oliver

Miss Margaret Louise Oliver, 86, of 403 26th Street died at the home of her niece Mrs. Clarence E. Holbeck at 12:50 P.M. Monday. Miss Oliver was a native of Washington, N. C. She was the daughter of the late Thomas L. and Mrs. Mary Jane Hodgkins Oliver. She had lived at Virginia Beach for the past 10 years.

The body was removed to the Maestas Funeral Home. Funeral Services were conducted at the Grave in Rosemont Memorial Park at 3:00 P.M. Thursday by the Rev. G. E. Hughes, Pastor of the London Bridge Baptist Church.

As of June 30, 1956, 94.2 percent of the farmers and ranchers in the United States were served by electric power lines, according to the Rural Electrification Administration.

Home Decoration Award Winners

The home decorations of the various areas in Virginia Beach were judged on December 26th and 27th and the following awards were given.

The highest award for all the homes was given to Commander and Mrs. Fred Barham, for the decoration of their doorway.

First place awards were given to the following: Mr. and Mrs. Preston Hix, Mr. and Mrs. P. O. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Parsons, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Musick, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Zegan, Mr.

and Mrs. Charles M. Lovitt, Mr. and Mrs. Scott Sterling, Mr. and Mrs. G. Russell Hendrickson.

Second place awards were given to: Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sale, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Meredith, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Kellam, Miss Sarah Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. George Gilliam, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. May, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Haycox, Mr. and Mrs. S. Fiore.

Third place awards were given to: Mr. and Mrs. Albin Mailhes, Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Mundy, Mr. and Mrs. L. Clay Camp, Dr. and Mrs. John T. Goode, Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Rydell, Mr. and Mrs. James Lall, Mrs. B. K. Lindeman, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Hauser.

There were so many attractively decorated homes that the judges had difficulty in making their decisions, and were very pleased to find so much interest. The residents of the 400 block of 22nd Street are to be complimented on their wholehearted cooperation.

Every home on both sides of the street was decorated, several of them were quite original. Honorable mentions should certainly go to the following: Mrs. W. T. Browney, Mrs. L. A. Weary, Mrs. N. P. Kostopolas, Mrs. J. W. Batcheler, Mrs. C. G. Baughman, Mrs.

Girl Scouts...

Girl Scout Troop 201 which is sponsored by the Young Adult Class of Scott Memorial Methodist Church held its Christmas party in the church recreation hall on Wednesday night, December 19th.

Approximately 35 attended which included some of the parents of the scouts as guests.

Gifts were presented to each member of the troop and a wonderful time was had by all.

The theme of the program was "Christmas In Other Lands." Co-Leaders of Troop 201 are Mrs. A. Gene Nelson, Mrs. Mary Scilex, Mrs. R. B. Carthen.

Kemps Garden Club

The Kempville Garden Club held its annual Christmas party Dec. 28th in the Center. Thirty were present and enjoyed games and dancing. Mrs. Roy J. Allen and Mrs. R. R. Garriott were serving here and there seeing that everyone laughed and had plenty to eat. Mrs. Calvin Lihky and Mrs. Carl Oederman had the center looking lovely with Christmas greens. Door prize was won by Mrs. Fox. An extra bonus prize was won by Mr. Harold Pugh. One contest was for everyone to write a poem about the Kempville Garden Club. Here are some of them.

Roses are red, Violets are blue,
Kempville Garden Club is the Club for you.

Ferry Commission May Add 2 Vessels to Fleet

NORFOLK, Va. — Two vessels may be added to the fleet of the Chesapeake Bay Ferry Commission as a result of action taken by the Commission today.

The commission authorized the purchase and conversion of two existing vessels. Capacity of each ferry will be approximately 95 automobiles.

Before the commission can proceed with the plans for the additional two vessels, consent of the bond holders must be obtained. Attorneys for the commission are proceeding today to draw up proposed changes in the prospectus which will be presented to the bond holders for their approval.

Lucus J. Keilam, chairman of the commission, explained that the bond holders' approval of the proposal is necessary because the original prospectus authorized the commission to build a new ferry vessel out of the Commission's construction fund. The bids received for a new ferry were for approximately $5,200,000 while the architect's estimate for the vessel was approximately $3,600,000.

"A world-wide shortage of ships developed as a result of the Suez situation and after the estimates were prepared for the new vessel," Mr. Keilam stated. "This raised the prices of new ship construction everywhere. Since the cost of a new ferry has risen to an unexpectedly high figure, the commission came to the conclusion that it would be more economical and more expedient to purchase existing vessels and convert them to ferry use."

One of the ferries is scheduled to be ready for service within three months after work is started and the other a short time later.

By contrast Mr. Keilam pointed out the construction of the new vessel would require approximately 18 months or more. No decision has yet been reached, Mr. Keilam said, as to which shipyard will perform the conversion, but he said that negotiations are under way with construction officials so that the conversion jobs will be accomplished efficiently and at the lowest cost.

As soon as possible the commission plans to re-establish the east-west run between Hampton and Kiptopeke. Initially, one ferry will be used in that operation. This will be either the Pocahontas or one of the two newly-acquired vessels.

Steel industry planning for a 15 million ton expansion of capacity over the next three years envisions consumption of 12 million tons of coal to produce 9 million tons of needed coke.

Personal Mention

Mr. and Mrs. Walton G. Halland entertained last Friday evening at a neighborhood party in honor of Mrs. Holland's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George R. Poston, who have been their guests for the holidays. Mr. and Mrs. Poston were married in Greensboro on November 17th. She is the former Miss Edith Huffman of Hickory, N. C. and is presently associate Professor at Woman's College of the University of N. C. at Greensboro, N. C.

Rear Adm. Henry Crommelin and Mrs. Crommelin entertained last Sunday at a dinner party at 7:30 o'clock in honor of their debutante daughter, Miss Sally Huntress Crommelin. Answer to Puzzle No. 485

Joker In The Juke

Teen-agers and their elders who drop quarters and dimes—even nickels—in the festive juke box to hear Bing Crosby or Patience may be surprised to know they are contributing to the half-billion a year "take" of a big industry.
In 1957, the juke box impresario will place in grills, taverns, diners, drugstores, motels and highway amusement spots some 500,000 machines that will each swallow an average of at least $1,000 worth of coins during the year!

Yet an odd quirk in the copyright law—passed in 1909 before Congress had heard of juke boxes—exempts "coin-operated music machines" from the customary obligation of paying royalties to the creators of the popular songs they peddle to the public. This strange exemption dates from the "penny era" days, when grandpa could clap on earphones, put a penny in the slot and get a dose of "Swing On Harvest Moon." Song-writers then made their money from sheet music and regarded the penny arcade as a "plunger" for their creations. But when the upright piano all but vanished from the parlor, the composers looked hopefully to mechanized music for income. And, so far, they have asserted in vain their right to share in the quarters and dimes their music wows from juke box patrons.

A Senate report on the perennial haggle between the operators who wish to continue their legalized poaching, and the composers who would like to be paid for the use of their property, has recently been issued by Chairman Joseph C.
Mahoney of the Senate Judiciary
Copyright Subcommittee. He hopes, he said, in an accompanying statement, that this will provide the basis for a compromise between the composers and the juke box operators who have been considered when Congress goes back to work in January.

Immediately, President Paul
Cunningham of the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers declared that he would seek a meeting with the operators in an effort to carry out the Senator's suggestion.

fantastic production and inventive format to create one of the season's best comedy musicals. Smoothly directed at a crackling pace by Frank Tashlin and packed with lively songs, the Hal Wallis Production, opening soon at the Beach Theatre, has a freshness of approach that places it a notch above anything the team have done before. It is certain to add a host of new fans to Dean and Jerry's deservedly enormous following.

A top-flight cast, a hilarious screenplay and a beautifully photographed and ever-interesting background back the comes up in this Technicolor romp. Co-starring are refreshing and lovely Pat Crowley, who gives a fine first singing and dancing performance; the language - murdering Maxie Rosen-blum; and in a special guest star appearance, gorgeous Anita Ek-berg. You get to see quite a bit of Miss Ekberg in the film.

The Paramount picture's plot revolves around the cross-country trip of rabid movie fan Lewis to see his idol, Miss Ekberg, at first hand. Martin gets shanghaied on the trip by Jerry's monstrous Great Dane, who is quite a comedian himself, and Pat Crowley, to complicate romantic matters, is picked up en route. The scenic trip is punctuated by some of the team's cleverest routines and most sidesplitting adventures and set to five catchy tunes by the Oscar-winning composers of "Love Is A Many Splendored Thing."

Don't miss even the opening

Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis' newest, the Hal Wallis Production "Hollywood Or Bust," opens Wed. at the Beach Theatre.

moments of "Hollywood Or Bust." Against the credits and back-grounded by movietown's most famed landmarks, Miss Ekberg appears in a series of costumed poses that would draw oohs and ahs from a graybeard.

FEED CONCENTRATE SUPPLIES ALMOST EQUAL TO LAST YEAR'S RECORD

The total supply of all feed concentrates for 1956-57 is particularly equal to the record supply of last year, and 13 percent above the 1949-53 average, report agricultural economists at VPI.

They say, a small area expected to cut hog production about 7 or 8 percent from the high levels of 1955-56. If grain-consuming livestock numbers drop as expected, the prospective supply of feed per animal unit will be slightly larger than last year.

Feed - grain production this year is down 6,000,000 tons from 1955, but the carryover into 1956-57 is expected to total around 5,000,000 above the big stocks of last year. While the corn supply is estimated at 6 percent above last year, supplies of each of the other feed grains are moderately to substantially smaller.

All of the increase in feed grain stocks in recent years has been in the stocks held under government price-support programs. Privately held carryover is now estimated at about 10,000,000 tons, about the same as last year and a little below the 1949-53 average. The total supply of feed grains owned by the CCC on October 1 was 136,000,000 tons, about 5,000,000 tons less than last year, but a little above the 1949-53 average.

Higher prices of feed grains this past summer reflect smaller crops and higher price supports for oats, barley and sorghum grains, and small market receipts and declining stocks of "free" corn.

There are two factors that will influence grain later in 1957 - whether or not there is a continuing decline in grain-consuming livestock numbers, and the extent that the Soil Bank program affects the acreage of feed grains planted during 1957, the economists say.

AMOUNT OF SULFUR IN AIR MEASURED BY VPI SCIENTISTS

Use of sulfur - free fertilizers has led researchers at VPI Agricultural Experiment Station to measure the amount of sulfur in the air in Virginia.

Some wide variations have shown up from one location to another and from one season to another.

Most important though, Lutz says, is the fact that no sulfur deficiencies have been reported in Virginia up to the present time. Whether or not the symptoms (such as dwarfed plants) will show up in the future is anybody's guess.

66 CENTS A POUND... Jay Conover (right) of Hayward, Calif., sold his grand national champion Angus steer "Ink Spot" to Andrew Beyer, restaurateur.

Apparently so far there is enough atmospheric sulfur to meet the needs of plants in the state, Lutz says.

Since 1953, the amount of sulfur in the air has been measured by three - month periods at 16 widely scattered locations in Virginia. The locations were Ashland, Blacksburg, Buckingham, Chantilly, Chatham, Charlotte Courthouse, Fredericksburg, Halifax, Hillsville, Kenbridge, Middleburg, Norfolk, Orange, Salem, Staunton, and Warsaw.

During the three - year period, the amount of sulfur in the air at Norfolk was much higher than at any of the other locations. The smallest amount was found at Halifax, which had only 25 percent as much sulfur as Norfolk. The second highest amount was measured at Salem, which had 72 percent as much as Norfolk.

In each of three years, the greatest amounts of sulfur were measured during the months of December, January, and February; the next highest amounts during September, October, and November; the third highest amounts during March, April, and May; and the least for June, July, and August. This variation was caused by the fact that the main source of sulfur in the air is coal smoke, and more coal is used during cold weather.

Also, there is more sulfur in the air near industrial areas, where considerable amounts of coal are used, than in certain rural areas. Likewise, there will be more sulfur in the air on the east than on the west side of any industrial area in Virginia, since the prevailing winds in the state are from the west.

DWARF FRUIT TREES BOON TO HOME OWNER

The development and improvement of dwarf fruit trees has proved a boon to home owners with limited space for fruit production, say horticulturists at VPI.

Dwarf apple and pear trees are widely available. The selection of varieties is much greater in apples than in pears. Peach, plum, cherry, apricot, and nectarine trees have not been produced extensively as dwarfs. But the standard trees of the stone fruits (except sweet cherries) are small in comparison with standard apple trees and can be restricted in size by pruning.

Several advantages of dwarf trees for the small-scale home grower: They usually begin to bear one to two years earlier than standard trees. Several varieties of fruit which ripen at different times of the year can be planted in the space needed for a standard tree. All the work around dwarfs can be done without the need for orchard machinery. Dwarfs can be pruned and trained as ornamentals in landscaping - on wires or trellises, against walls, or along a walk or drive. Dwarfing does not affect the size or quality of fruit.

Directions for planting and caring for dwarf fruit trees are included in a new U. S. Department of Agriculture Bulletin, "Dwarf Fruit Trees: Selection and Care." It is available for 5c a copy from the Superintendent of Documents, U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington 25, D. C.

HIGHER SEED PRICES EXPECTED NEXT YEAR

County farmers can expect to pay higher prices for seed during the next year, according to County Agent E. R. Cockrell, Jr.

The Soil Bank program is expected to increase seed demands. Red clover seed was in short supply for the 1956 seeding year, and will continue short for the coming year. The supply of alfalfa, ladino clover, and orchard grass seed available for 1957 seedlings will average from 10 to 15 percent less than last year. This supply situation, in addition to the increased demand expected from the Soil Bank program, is likely to put upward pressure on prices. The supply of crimson clover seed is considerably above the supply of last year, and likely will cost somewhat less.

WIDE, WONDERFUL WORLD

BY FRANKLIN J. MEINE
Editor, The American Peoples Encyclopedia

DON'T take lightning lightly! That's a warning from The American Peoples Encyclopedia, based on U. S. census reports which show that about 400 deaths a year result from lightning, in addition to approximately 1,000 injuries. About nine-tenths of the casualties are in rural districts, and 8 out of 10 killed by lightning are men. Using the travel rates of light and sound an observer can, by counting the seconds between the lightning flash and the thunder, determine how far away the flash is. It takes a sound wave about 72 seconds to travel 15 miles. The time interval between flash and thunder seldom is more than 70 or 80 seconds.

Even though you may pride yourself on your vocabulary, don't be disturbed if you can't define some of the new words that found their way into our language last year. For instance, what are "bootlookers," "rurburbs," or the "exurb"? What is a "hooporama"? In order of their appearance: One who uses a device to enable him to watch toll television without paying for it; urban developments arising from former rural districts; swank suburbs within commuting distance; a basketball tournament. Whether any of them ever receive dictionary space depends largely upon good taste, time, suitability and their widespread, continuing use.

WHEN I GROW UP...

Magical words these, "when I grow up" - full of promise, replete with confidence. What youngster hasn't uttered them?

This lad is no different. He looks into the future that will be his when he grows up, and the world is his oyster, intact with pearls.

This month he wants to be a flier. Next month he'll want to be an engineer, spanning bridges across great rivers and wide chasms. The month after that he'll see himself as a surgeon, scalpel poised between skilled fingers. And the month after that - who knows?

For youth is ever changing, ever restless. That's why it is so important that youth's naturally impulsive nature be held fast by an anchor that is good, firm and permanent. They need a faith that will sustain them whether they become doctors, fliers, or engineers. The Church provides this faith, this anchor.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Now's The Time For Steak Quality And Supply Good

By Nancy Carter

Thick, juicy, sizzling broiled steak with onions is just about a favorite food with every American. Now's the time to enjoy them, too, for good quality mature beef is coming on the market in plentiful supply. There are six or more cuts of beef ideal for broiling. So choose the cut you like best. If you want to serve a steak for each person then choose beef tenderloin, club, boneless loin, or even small T-bone steaks. For family or for company choose a big sirloin steak weighing 1 1/2 to 2 pounds. The most important thing to remember when buying steaks for broiling is to buy top quality meat. In most supermarkets you'll find U.S. Choice beef also labeled with the store's brand and the money back guarantee for satisfaction. If you're in doubt about choosing a particular cut ask the meat man to point out each cut so you can judge which is best for your family. In self service markets the labels have the grade, brand, name of cut and cooking directions on them so read them carefully.

PERFECT BROILED STEAK

There's no trick to broiling a perfect steak. Slash the fat edges so the steak won't curl. Rub preheated broiler lightly with fat. Lay steaks on broiler and adjust rack so top of steak is 2 to 4 inches from heat source. Broil until one side is brown. Season. Turn steak with tongs. Broil other side. Season and serve at once. If you'd like a time table for broiling steaks write to me, Nancy Carter, P. O. Box 4358, Atlanta, Ga. and ask for "Free Meat Book."

Valuable Lessons From Children In "Optimism"

Our children can give us valuable lessons in optimism and a great many other things, writes Joseph Wechsberg in the January issue of Reader's Digest. In an article titled, "What We Can Learn From Children," he acknowledges his own debt to his little daughter, Poppy.

She has given him curiosity, imagination and indestructible logic. On a family journey in France, Poppy wanted to know, "Does the dog bark in French?" "I've been giving her question a lot of thought," writes Wechsberg. "I have come to the conclusion that dogs in France do indeed bark in French."

To the attentive adult, children contribute a lot in logic and lucidity of expression. Poppy has made the Wechsbergs wary of clichés. They no longer say that their old neighbor has a foot in the grave, because Poppy has just seen him with both feet in the garden. "Monsieur Duval didn't leave town under a cloud," she retorted, "he left in his car."

In the eyes of children everything is wondrous and Wechsberg reports he and his wife have learned a great many things from Poppy.

"She gives us valuable lessons," he writes, "in such things as, for example, optimism. No hotel room? Wonderful; let's camp under the trees and sleep in the drizzling rain. When a suitcase with my books and manuscripts was stolen from our car, Poppy consoled me: 'Be glad, Daddy, now you'll have to carry less.'"

New Tricks with Cereal

Pump creamy cheese balls... fried to a delicate golden brown in coats of crunchy toasty corn flakes... are bound to win you the reputation of "top refreshment entertainer". Easy to make—and inexpensive, too—they're ideal to serve family and friends on any occasion.

FRENCH FRIED CHEESE BALLS
1-1/2 cups (1/2 pound) grated Swiss cheese
1 tablespoon flour
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 teaspoon finely grated onion
1 egg whites
1/4 cup finely crushed corn flakes
Fat for deep frying.

Combine cheese, flour, and seasonings. Beat egg whites until stiff peaks will form. Fold into cheese mixture. (This mixture will be soft.) Shape into walnut-size balls, roll in crushed cereal, and fry in deep fat just until golden brown. Drain on paper.

Serve hot. Makes 18 to 20 cheese balls.

Verdict for Publisher in Libel Case

Defense Makes Motion To Set Verdict Aside

At a trial of the action brought by J. Willcox Dunn against Beach Publishing Corporation and its officers, which trial commenced on January 2nd, 1957, the jury, after hearing evidence for five days, the instructions of the Court and argument of counsel, returned into Court on Wednesday, January 9th, 1957, with a verdict for the plaintiff for $65,000.00. Immediately counsel for the defendants moved the Court to set aside the verdict as contrary to the law and the evidence. Argument on this motion has been continued by the Court until a later date.

Suit was instituted by J. Willcox Dunn in the aforesaid Court on January 4th, 1956, charging that he had been damaged as a result of a story published by the Sun-News in which it quoted statements made by City Sergeant H. E. Halstead and F. D. Spot Ferguson relating to a story previously published by the Free Press reporting on a hunting trip on November 7th and 8th, 1955, in which Halstead entertained General Hugh P. Harris, and to comments later made by the Sun-News.

The case was delivered to the jury at about three o'clock on Tuesday. They adjourned at five o'clock to return for further deliberation at ten on Wednesday, and reported into Court at about 11:30 on Wednesday morning with their verdict.

Trip Planned To Alaska

by Andy Hebeon

The newly organized Explorer Post 61, has planned an air trip to the United States Naval Academy, Annapolis. The trip will commence during the weekend of January 12 and 13th. Commander Bragg, a committeeman in the post, will fly them there in a R4D transport. After flying over the Naval Academy they will land at Friendship Airport near Baltimore, where they will board a bus and proceed to the Academy.

This trip will be one of the highlights of the next two month program, which is suggested and planned by the explorers. Other events planned are skin diving, ice skating, camping trip and a Vocational movie.

The post has only been in operation for six weeks and has 17 members on roll. Col. Sivertsen is the advisor, Bernard Hobson and Don Aurell are the assistant advisors. Gallies Episcopal Church is the sponsoring institution.

The newly elected officers of the post are: Andy Hebeon, Senior Crew Chief; Hunter Ware, Deputy Crew Chief; Tommy Woodhouse, Peter Trechler and Bobby Wainwright are Crew Leaders.

No New Clues In Safe Robbery

Police here are without new leads in Atlantic Cleaners safe robbery.

A safe in the office of the cleaning establishment, located in the 200 block of 21st St., was broken into late Friday night for cash Saturday. Police say approximately $1,000 in cash was taken.

The robbery was discovered, they say, by Oscar Mahone, plant superintendent, when he opened for business Saturday morning. Entry to the safe was gained by knocking off the dial and punching out the pin that controls the combination lock, the police said.

W. W. McClanahan Jr., a city councilman who owns the plant, said today that the thieves bothered nothing else in the office. Records in the safe were not molested, he said.

Cape Henry To Have New Look

An enlarged amphitheater, a network of concrete walks, and a parking area are in tentative plans to spruce up Cape Henry for a re-enactment of the historic 1607 landing there in April.

About $10,000 will be spent by the National Park Service of the Department of the Interior on the project, according to George F. Emery, assistant superintendent, Colonial National Historical Park, Yorktown.

Final permission for the park service to utilize a portion of the Fort Story property involved in the work is still pending, but indications are that the green light may be given soon.

Jameson Festival plans for this summer include a re-enactment of the April 26 landing of the first permanent English settlers on the soil of the Republic of the Chesapeake. Susan Constant and Discovery will sail to the Cape Henry landing; strip to discharge 104 men and boys who will represent the settlers.

"Because of the increased attention that will be focused on the area this year, we think a larger development that could be handled on small space is called for," said Emery.

The park service owns only a quarter of an acre around the memorial to the settlers at Cape Henry. Plans call for developments of a three to four acre site and it is the government and involved here which will require the permit.

"As far as this post is concerned, we're 100 per cent behind the plan," said Col. George E. Woods, Jr., commanding officer of Fort Story. "It is a question of getting formal permission."

Emery said the development should be completed in time for the April 26 ceremonies. Although the amphitheater will have a seating capacity of 1,000, the parking lot provides only space for about 25 cars. "There is hardly space for more in the planned area for a lot," Emery explained. "Cars will be parked in other positions for the April 26 re-enactment."

Alonso T. Dill, assistant administrative director of the Jamestown-Williamsburg-Yorktown Celebration Committee, said yesterday that the ships will put in somewhere in Hampton Roads harbor the night of April 25. "The direction in which they approach for the landing will be up to the wind," he said.

An extensive beautification program will be carried out in conjunction with the Cape Henry landing. Shrubbery will be planted over a large part of the area involved.

Classes are planned under direction of Mr. Blair Myers, Agriculture Teacher.

Peak Competition Predicted in '57 By A&P President

Competition in the food business will reach a new peak in 1957, Ralph W. Burger, president of the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company predicted today.

"Intense competition is nothing new in the food business," Mr. Burger said, "and it has helped make Americans the best fed people on earth. It has benefited consumers in the past by leading to better stores, better food offered in more convenient form, and better values. It has benefited efficient retailers by challenging them to do an even better job. Competition can continue to benefit both consumers and retailers in the future if it does not lead to inefficient and wasteful practices."

Pointing out that more stores mean greater competition, Mr. Burger reported that more than 1,500 new super markets were opened in 1956, with about the same number either under construction or planned for 1957. Much of this expansion, he said, was designed to meet the needs of our growing population, and to serve the large suburban communities developing throughout the country.

"From the viewpoint of the food industry, however," he said, "we must recognize the possibility that unrestrained or misdirected expansion can prove economically unsound. In the rush to open new outlets there is always the danger that many communities will become 'over-stored.'"

"Today more than 25,000 super markets and a host of smaller stores are aggressively competing for the consumer's patronage. Actually, the nation's food retailing machinery is expanding at a faster rate than the population it serves."

Mr. Burger said that not only are there more super markets, but they are larger, with the average super market now consisting of approximately 15,000 square feet of selling and storage space, and with many stores occupying as much as 25,000 square feet or more.

"These new large stores have a high break-even point," he said, "and to operate them profitably requires a large volume of business. This need for high volume is one of the basic reasons for many of the competitive practices that have sprung up in recent years."

"The danger in the drive for volume lies in the fact that if it gets out of hand it can increase the cost of doing business, and the price of food, or decrease the quality of food and service, or both."

"Selsmanism and showmanship have always had a place in food retailing, but they are only the tail to the dog; they become dangerous when the tail wags the dog."

Pointing out that food takes about 25 per cent of the average family's budget, Mr. Burger said that food retailers must remember that no matter what features they use to attract customers, they must not forget that their basic responsibility is to give their customers the most good food for their money.

Wallace Warner Walker Dies

Wallace Warner Walker, age 55, husband of Elizabeth Bowden Walker died yesterday, at 12:10 P.M. in a Norfolk Hospital after a months illness. He was the son of the late George S. and Mrs. Nina Warner Walker, and a native of Atlantic City, New Jersey, but had spent most of his life in this area. At the time of his death he was residing at 1017 77th St., Virginia Beach.

Mr. Walker was a civil service employee with the Naval Base, a veteran of World War I and a member of Old St. Paul's Church in Norfolk.

Besides his wife he is survived by three daughters: Mrs. Gordon Dage, of Plymouth Meeting, Pa.; Mrs. Corydon M. Baylor, Jr., of Virginia Beach, and Mrs. Spence A. Coleman, of Norfolk. One sister, Mrs. James W. Dodd, of Richmond and Three grandchildren.

The body was removed to the C.O. Funeral Home. Funeral services will be conducted Friday at 11:00 A.M. at Old St. Paul's Church by the Rev. Moutrie Curry, Rector. Burial will be in Forest Lawn Cemetery.

"While the pattern of food retailing may change," he said, "the basic economic remains the same, and adherence to quality, value and service, best serve the long-range interests of both consumers and retailers."

Mr. Burger said that great strides had been made in making shopping and meal preparation more convenient for the housewife. He cited the adjustment of store hours to fit new shopping habits; the rapid growth of pre-cooked and oven-ready foods to reduce kitchen work; and the addition of allied lines of housekeeping items to permit one-stop shopping.

"Evening shopping hours were extended because so many housewives are working and food shopping has become a family group activity," he said. "We must recognize, however, that too long hours can increase the cost of doing business and therefore the cost of food. Longer hours to give added service to customers are justified. Longer hours simply designed to gain a competitive advantage are not."

"Consumer buying habits have changed many times down through the years and will continue to change. There is no question that we must give customers what they want, but we should do so by finding methods that decrease, rather than increase, the cost of distribution."

Mr. Burger said that 1956 was a banner year from an agricultural production standpoint, despite extensive drought areas, threats of unusually heavy insect damage, reduced acreage and other handicaps.

"The year just closing offers a vivid example of farm progress," he said. "More milk, meat and eggs were produced than ever before. Department of Agriculture figures show the largest net gains in consumption of red meat by American consumers since records began in 1909. This amounted to 100.5 pounds per person, topping for the first time a previous high established way back in 1906. With just average growing weather prevailing we can expect the food abundance of which this is typical to continue in 1957."

Mr. Burger said that despite the increase in farm production efficiency, the spread between farm and retail prices has continued to widen. This spread is not due to increased profits by retailers, but is largely the result of rising fixed costs such as taxes, wages, rents and transportation over which the industry has no control.

"In the interest of consumers and distributors, as well as farmers, agriculture must be maintained on a sound basis," he said. "To do this markets must be found for surplus foods and distributors must continue to strive for every efficiency and economy that will narrow this spread."

"More good food is available in this country than was ever available to any other people in history. This era of food abundance is one that every segment of the industry should work hard to preserve and improve in 1957."

Virginia Heart Association

Robert F. Boyd, Norfolk attorney, has been appointed volunteer director of the Youth Program of the Virginia Heart Association.

This program is designed to promote heart education among the young people of the state so that they become aware of the heart diseases and also know something of the research activities and other heart Association programs that are being conducted in an effort to overcome the various heart diseases. It is the desire of the Heart Association and its chapters that the information the young people obtain will inspire them to participate in the activities of the Heart Associations and contribute their talents to the ongoing of the program to conquer the heart ailments.

Mr. Boyd brings to his endeavors a wealth of experience in working with young people. As a youth, he was state president of the High School YMCA and state president of the Methodist Youth Fellowship. At William and Mary, he was president of Kappa Sigma Fraternity, chancellor of the Wythe Law Club, and a member of Tau Kappa Alpha honorary forensic fraternity.

Mr. Boyd is a partner in the law firm of Davis and Boyd, a member of Kiwanis International and the Sons of the American Revolution, and is a Shriner. He is superintendent of the Church School of Park Place Methodist Church and a member of the official board of the church. He holds membership in the American Virginia and Norfolk and Portsmouth bar associations.

He served as Chief Trial Counsel, General Court Martial Board, United States Marine Corps at Camp Lejeune. He has the rank of captain in the Marines and is certified as a military lawyer by the Judge Advocate General of the Navy. He is a past member of the Junior Chamber of Commerce and the board of directors of the YMCA.

Careers For Your Child

There is no more rewarding occupation for a girl than that of a nurse. It is a career that puts her into the world of fascinating people, brings endless drama, perpetual financial security—and best of all—brings the reward of being useful to others.

Nurses can choose among absorbing specialties. They can concentrate on work with children in obstetrics or pediatrics, qualify as a surgical nurse, learn the interesting new techniques of orthopedics or the new field of psychiatry where the need for trained nurses is great.

Today we have 390,000 registered nurses. We need 50,000 more and the need grows every day. For additional information about a nursing career for your child write: New York Life Insurance Company, Dept. C-51, 120 Madison Avenue, New York City. Ask for booklet, "Do You Want To Be A Nurse?" by Ruth Sleeper of the National League for Nursing. It's full of information on careers in nursing.

RAYMOND PARTON, 608 Stockbridge Avenue Kalamazoo, Michigan, all his adult life had been a hard-working man. But that was all right, for he not only believed that work added to one's happiness in addition to being the means of a livelihood, but also, he liked the kind of work he was doing. "Specialized Printing Jobs for Particular People." So he took on more and more work. As time went on, he found himself virtually moved under by his work. He took on a helper from time to time, but this proved the most difficult part of his business, to get men who could do the job he had always promised his clients. So he began going back to the shop in the evenings for an hour or two.

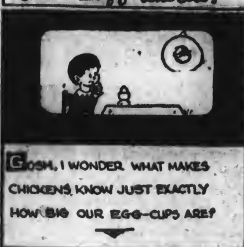

You can guess the result: Utters: Not had but definitely slower. He underwent treatment and shortly the difficulty was conquered, and he went at his work again with the old time vigor.

Milestones In Medicine

by Marguerite Clark

For centuries, many serious eye ailments went untreated because the doctors had no means of looking into the retina. In 1851, Hermann von Helmholtz, a German physiologist, conceived the idea of using a mirror with a hole in the center. Simple but it worked.

Without the microscope, modern physicians, surgeons and even biologists would be working in the dark. Anton van Leeuwenhoek of Delft, Holland, made a hobby of magnifying lenses, grinding and mounting them until people thought him crazy. One day in the 1670's, the Dutch burgher combined a group of lenses and found he could see tiny organisms in a drop of rain-water. It became the first microscope.

The X-ray's penetrating gleam into every area of the body is medicine's most powerful weapon for diagnosing and treating disease. Yet it is only 60 years since Wilhelm von Roentgen, the German, Nobel-Prize winning physicist, transformed diagnostic techniques by proving that the "Crookes Tube" could transmit a strange light through opaque objects, including the flesh of his hand. Science eagerly grasped this new method of examining the previously "invisible" organs of living patients.

THE MIGHTY CHRYSLER

Most glamorous car in a generation

It's triggered by a new TorqueFlite transmission

Want to pass a car or a truck on the highway? You don't have to kick the throttle to the floor. Just touch lightly... and ZOOM!

Want to get out in front when the light goes green? Relax! Count five, then toe the throttle. You'll still be out there alone.

Mighty in power... but mighty easy to control, too! That's the performance story of the new 1957 Chrysler. A superb new airplane-type V-8 engine that develops up to 325 horsepower teams with a new TorqueFlite transmission, pushbutton operated. This powerful combination gives you a magnificent new hi-velocity getaway from standing starts, great reserve power for passing when you need it and velvety smoothness. Yes, this 1957 Chrysler is every bit the streak of a car it looks to be. Come in and test it for yourself... compare it with any of the other new cars for power, performance, comfort and looks. More people than ever before are switching to Chrysler, and that puts us in excellent trading position to give you the best of deals on your old car.

Let's All "Back The Attack"

A new nation-wide campaign was launched last month. A lot of people will be too busy to give it much attention. Others will find it difficult to whip up much enthusiasm for it.

What's the campaign about? Well, the purpose is to urge citizens to "Back the Attack of Traffic Accidents."

What happens when a few purse-snatchings takes place in one part of the city within a short time? Citizens are up in arms demanding police action against this "crime wave!"

A bad fire where several people die arouses public indignation and a full-scale investigation is begun.

If a high school athlete dies of football injuries, parents storm the school demanding that authorities either provide their children with adequate protection, or ban the sport.

But every day, week in, week out, month after month, death and injuries mount on the streets and highways. And the most violent reaction by the citizenry is a loud yawn or a sympathetic "my, my," or "why doesn't somebody do something?"

When disaster of nature such as a storm or flood takes human lives, it is tragic enough. But when traffic kills and maims thousands because of the drivers involved, it is infinitely more tragic. The National Safety Council has launched the "Back the Attack on Traffic Accidents" campaign in an all-out effort to halt the rising accident toll.

The tragic part of it all is that we DO know how to prevent traffic crashes!

The methods used in cutting down accidents have been used in a number of communities. The results are amazing. The Council feels that if these methods worked in a few localities, they can work in many more.

Who or what does it take to cut down traffic crashes? It takes you and me—the average driver and pedestrian. When you and I start driving and walking as if we really wanted to prevent crashes, the toll will go down. If we show our public officials that we are as mad at the reckless driver as we are at the purse-snatcher, we will get better traffic enforcement. If we offer our services and talents to a safety organization to help convince the general public of these truths about traffic crashes, we will be doing our part in fighting this menace.

But if we still find it impossible to get aroused over the dismal traffic crash picture, we will see the death and injury lists rise each year until we, ourselves, may become statistics on the traffic books.

Let's all "Back the Attack" on Traffic Crashes!

Democrats of PA and Va. Beach To Hold Jefferson-Jackson Day Dinner Wed., January 30th

Under the co-sponsorship of the Democratic Committees of Princess Anne County—Virginia Beach and the Woman's Democratic Club of Princess Anne—Virginia Beach, and the Young Democratic Club of Princess Anne—Virginia Beach, the Jefferson-Jackson Day Dinner will take place at the Cavalier Hotel on Wednesday, January 30, at 8:30 P.M.

Preparation for this dinner are nearing completion and a most impressive program is to be offered to the local democrats. The program will be highlighted by addresses by the Honorable J. Lindsay Almond and Howard Gilmer who shall speak on the principles and ideologies of the Democratic Party.

Various committees, under the General Chairmanship of Sidney S. Kellam have been much progress in the formation of plans for this event.

Tickets may be obtained from the Ticket Chairman: Mr. James Darden, London Bridge or from the Chairman of the sponsoring democratic organizations.

March of Dimes

A great blast of sirens will alarm this city at 9:10 A.M. on Saturday, January 12th. It has been announced by Mr. William P. Kellam, President of the Kiwanis Club, and shortly after that the merchants of Virginia Beach will be confronted by young men in realistic Bilts-Kries uniforms giving all business establishments the opportunity to contribute to the March of Dimes.

This campaign, carried out by the Virginia Beach Kiwanis Club members assisted by the members of the Virginia Beach High School football team is an integral part of the local program supporting the National Polio Foundation, and all contributions will be most gratefully received.

Mr. Kellam stated that all Business Bilts participants will meet for breakfast at the Normandie Restaurant at 8:00 Saturday morning and will receive their assignments at that time.

Until 1847, the person receiving letters paid the postage—not the sender and the rate up to 150 miles was 21c per sheet.

The Amazon Valley has been called a "Naturalist's Paradise" with three definite layers of vegetation, 1800 kinds of fish, 700 kinds of butterflies, 8000 varieties of trees. Of 22769 known and classified species of plant life, 19,619 are found in this region.

WORDS and THOUGHTS

Royalty, American Style

Charles F. Bruder, Vice-President of the Singer Sewing Machine Company, crowns the Queen and the Princess of the company's annual Junior Dressmaking Contest. Carol Sue McGinnis, left, receives the Queen's share, a check for $1,000. Faith Ascher, the Princess, receives a check for $500.

Now-reigning as Queen and Princess of the nation's teen-age home dressmakers are two talented young ladies, who spent their way to fame and fortune and outdistanced some 60,000 contestants to claim their titles.

Carol Sue McGinnis, 14, of University City, Missouri, is the youngest Queen ever crowned in the annual Junior Dressmaking Contest sponsored by the Singer Sewing Machine Company. She took top honors in the senior division of the contest, with her casual outfit of coordinated plaid and plain fabric. Faith Ascher, 13, of Brooklyn, New York, was crowned Princess, as the top winner in the junior division of the contest. Her winning dress is a bolero outfit of turquoise wool, accented with striped tulle, cummerbund and petticoat.

MORTAL STORM

The Editor's Mail Box

Dear Sir,

Recently Post 113, of the American Legion conducted its third campaign for the solicitation and distribution of Christmas food baskets for needy families of Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County. The program undertaken this year proved the most successful yet undertaken; and this could not have been so, without the aid of the citizens of Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County. Since a large majority of the food collected was solicited and obtained from Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County citizens, we feel that they would be interested in the amount collected, and in the disposition made thereof.

Solicitation of food parcels was undertaken Thursday, December 20, by members of the Legion Post. Collections were made from 5th Street through 8th Street in a house to house campaign beginning at 7:30 p.m. and ending at approximately 10:30 p.m. Although food parcels were sought only in some instances, the total received amounting to $51.00. The money so received was spent in purchasing additional supplies of food. When made up into baskets for delivery, a total of 93 baskets were obtained. The baskets so obtained were delivered by members of the Legion Post on Saturday, December 22nd.

Delivery of the food baskets were made to 69 families located in Princess Anne County and Virginia Beach. Of these families 51 of the names of those receiving baskets were obtained from the Princess Anne County Welfare Board. The names of the additional families were received by members through churches and other sources. In distributing the baskets and attempt was made to present 2 baskets to all families having 6 or more in the family.

In addition to expressing our appreciation to the citizens of our community contributing to this food basket campaign, we wish to record the contribution of the basket baskets by Frank P. Whitehurst, Jr., and the leaves of bread contributed by Mary Jane Bakers. In addition thereto, we wish to thank radio station WBOP, and you, our local newspaper, for the advertisement granted, so absolutely necessary for the success of our campaign.

Yours very truly,
WILLIAM T. McFARLAND
Chairman, Christmas Program
Post 113, American Legion

JC's of Va. Beach Plan First Citizen's Award

The Virginia Beach Junior Chamber of Commerce is planning their award to the "First Citizen" of Virginia Beach for 1956. The recipient of this award will be chosen on the Merit of Community Service above and beyond normal duties. It is not necessary to restrict the individual's Community Service to the year 1956 only. Services rendered over a life time are also given consideration.

Below is a list of 4 rules to be followed in making a recommendation. All recommendations will be judged in an unbiased manner by the First Citizen Committee.

1. Any male of female living or working in Virginia Beach is eligible.

2. All recommendations must be accompanied by Factual Information and Clippings.

3. All recommendations must be postmarked no later than midnight Wednesday, Feb. 13th, 1957.

4. All services must be voluntary on the part of the Recommended individual, with no financial consideration.

The Jaycees urge both individuals and organizations to support this yearly award by sending their recommendations to the First Citizen Committee, P. O. Box 274, Virginia Beach, Va.

Purchasing Contracts Awarded

Navy purchasing contracts totaling more than $162,000 were recently awarded to two local firms for food products to be distributed to Navy ship and shore activities. The largest of the contracts, $127,864.20 went to Southern Dairies Inc. of Norfolk for 369,750 miscellaneous units of dairy products.

The other contract for $34,788.70 went to the Continental Baking Co. of South Norfolk for 183,200 loaves of bread.

The contracts were awarded by the Navy Purchasing Office, Naval Supply Center, Norfolk, Va.

Cancer Society Needs Sheets

The Princess Anne Unit of the American Cancer Society needs old sheets to use in the making of cancer dressings. If you have some sheets which you would care to give, please take them to the Cancer Society office in the Community House, 18th and Arctic, Virginia Beach; or, if you cannot deliver them, call Virginia Beach 4375 and the Unit will arrange to have the sheets picked up.

Mrs. Margaret P. Tompkins, President of the Princess Anne Unit, thanks the many ladies who turned-out to work on the cancer dressings during the busy holiday season. If you are interested in assisting in the making of cancer dressings, please come to the Community House on Thursday mornings from 10:00 until 12:00.

Try Outs for Little Theatre to Be Held

Try-outs for the Virginia Beach Little Theatre's second play of the 1956-57 series will be held on Monday night, January 14 at the Theatre Workshop located back of the Community House, and on Tuesday night, January 15 at the Virginia Beach High School, both nights starting time will be 8 o'clock.

The play, "The Night of January 16th", will depict a courtroom scene, needing about 24 characters who range in age from 20 to 60, and who range in morals from a Supreme Court Justice to "slightly off-moral."

The Little Theatre committee urges that everyone who possibly can do so attend these try-outs. There is much work to be done other than actual acting, previous experience is not necessary, and the committee would like for the citizens of the community to become better acquainted with all phases of theatre work.

Rising demand for coal is expected by experts to require development of at least 600 million tons of new capacity by 1970, at an investment of around $6 billion. It is estimated that new mining development now costs about $10 per ton of annual capacity.

E. R. Combs Dies Clerk of State Senate

E. R. Combs, clerk of the Virginia State Senate since 1940 and the Commonwealth's first comptroller, died in a Richmond hospital today, several hours after suffering a heart attack. Combs, who would have observed his 81st birthday on Jan. 10, was stricken at his hotel apartment near the Capitol this morning as he prepared to go to breakfast.

He called the hotel desk, which sent up the house doctor. The house physician then called Combs' personal physician, Dr. Paul D. Camp.

Combs was taken to Johnston-Willis Hospital and placed in an oxygen tent. He remained unconscious, his pain eased by drugs until he died peacefully at 2:50 p.m. His doctor said death was caused by a coronary thrombosis.

A highly influential advisor and coordinator among members of the dominant Democratic organization headed by Sen. Byrd (D-Va.), Combs long had been a prominent figure in the party's affairs. He formerly was a national committeeman.

He first came into public service as clerk of the Russell County Circuit Court, a post he held from 1912 to 1927. He left the clerkship at the request of Byrd, then Governor of Virginia, to become the first state comptroller. After organizing the comptroller's office, Combs remained in this capacity through the administrations of Gov. Pollard and a part of the term of Gov. Peery.

When the State Compensation Board was created in 1932, Combs was named chairman.

In 1940, he was elected clerk of the Senate for a four-year term, and has been re-elected for successive terms since then, most recently last January.

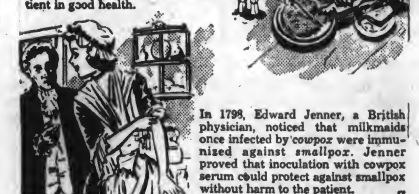

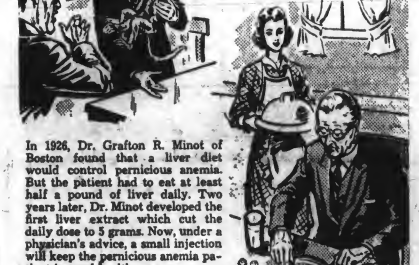

The white-haired Senate clerk was at his office in the State Capitol as usual. Aides said he apparently then was in good health. But he complained of severe chest pain when Dr. Paul D. Camp attended him at his hotel apartment.

Combs was a member of the Virginia party which visited England, France and The Netherlands the past fall in the interest of the Virginia's 150th anniversary of Jamestown's founding.

Combs left state service for several months in 1934 to manage the Richmond loan agency of the Reconstruction Finance Corp. However, he returned to his old jobs of comptroller and Compensation Board chairman in June of that year.

Combs, familiarly known as "The Chief," left the state service again in 1938 when James H. Price became governor. Two years later he became clerk of the Assembly's upper house. Born in Russell County, Jan. 18, 1876, Combs was the son of John Williams and Jane Kiser Combs. He attended Tidewater College in 1896-97 and in the latter year married Russa Candler.

ON TWO WHEELS

Last year, in Virginia, seven children and two adults were killed by automobiles while they were riding bicycles. Thirty-two adults and 466 children were injured to varying degrees. Parents should make certain the Christmas bikes they buy are equipped with the required lights and that the young riders realize traffic rules apply to cyclists also. As is the case with the pedestrian, the cyclist, right or wrong, is usually killed or seriously injured when he collides with an automobile.

Eleanor Parker and Clark Gable have the top roles in the spicy western, "The King and Four Queens," which will open Wednesday at the Beach Theatre through United Artists release. Film is in CinemaScope and color.

Gable Stars in "King and Four Queens"

The lusty and provocative yarn of a gay scoundrel's adventures in a western ghost town inhabited by four trigger-happy, man-hungry women, "The King and Four Queens" filmed in CinemaScope and De Luxe color opens Wednesday at the Beach Theatre.

Clark Gable is co-starred as the King of the title, and his co-stars consist of a beautiful foursome of Queens including Eleanor Parker, Jean Willes, Barbara Nichols and Sara Shane. The strong supporting cast is headed by Roy Roberts, Arthur Shields and Jay C. Flippen. Jo Van Fleet is also starred.

David Hempstead produced "The King and Four Queens" from a screenplay by Margaret Flett and Richard Alan Simmons and Raoul Walsh directed. Lucien Ballard was chief photographer, and the musical score was composed by Alex North. It was filmed on location in the rugged mountain country near St. George, Utah.

Number One Queen of Gable's harem in "The King and Four Queens" is Eleanor Parker, one of Hollywood's best and most versatile actresses, and two-time Academy Award nominee.

Lovely Sara Shane is, another of the Queens and a dainty soft-spoken vixen she is. Her most recent films were "The Magnificent Obsession" and "Three Bad Sisters."

Two of Hollywood's fastest-rising young actresses, Jean Willes and Barbara Nichols, are seen in "The King and Four Queens" as the remaining two-fourths of Gable's female retinue. Jo Van Fleet plays an angry mother-in-law.

Clark Gable's career before the cameras has been a kaleidoscope of color, personality, and a fabulous array of costumes. In over two decades of acting, Clark has donned everything from cowhide to dinner jackets, pin-stripes to prison shirts. In his current offering a lusty western drama titled "The King and Four Queens," for United Artists release, Gable is decked out in a leather jacket, string tie and striped pants as a suave, sweet-talking, western con man.

Kiwanis Club Installs President

F. Reid Ervin was installed as president of the Kiwanis Club of Virginia Beach at the club's annual Ladies Night Installation meeting on Wednesday, January 9, at the Virginia Beach American Legion Home.

Ervin, who succeeded William P. Kellam as president of the service organization, was installed by Eugene W. Zabawa, of Alexandria, Virginia, Lieutenant Governor of the 13th Division of Kiwanis. Also installed were Thomas E. Turner, Vice-President, and Alfred W. Craft, Jr., Secretary - Treasurer. Zabawa made the principal address and additional entertainment was provided by the Virginia Beach High School all-girl choral group, the "Ten Tones", under the direction of Kiwanian William Miller.

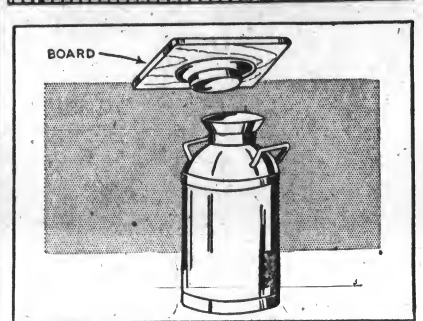

In accepting his new office, Ervin pledged his administration to a continuing program of community service.

FIVE NEW FORD glamour wagons long, low and loaded with Go!

Leave it to the station wagon leader to make the big station wagon news for '57! And what news! Wagons so big, so full of fine-car prestige that you'll wonder how it can be done at low Ford prices.

Under the front-hinged hood you'll find new power—Six power—V-8 power—proved-in-action power.

Inside you'll find more usable loadspace. And the wrap-around liftgate gives you greater loading ease.

If your choice is the 9-passenger Country Squire, you'll be proud to pull up at the finest places in this new glamour wagon with its smartly distinctive wood-like trim.

If your needs call for a 6-passenger station wagon with four doors, you'll love the new Country Sedan. When you fold the rear seat into the floor, you'll find there's almost nine feet of loadspace—nearly a foot more than ever before.

There's still another 4-door Country Sedan. It has the extra third seat for 9-passenger room. And, as in all Ford wagons for '57, you have the new single-control handle which opens both the wrap-around liftgate and tailgate with one motion. And they can't be opened from inside!

There's good news, too, for fans of Ford's celebrated Ranch Wagon.

This 6-passenger, 2-door model features Ford's new subdued tones, the last word in modern decor. And when it comes to quiet, there's no wagon like Ford wagons!

In the wonderful way that Ford can take a fine thing and make it even finer, the Del Rio Ranch Wagon goes a step beyond the Ranch Wagon in style, fabrics and trim. It brings you 2-door, 6-passenger wagon life at its best.

Better see for yourself—and soon. Take a Ford wagon for a spin. You'll agree that for styling it's a sweetheart... for work and power, it's a nimble, obedient slave!

New '57 Fords have toughest shakedown cruise in history!

The '57 Ford broke 458 national and international records from 1 kilometer to 50,000 miles at Bonneville, Utah, in the most average test in automotive history. For 50,000 miles, two '57 Fords averaged over 107 and 108 mph respectively. This time included all pit stops... the greatest endurance test of all time!

LEGAL NOTICES

VIRGINIA:
IN THE CLERK'S OFFICE OF THE CIRCUIT COURT OF PRINCESS ANNE COUNTY ON THE 21ST DAY OF DECEMBER, 1956.

R. E. TOWNSEND, Complainant
vs.
IN CHANCERY
A. S. NELSON, et al, Defendants

Order of Publication
The object of the above styled suit is that a partition of the real property, which is the subject matter of this suit, be made by the Court in one of the modes prescribed by law and if such be impracticable, that the property be sold by the Court in this cause and the proceeds divided amongst those entitled thereto.

All those certain lots of land in the County of Prince Anne, Virginia, designated as Lot Numbers twenty-eight (28) and twenty-nine (29), Block Number twenty-six (26) according to the map of Euclid Place, of record in the Clerk's Office of the Circuit Court of Prince Anne County, Virginia; being the same property conveyed to Cleland K. Nelson, Sr. by Home Realty Company by deed dated March 4, 1912, of record in the Clerk's Office in Deed Book 88, page 276.

It appearing from the averments of the Bill of Complaint filed herein and by Affidavit duly filed:

FIRST: That the last known address of A. S. Nelson and Ellen Douglas Nelson is Lynchburg, Virginia.

SECOND: That the City Sergeant of the City of Lynchburg has made a return that he has had the subpoenas in chancery in this cause in his hands for twenty-one days and has been unable to locate the said A. S. Nelson or Ellen Douglas Nelson or make service thereon.

THIRD: That Sallie Carter and J. Frank Nelson are not residents of the State of Virginia; that their last known addresses are: Sallie Carter, Lion County, Florida and J. Frank Nelson, sometimes known as Frank Nelson, Canawha County, West Virginia.

FOURTH: That the defendants in this suit may have been married and if so the names of their respective consorts are unknown and their last known post office addresses are unknown. That some of them may have died leaving heirs, devisees or personal representatives. If so, the names of said heirs, devisees or personal representatives are unknown and their last known post office addresses are unknown. That there are or may be persons other than those named in the bill of complaint interested in the real estate to be disposed of in this suit whose names and last known post office addresses are unknown.

It is therefore Ordered that the above named persons, if living, and if dead, their heirs, devisees and personal representatives, and if married, their respective consorts, and all persons other than those herein named, who are or might be interested in the real estate to be disposed of in this suit, whose names are unknown, do appear within ten days after due publication of this notice and do what is necessary to protect their interests. It is further Ordered that the foregoing portion of this order be published once a week for four (4) successive weeks in the Virginia Beach Sun-News, a newspaper published in the City of Virginia Beach, Virginia.

EVERY MONTH

make one payment to yourself with U. S. Savings Bonds

Today Americans earn more, spend more and live better than ever before in our history. And, to keep that prosperity healthy, I think each one of us should have a sound and balanced savings program.

I recommend that part of that program be regular investment in U. S. Series E Savings Bonds. And here are three good reasons why.

- You're sure of your principal in Savings Bonds. Your investment is not subject to fluctuation.
- You're sure of your returns. Your Government guarantees both principal and interest to holders of U. S. Savings Bonds. And even after your Bonds mature, they go on earning for 10 additional years.
- You're sure of the future when you invest regularly in U. S. Savings Bonds. There's nothing like the feeling of security—that comes from a backlog of savings—including safe, sure U. S. Savings Bonds.

As a patriotic service, banks everywhere in our country sell U. S. Savings Bonds. Stop in regularly where you bank and make a payment on your own future security by buying a U. S. Savings Bond.

Notes From Your County Agent

QUESTIONS OF THE WEEK

Here are the questions asked most frequently by Virginia farmers during the past week, as reported by county agents. Staff members of the VPI Agricultural Extension Service and/or Experiment Station supply the answers.

Q - What can be done to offset the 20 percent reduction in 1957 flue-cured tobacco allotments?

A - The opportunities are indeed limited in agriculture. If you try to put a small fragment of land into the production of some other crop, you may find yourself even worse off. If the cut in the allotment leaves you with less than a profitable one-man enterprise, you might do well to look for off-farm employment.

Q - How can I control chickweed in alfalfa and small grains?

A - In established stands of alfalfa (even during the first winter after seeding) use three pounds of CIPC in 30 to 40 gallons of water per acre. Spray after the legume has been killed back by frost and before new growth starts in the spring.

There is no recommendation for control of chickweed in small grains in Virginia, as no enough work has yet been done on it. However, dinifro has been used successfully in other areas.

Use of chemicals for weed control should be considered a supplement to, not a replacement for, good cultural practices.

Q - What is the best chemical to use to spray small grains for wild onion control, and when should I apply it?

A - Use 2.4-D at the rate of 1/2 to 3/4 pound in 20 to 30 gallons of water per acre. Apply after the small grain plants have tilled, but before they begin to joint.

Q - How can I render lard without its becoming rancid?

A - To each 50 pounds of hot lard, add a three-pound can of homogenized vegetable fat — the vegetable shortening found in grocery stores. Stir thoroughly and store in light containers, as usual. Lard keeps much longer if stored in small air-tight containers, such as 1/2-gallon jars or three-pound tin cans.

Q - What are some of the jobs I can do now in my farm woods, and what returns can I expect?

A - (1) Thin dense young stands for pulpwood. A standard cord of wood will bring around $18.35. (2) Plant forest seedlings. An open field planting should grow in value up to $10 per acre per year. Spot-plant openings in wooded areas. (3) Release good young trees now growing in inferior trees. They will grow more rapidly. (4) Clear and plant where low-grade hardwoods now cover an area. This will convert a stand of little value to one of potentially valuable trees. (5) Prepare a desirable seed bed before making a harvest cutting where natural seeding is expected. This will help young seedlings become established quickly.

Q - How much damage is the spotted alfalfa aphid expected to do in 1957?

A - We will have to wait and see. Other states report that heavy damage can be inflicted by the aphid in spring and summer. It first appeared in Virginia in August, 1956, and since then it has been reported in alfalfa and clover down to a minimum.

NEW NAIL ANCHORS FOUNDATION TO BUILDING

A newly developed nail will cut the cost of anchoring farm buildings to their foundations.

It is a fluted, hardened high-carbon steel nail which can be used to fasten framing to the masonry foundation. The nail is designed to replace the conventional one-half inch steel bolt which has been used for this purpose. The new masonry nails can be hand- or machine-hammered into concrete without pre-drilling.

HARSHBARGER NAMED PRESIDENT OF BIOMETRIC SOCIETY REGION

Dr. Boyd Harshbarger, head of the department of statistics at VPI, is the new president of the Eastern North American region of the Biometric Society.

The region covers all of the United States and Canada from east of the Rocky Mountains and Mexico and Central America, and has over 4,000 members.

The Biometric Society sponsors the journal "Biometrics," and is an international organization with members in every country in the world. The region of which Dr. Harshbarger is president is the largest in membership. Meetings of the society are held throughout the world. There are usually about four meetings annually sponsored in the United States.

Dr. Harshbarger also has recently authored an article on "The Role of Statistics in Land Grant Colleges," which appears in the latest Bulletin of the American Institute of Biological Sciences. Reprints of the article are available from the department of statistics at VPI, Blacksburg.

Fertilizer Prices May Drop

On the brighter side, a slight drop in fertilizer prices during the 1956-57 crop year will likely continue in 1957. The price drop was the result mainly of increased nitrogen supplies. Nitrogen prices are likely to drop during the next crop year to the point that farmers should take a second look at nitrogen on their farms. With the cost of other items used in production going up, many farmers will be able to use more fertilizer profitably, since fertilizer use may improve the efficiency in the use of other items.

Manufactured items, such as machinery and equipment, building supplies, fencing, etc., will generally carry higher price tags next year, Cockrell says. With high wages in steel, coal manufacturing, and transportation, it is likely the cost of manufactured items will continue up. With price increases on new machinery, many farmers may profitably supply their needs by timely purchase of used equipment.

ROCK PHOSPHATE TESTS CONDUCTED IN VIRGINIA

Superphosphate should be the main phosphorus fertilizer used by Virginia farmers, but rock phosphate can be used as a supplement to good advantage in some cases.

That's the belief of researchers at VPI Agricultural Experiment Station, where tests on rock phosphate have been underway for six years. The rock phosphate has been tried at several places in Virginia on such crops as corn, wheat, red clover, and alfalfa. And W.W. Moschler, of the VPI agronomy staff, says the combination of rock phosphate and superphosphate is proving helpful on soils that are low in fertility, run-down soils, and those that have been only lightly fertilized or limed and have to be built up to the point where they will produce good crops.

The scientists have applied rock phosphate to supply a reserve of slowly available phosphorus, and added annual applications of superphosphate to give the crop the quickly available phosphorus necessary for a thrifty, vigorous start.

Rock phosphate is generally applied at rates of 1,000 to 2,000 pounds per acre, and the application is repeated each six to eight years. Superphosphate is usually applied each year (or to each

The phosphorus that is available to plants from rock phosphate, Moschler explains, is generally between 3 and 5 pounds of available phosphorus. The phosphorus, but in smaller amounts.

All superphosphates are much poorer than is not available the able over a period of years after the soil.

First year gradually becomes available acted upon by the acids in higher in available phosphorus. For example, an 18 percent superphosphate contains 18 percent phosphorus, all of which is available.

Further tests are planned on rock phosphate. Meanwhile county agents have copies of a circular which gives further details.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

BPW Club
Sponsors High School Group

In keeping with club objectives, the Business and Professional Women's Club of Princess Anne County is sponsoring The Future Business Leaders of America Club at Princess Anne High School. A tentative set up by the high school club includes talks by BPW Club members, field trips to places of business, and some form of entertainment during the club year.

On Wednesday, January 2, club president, Miss Ruth Newell, spoke to the group on "Opportunities in Secretarial Work." Miss Newell encouraged the girls to further their education along the lines of business, and elaborated on the many fields of work open to women in the business world.

Miss Rebecca Bohannon is faculty sponsor of the high school club, and has cordially invited members of the Business and Professional Women's Club to attend club meetings held the first Wednesday of each month at 9:10 A. M. in the Business Department. The Business and Professional Women's Club begins its 1957 Club Program with an Interna-

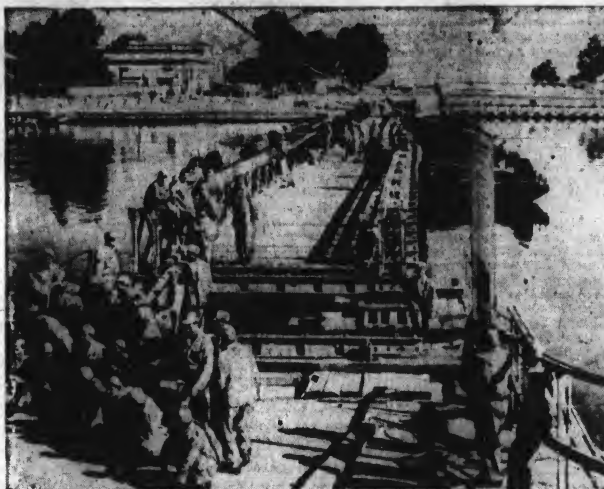

Dog Owners Warned
Of Dead Line

Webb Midyette, Chief of the Law Enforcement Division of the Commission of Game and Inland Fisheries, calls attention to dog owners of Virginia that the dead line for procuring dog licenses ends January 31, 1957. All persons, Midyette said, who have not procured appropriate dog licenses by that time will receive a summons to court for failure to do so.

International Relations Meeting to be held at the Pine Tree Inn on Monday, January 14, at 7 p. m. Mrs. Emily Bamman, International Relations Chairman, is in charge of the program.

Bay Colony Garden Club

Mrs. Otis Shumate, a member of the Riverpoint Garden Club of Norfolk and Third Vice-President of the Federation of Garden Clubs, gave a demonstration and lecture on Japanese Flower Arrangements to the Bay Colony Garden Club on Wednesday, January 2, at the Princess Anne Country Club. Mrs. Shumate studied at Marshall Field's School of Design, is a member of Tidewater Artists, and has made an independent study of the Shu Fu Ryan school of flower arranging. The history of the transition of flower arranging from the original religious ceremonial forms developed by Buddhist priests in China with their use of flower petals, through the first use of flowering branches by the Japanese to indicate various spiritual meanings, to modern adaptations was most interesting.

Mrs. Fred A. Haycox, Jr., Horticultural Chairman, gave timely advice on pruning and spraying ornamental plants.

"Dragon Wagons"
In Inaugural Parade

PORT EUSTIS, Va. — The problem of transporting the largest parade float ever assembled has been solved by experts of the Transportation Research and Engineering Command here.

For the presidential inauguration parade on January 21 in Washington, two huge tractors or "Dragon Wagons" of the 557th Transportation Heavy Lift Truck Company will tow 12 platform trailers along the parade route. TRECOC welded pinite hooks to the rear of the trailers to create a moving platform 408 feet long. Edward R. Carr, who heads the inaugural committee, calls it the world's largest and longest float. Men stationed on the rear of the trailer train will use walkie-talkie radios to contact workers at the front. A test in cooperation with the 48th Truck Group shows that it will negotiate the turns of the Washington streets without difficulty.

Portraying the inaugural theme, "Consent of the Governed", the display will be divided into six sections illustrating the accomplishments under the freedoms

WHEN PUPPIES ARE EXPECTED

by Bob Bartos
Manager, Friskies Research Kennels

There's nothing more appealing than a "family" of new-born puppies, but too few dog owners have ever learned how to care for the expectant "matron."

Unless complications develop, it is quite common for the family pet to have her litter at home. Puppies can be expected about 63 days after your pet has been mated. If she has not been wormed prior to mating,

Dog of the Week: COLLIE

Height: 22 to 24 inches. Rough collie: Outer coat abundant, harsh; inner coat soft, lustrous. Smooth collie: Short, dense, flat coat; abundant undercoat. Colors: Sable and white, black and tan with white markings, blue merle, varied. Several in popularity.

she should be wormed within two to six weeks to help insure that her litter is free from this problem.

As pregnancy advances, her appetite will increase until she is eating about twice her normal amount. Feed her a well-balanced diet such as a good commercial dog food. The amount should be reduced the last two weeks of pregnancy.

She needs plenty of exercise, but jumping and strenuous running should be avoided. During the last few days she may enjoy short walks, but don't over-tire her.

A few days before the puppies are due, her coat should be sponged with germicidal soap. Clip the hair around her vaginal and mammary regions and clean carefully.

When labor begins, she will be restless and will quite literally tear up her bed. If she is attached to you, she'll probably appreciate your being around during the normal labor period of five or six hours.

Puppies are occasionally born in a sack-like membrane which the mother will tear open with her teeth. If she doesn't, the membrane must be removed immediately, or the puppy will die from lack of oxygen. Should complications arise, such as a green discharge, or if labor is prolonged, call your veterinarian.

See that the mother and babies are warm. After whelping (giving birth) give her warm milk, but no solid food for several hours.

Feeding Tips: When weaning puppies, feed them a soupy mixture of a good prepared dog food, with twice as much lukewarm water as food.

LOT OF RAIN, SNOW: The total annual precipitation in United States totals about 1,300 cubic miles of water, or about 6 trillion tons.

People who attempt to dodge their obligations find the detour pretty rough.

Black - Manly Wedding At Nashville, Tenn.

A wedding of interest here took place last Friday at 3 p.m. in the Woodmont Baptist Church, Nashville, Tenn.; when Miss Lucy Marie Black, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Fradette Black of Cunningham, Tenn.; became the bride of 1st Lt. Basil Manly III USAP, of Stewart Air Force Base, Smyrna, Tenn., son of Mrs. Basil Manly of 52nd St. Virginia Beach and the late Mr. Manly.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Allen West pastor of the church. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white ballerina length dress of Chantilly lace with inserts of tulle scalloped neckline and long sleeves. Her veil of pet was caught to a lace, pearl trimmed hat. She carried a white prayer book topped with a white corsage and showered with white rosebuds. Her only ornament was a necklace of twisted seed pearls with a diamond clasp, a gift of the bridegroom. The necklace had belonged to his grandmother.

Engagements

Mr. and Mrs. Roland Floss Radeke, of Avon, Ill., announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Marie Radeke to George Stanley Radeke, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Radeke, of Virginia Beach.

Miss Radeke attended University of Colorado and received her B. S. degree from University of Missouri in June 1956. At present she is employed as a television copywriter for the Robert C. Bradshaw advertising agency in Charleston, S. C.

Mr. Radeke was graduated from Augusta Military Academy, Staunton, and received his B. S. degree in industrial engineering from Virginia Polytechnic Institute. He is currently serving on the executive committee of the Charleston Industrial Management Club. Mr. Radeke served two years in France as a construction engineer with the United States Army and is now employed as an engineer with the Virginia - Carolina Chemical Corporation in Charleston.

The wedding is planned for the late winter.

Wedding Announcement

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Hitt announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Sandra Leigh Hitt, to James Lawrence Schoenberger, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Schoenberger of Cincinnati, Ohio.

The wedding took place December 29, in the Methodist Church at Virginia Beach.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride. Later, the couple left for a wedding trip to Ohio and a visit to the bridegroom's parents. They will reside at 304 - 21st Street, Virginia Beach.

Births

LA. (G.) Walter G. Maser USN, and Mrs. Maser announce the birth of their second child, second son, John Hobson, on Wednesday December 26, at Johnson Willis' Hospital Richmond. Mrs. Maser is the former Miss Sally Wales, daughter of Mrs. Booker Wales, of Richmond. Lieutenant Maser is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Norfleet Jr., of Virginia Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Landon Pillow of Virginia Beach, announce the birth of their first child, a son, Landon Brian, on Sunday, December 30, at Leigh Memorial Hospital. Mrs. Pillow is the former Miss Ann Ball daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Ball Jr., of Virginia Beach.

GOOD OLD DAYS

In 1908, for the first time, sales of automobiles outnumbered those of horse drawn carriages and wagons. That was the year that the Saturday Evening Post carried its first horseless carriage advertisement.

In 1908, Sears Roebuck and Company sold an automobile for the then amazingly low price of $325. This was possible as dealers and agents were circumvented. The advertising ploy was that the car was for "the business man who has not yet made his pile" and estimated afford to be "charged with extravagance by his business associates."

In 1902, the price of a 15 horsepower touring car was about $2,000 and they were 1902 dollars.

Somebody forgot to close a spigot at the Pacific Molasses Company, in Richmond, Calif., and an estimated 4,000 gallons of the goo oozed out—enough molasses for 10 million hotcakes.

FORT STORY TELLINGS

FORT STORY, Va. — The Fort Story Speakers Bureau is offering military speakers to the surrounding communities to explain the survey now being conducted by the post.

The survey is an examination of Fort Story's monetary and other impact on the Tidewater area. It is scheduled for release about the middle of January. Although the post, nicknamed "the home of the trucks that swim", is composed of fewer than 1,500 acres of land on Cape Henry and has a military population about half the size of an infantry regiment, it brings millions of dollars and an invaluable service to the area.

The Fort Story Speakers Bureau will provide speakers for civic clubs and similar organizations on this or a wide variety of other subjects. Requests can be made through the Information Services Division, telephone Virginia Beach 40 80, Extension 73.

DRAKE TESTS

Tests have opened on The Drake, a new experiment in the Army's family of "swimming trucks". A special team from the Transportation Research and Engineering Command at Fort Eustis, parent installation of this Cape Henry Army post, is conducting extensive land tests.

The new eight-ton amphibious truck is designed for the ship-to-shore transfer of personnel, cargo and vehicles. It is classified as a "big brother" of the 2½-ton Superduck which recently completed tests here.

The Drake is considered to be an improvement over present amphibious vehicles because it can carry cargo inland as well as over-the-shore and the design of its hull offers improved marine characteristics.

COMPANY DEPARTS

The 344th Amphibious Truck Company departed this week for Europe to participate in NODEX

(New Over-The-Shore Discharge Exercise) 13.

The company, commanded by First Lieutenant William A. Schilling, reported to McGuire Air Force Base, New Jersey on January 8 for transportation to Europe. Included in the move were 96 enlisted men, 17 non-commissioned officers and five officers.

NODEX is a special type of training exercise held periodically in Europe.

PARADE PARTICIPATION

Units from Fort Story participated in the March of Dimes parade at Virginia Beach on January 5.

Headquarters Company of the 5th Transportation Terminal Command B provided a color guard. A 100-man marching unit and seven decorated DUKWs were supplied by the 376th Transportation Battalion.

ACCIDENT FREE HOLIDAY

No accidents involving Fort Story personnel were reported to the post's military police during the holiday leave period. A large segment of the post's population was authorized leaves to all points of the United States. However, a policy permitting soldiers to travel only during daylight hours and other safety precautions was enforced.

Fort Story personnel have not been involved in an accident since December 20. Damage in that instance, according to the MP's, was negligible.

BLOODMOBILE VISIT

The Tidewater Bloodmobile visited Fort Story on January 9.

A special plaque is being offered to the organization donating the most blood on a percentage basis, officials here announced.

HOBBY SHOP OPENS

The Fort Story Hobby Shop was officially re-opened this week. The shop has been completely renovated and moved to building S-583 on Atlantic Avenue.

The shop includes a wide variety of power and hand tools, a work room, photographic darkroom and a small store with hobby items for sale. Sergeant First Class Darwin Jones of the post's special services office is in charge of the Hobby Shop.

Repairs to special services equipment will be made during the morning hours and the shop will be opened for use by Fort Story personnel from 1-5 and 6-10 Monday through Friday.

Husky and hungry — that's a capsule description of America's school children. Under the Special School Milk program, children in 62,322 schools drank 1 billion 400 million half-pints of milk during the past fiscal year. The federal government paid out $46 million for the program, and a total of $75 million has been authorized for the current fiscal year.

It still comes as a surprise to know that with the exception of April 30, 1889—the 100th anniversary of the constitution—there never has been a national holiday in this country, i.e. one proclaimed by Congress. As a result, and by declarations by the various state governors or legislatures, there are only seven public holidays observed by all the states. They are New Year's Day, Washington's birthday, Independence Day, Labor Day, Armistice Day, Thanksgiving and Christmas.

QUESTIONS OF THE WEEK

(Here are the questions asked most frequently by Virginia farmers during the past week, as reported by county agents. Staff members of the VPI Agricultural Extension Service and/or Experiment Station supply the answers.)

Q - What can be done to offset the 30 percent reduction in 1957 flue - cured tobacco allotments?

A - The opportunities are indeed limited in agriculture. If you try to put a small fragment of land into the production of some other crop, you may find yourself even worse off. If the cut in the allotment leaves you with less than a profitable one-man enterprise, you might do well to look for off-farm employment.

Q - How can I control chickweed in alfalfa and small grains?

A - In established stands of alfalfa (even during the first winter after seeding) use three pounds of CPPO in 30 to 40 gallons of water per acre. Spray after the legume has been killed back by frost and before new growth starts in the spring.

There is no recommendation for control of chickweed in small grains in Virginia, as not enough work has yet been done on it. However, dinitro has been used successfully in other areas.

Use of chemicals for weed control should be considered a supplement to, not a replacement for, good cultural practices.

Q - What is the best chemical to use to spray small grains for wild onion control, and when should I apply it?

A - Use 2,4-D at the rate of 1/2 to 3/4 pound in 20 to 30 gallons of water per acre. Apply after the small grain plants have tilled, but before they begin to joint.

Q - How can I render lard without its becoming rancid?

A - To each 50 pounds of hot lard, add a three-pound can of homogenized vegetable fat — the vegetable shortening found in grocery stores. Stir thoroughly and store in tight containers, as usual. Lard keeps much longer if stored in small air-tight containers, such as 1/2-gallon jars or three-pound tin cans.

Q - What are some of the jobs I can do now in my farm woods, and what returns can I expect?

A - (1) Thin dense young stands for pulpwood. A standard cord of wood will bring around $13.33. (2) Plant forest seedlings. An open field planting should grow in value up to $10 per acre per year. Spot-plant openings in wooded areas.

(3) Release good young trees now growing inferior trees. They will grow more rapidly. (4) Clear and plant where low-grade hardwoods now cover an area. This will convert a stand of little value to one of potentially valuable trees. (5) Prepare a desirable seed bed before making a harvest cutting where natural reseedling is expected. This will help young seedlings become established quickly.

Q - How much damage is the spotted alfalfa aphid expected to do in 1957?

A - We will have to wait and see. Other states report that heavy damage can be inflicted by the spring and summer. It first appeared in Virginia in August, 1956, and diseases and predators kept populations of aphids down to a minimum.

A newly developed nail will cut the cost of anchoring farm buildings to their foundations.

It is a fluted, hardened high-carbon steel nail which can be used to fasten framing to the masonry foundation. The nail is designed to replace the conventional one-half inch steel bolt which has been used for this purpose. The new masonry nails can be hand- or machine-hammered into concrete without pre-drilling.

HARSHBARGER NAMED PRESIDENT OF BIOMETRIC SOCIETY REGION

Dr. Boyd Harshbarger, head of the department of statistics at VPI, is the new president of the Eastern North American region of the Biometric Society.

The region covers all of the United States and Canada from east of the Rocky Mountains, and Mexico and Central America, and has over 4,000 members.

The Biometric Society sponsors the Journal "Biometrics," and is an international organization with members in every country in the world. The region of which Dr. Harshbarger is president is the largest in membership. Meetings of the society are held throughout the world. There are usually about four meetings annually sponsored in the United States.

Dr. Harshbarger also has recently authored an article on "The Role of Statistics in Land Grant Colleges," which appears in the latest Bulletin of the American Institute of Biological Sciences. Reprints of the article are available from the department of statistics at VPI, Blacksburg.

Fertilizer Prices May Drop

On the brighter side, a slight drop in fertilizer prices during the 1955-56 crop year will likely continue in 1957. The price drop was the result mainly of increased nitrogen supplies. Nitrogen prices are likely to drop during the next crop year to the point that farmers should take a second look at nitrogen use on their farms. With the cost of other items used in production going up, many farmers will be able to use more fertilizer profitably, since fertilizer use may improve the efficiency in the use of other items.

Manufactured items, such as machinery and equipment, building supplies, fencing, etc., will generally carry higher price tags next year, Cockrell says. With high wages in steel, coal manufacturing, and transportation, it is likely the cost of manufactured items will continue up. With price increases on new machinery, many farmers may profitably supply their needs by timely purchase of used equipment.

ROCK PHOSPHATE TESTS CONDUCTED IN VIRGINIA

Superphosphate should be the main phosphorus fertilizer used by Virginia farmers, but rock phosphate can be used as a supplement to good advantage in some cases.

That's the belief of researchers at VPI Agricultural Experiment Station, where tests on rock phosphate have been underway for six years. The rock phosphate has been tried at several places in Virginia on such crops as corn, wheat, red clover, and alfalfa. And W.W. Moschler, of the VPI agronomy staff, says the combination of rock phosphate and superphosphate is proving helpful on soils that are low in fertility, run-down soils, and those that have been only lightly fertilized or limed and have to be built up to the point where they will produce good crops.

The scientists have applied rock phosphate to supply a reserve of slowly available phosphorus, and added annual applications of superphosphate to give the crop the quickly available phosphorus necessary for a thrifty, vigorous start.

Rock phosphate is generally applied at rates of 1,000 to 2,000 pounds per acre, and the application is repeated each six to eight years. Superphosphate is usually applied each year (or to each

THE CHURCH FOR ALL...
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his word and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

The MIXING BOWL..

IT'S Fun TO COOK

By LUCILE CLARK

For the very latest in food fads and foibles... for practical, down-to-earth recipes that please both palate and pocketbook, read the "Mixing Bowl" by Lucile Clark each Thursday in the Sun-News.

Have you often heard it said, "Coffee is the world's most versatile beverage?"

What does coffee mean to you? A delectable flavor & a welcome aroma that helps you "get going" on even the darkest morning?—a leisurely after-dinner cup that is perfect accompaniment to good conversation?—the bracing beverage that gives real meaning to your mid-morning coffee break? Perhaps you take special delight in a tall, frosty glass of iced coffee when the temperature climbs. And surely, like most of us, you savor a touch of coffee in ice cream, a favorite cake or dessert. What ever your preference, one thing is certain: coffee means fun.

It's not hard to understand why. Although coffee is easy to make, it is the most versatile beverage in the world. Served the American way, it is a real part of American life. Served in ways enjoyed in other countries around the world, coffee brings a touch of exotic that lifts even the most humdrum meal into something special.

The Pan-American Coffee Bureau sent me the most interesting book "Fun with Coffee" & it is a pleasure to share with you many of their tested recipes on coffee for drinking & recipes using coffee in the kitchen. There's a world of enjoyment in coffee. Let it give a lift to living.

In Washington, where protocol is important, coffee is the highest ranking beverage! Hostesses must make sure, no matter what else is served, that the most important lady pours the coffee.

The fact is that whoever does the pouring, coffee has always been the beverage of sociability. And never has it been as sociable as it is today. Served in the forenoon, coffee is the favorite refreshment for committee meetings or fund-raising groups. Afternoon coffee, accompanied by dainty cakes & pastries is the reason for many a happy get-together. In the evening, coffee & dessert give warm welcome to after-dinner visitors.

Here's a suggestion so old - its new. For a change, try the European custom of serving:—dainty demitasse cups of coffee served with hot d'oeuvre before dinner. This is a delightful idea for those who do not drink cocktails—around the clock—around the world—coffee means pleasure.

Whether you use a Vacuum, Drip or Percolator method—always follow these rules:

1. Start with a thoroughly clean coffee-maker. Rinse coffee-maker with hot water before using - wash thoroughly after each use and rinse in hot water.

2. Fresh Coffee is best. Buy coffee in the size of can or package which will be used within a week after opening.

3. Fresh water is important, too. Start with freshly drawn water.

4. For best results, use full capacity of your coffee-maker. Never brew less than 3/4 of capacity.

5. Consistent timing is important. After you find the exact timing to obtain the results desired with your coffee-maker, stick to it in order to get best results.

6. Coffee should never be boiled.

When coffee is boiled an undesirable flavor change takes place.

7. Serve Coffee as soon as possible after brewing. Freshly brewed coffee tastes best. If necessary to keep coffee hot, hold at serving temperature by placing pot in pan of hot water or over - very low heat.

How to make good iced Coffee? Well - here are the rules from the Pan-American Bureau -

Quick Double - Strength Coffee: make hot coffee double strength by using half the amount of water to the usual amount of coffee. Pour hot over ice - cubes in tall glasses, the extra - strong coffee allows for dilution caused by ice. Pre - Cooled way: make regular strength coffee & cool—in covered non-metallic container in refrigerator, no more than three hours. Pour over ice in tall glasses. Coffee Ice-Cube Way: Brew extra breakfast coffee & freeze coffee ice cubes. Then make iced - coffee anytime by pouring regular strength hot coffee over the cubes.

Iced Instant Coffee: Mix twice the usual amount of instant coffee with a little water (hot or cold according to brand) in each glass. Add ice - cubes, cold water & stir thoroughly.

I would also like to give you a few Coffee Facts of Interest. Coffee is a rich source of niacin, an important B - complex vitamin. One well-brewed cup of coffee contains as much niacin as five slices of enriched bread. Five or six cups of coffee, say the scientists, supply about half the average daily requirement of niacin.

If your family uses a pound of roasted coffee a week, it is consuming the annual crop of about 32 coffee trees each year. Coffee is the largest single import into the United States. About 90% of the coffee consumed in the United States comes from Latin America.

The Coffee Tree is, in reality, a shrub which must mature for about five years before it produces a crop. The fruit of the coffee tree is called a cherry. Each cherry has in its center, two coffee beans & the pulp of the cherry is discarded when the beans are removed.

The delicate white blossoms of the coffee tree are similar to jasmine in form & scent. The fragrant flowers last for about three days before they will fall and where coffee plantations are near the coast, the blossoms' perfume carries as much as three miles out to sea.

An unusual fact concerning the coffee tree is that it often bears blossoms, green cherries & red-ripe cherries at the same time. No harvesting machine has ever been devised that could distinguish green from red & consequently coffee must be picked by hand.

About 2,000 hand-picked cherries are required to provide enough beans for a single pound of roasted coffee. This is slightly more than the annual crop of one average coffee tree.

I hope you have enjoyed reading these facts as much as I did—for I did not know a single one of them.

Here is a recipe or two using coffee—in desserts.

Coffee Coronet.

2 tablespoons unflavored gelatin
1/2 cup strong, cold coffee
1 1/2 cups strong, hot coffee
1 cup sugar
2 dozen lady fingers
1/2 package (3 oz) semi-sweet chocolate pieces, melted
2 cups heavy cream
1 cup broken pecans
1 tablespoon vanilla

Sprinkle gelatin on cold coffee add hot coffee & sugar, stir until sugar & gelatin is dissolved—Chill until consistency of unbeaten egg white. Meanwhile split 9 or 10 lady fingers & dip one end of each segment in melted chocolate. Whip chilled gelatin mixture until light & fluffy. Whip cream & fold in with pecans & vanilla. Spoon into about half an inch. Stand chocolate tipped lady fingers up-most around edge of pan - add about 1/2 gelatin mixture & layer with plain split lady fingers. Add another third of gelatin mixture & another layer of plain split lady fingers - then remainder of gelatin mixture. Chill until firm - Remove from pan - just before serving, sprinkle with mixture of 3 tablespoons sugar & 1 teaspoon very finely ground coffee. Garnish with additional whipped cream & sugar coffee - mixture - 12 servings.

Coffee Whipped Cream Filling for Cream Puffs

1 teaspoon unflavored gelatin
2 tablespoons double strength cold coffee
1 cup heavy cream
1/2 teaspoon vanilla

6 tablespoons very fine sugar
Soften gelatin in cold coffee - set over boiling water & stir until dissolved. Cool slightly add cream with - vanilla & sugar & beat until stiff - Chill - Spoon into Cream Puff Shells - This filling is sufficient for 12 medium-sized puffs.

Next week - I have some more interesting notes on coffee "The World in your Coffee Cup" - well travel around the world & just see how our neighbors make coffee. Bye - now -

a Dog's Life

WHEN YOUR DOG IS SICK

by Dr. E. M. Gildow

Director, Frisbie Research Kennels

The average dog owner can usually tell when his pet is ill, but seldom knows which ailment is indicated by the symptoms. So it's always wise to have a veterinarian diagnose the illness and advise treatment.

Use a rectal thermometer to check the dog's temperature; normal should be 101 degrees. Fits or convulsions are usually fatal.

Dog of the Week: POODLE

Varieties: Standard, Miniature, Toy, Curly or corded coat. Clipping is traditionally "Poodle" and "English Saddle." Any solid color. Eighth in popularity.

a warning of an ailment or disturbance. Again, this should be determined by professional advice.

Always seek competent attention for such diseases as distemper or infectious hepatitis. Worming the dog also is best left to the veterinarian.

Keep the convalescent dog warm and out of drafts. Tempt him with new foods if he refuses to eat, or try feeding him by hand or changing his feeding place. Foods he may relish at this time are minced raw beef, beef broth, chicken, eggs, rabbit, milk and cereal.

If your dog resists food for several days he may have to be force-fed. Give him liquid foods from a small bottle. Tilt the dog's head and gently pull out the cheek until the lower lip forms a pouch. Pour in liquid slowly, giving him time to swallow. Use the same method for administering liquid medicine. Drop pills back of the dog's tongue and stroke the throat so he will swallow.

Feeding Tips: Several all-purpose dog foods contain vitamin A. It strengthens the mucous membranes, providing resistance against pneumonia, bronchial infections, distemper, colds and ear inflammations.

To protect itself, the horned toad can shoot a fine stream of blood from its eye for a distance of three feet. Actually a lizard, it includes in its armor a spiny back and pin-pointed spikes on top of its head.

PORT STORY, Va.—The members of the Holy Name Society of St. Theresa's Chapel will hold a threefold ceremony on Sunday 13 January 1957. The monthly corporate communion will take place at the 8:00 Mass in St. Theresa's Chapel, followed by the formal acceptance of newly enrolled members. The annual communion breakfast will follow at 9:00 AM at the Non-Commissioned Officers' Mess. The speaker for the occasion will be the Honorable Robert Lee Simpson, a prominent Catholic layman of Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County, and a member of the Virginia Bar. Mr. Simpson has been a resident of the Beach area since 1942, having received his AB from William and Mary in 1938, and a law degree from the same school in 1940. From 1942 to 1945, he was associated with the United States District Court for Eastern Virginia. Currently he is the Government Appeals Agent for Princess Anne County, and Associate Judge of the Princess Anne County Court. All Catholic men of the area are invited to attend and tickets for the breakfast may be obtained at either the Chaplains Office, of St. Theresa's Chapel, Port Story, Va.

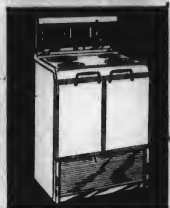

"Coffee Party For Polio" Plan

On Thursday of last week Mrs. Wallace T. Clark, Chairman of the Princess Anne Chapter of the National Polio Foundation, attended a Coffee Party for Polio given by Mrs. Stanley at the Governor's Mansion in Richmond. Representatives from all counties in the state were present, and this party launched the "Coffee Party for Polio" plan throughout Virginia.

Coffee and light refreshments were served and the contributions of all persons in attendance went to the March of Dimes.

Each representative returned to her home with information and plans for sponsoring a local party.

Demonstration Club

At Virginia Beach today, The Young Democratic Club of Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County went into its annual meeting for the election of new officers and directors. President Art Colenda presided during the meeting, at which time the following Young Democrats were elected to lead this organization for the coming term: President, J. Peter Holland III; 1st. Vice-Pres., J. T. Crosswhite, Jr.; 2nd. Vice-Pres., John Lewis; 3rd. Vice-Pres., Ned Caton; Treasurer, E. A. Culverhouse; Secretary, Lewis E. Smith. On the Board of Directors the following were elected to represent: Virginia Beach, Mrs. Donald Fontane and Ray Whitehead; Lynnhaven, Mrs. M. C. Tannen and J. Robert Addenbrook; Kempsville, Mrs. Bruce Jones and Wesley Sykes; Blackwater, Ralph Frost; Pungo, Otto Halstead and Seaboard, Albin Rodgers. Art Colenda, Vice-Pres. of the State Young Democratic Club was also elected a member of the Board.

The Club shall continue to support the principles and ideologies of the Democratic Party with increased reference to the young peoples in the area and throughout the Old Dominion. A meeting of the Board of Directors will be held in the near future to formulate the various committees and policies for the coming year.

NOW ABOUT YOU?

Legion Cmdr. Named to Head March of Dimes

Dan Daniel of Danville, national Commander of the American Legion, has been named national chairman of the new "Points for Polio" basketball program for the 1957 March of Dimes. It was announced last week by Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. Mr. Daniel will appoint a committee of nationally prominent college basketball coaches to serve with him during the March of Dimes next month.

State and county organizations of the National Foundation have scheduled hundreds of college and high school "Points for Polio" games to raise funds for the March of Dimes, it was explained. Volunteers obtain pledges at so much per point scored by either or both teams combined, before each game and contributions are made after the game, according to the score.

"The American Legion," said Mr. Daniel, "has always strongly supported the March of Dimes and will do so again this January to help finish the fight against polio. We are glad to encourage all nationwide and local March of Dimes fund raising efforts such as Points for Polio, Blue Crucifix sales and other programs."

Bountiful '57 Food Supplies Banish Bare Cupboard Fear

By Nancy Carter

Beef, potatoes and cabbage are three of the foods topping the plentiful food list in 1957. To combine these three into a taste tempting dinner is wise and thrifty buyman'ship. Our suggestion is this meal of potatoburgers served with cheese sauce and cooked cabbage wedges. Add a fruit salad, hot rolls and custard and you end up with a family meal that's good eating and nutritious.

Prospects for our nation's food supply look very good. The outlook for meat is continued large with supplies almost meeting the record volume of 1956. Supplies of eggs, broilers and turkeys are likely to exceed the records established in 1956. Milk production is expected to increase so there will be plenty of it to drink and be made into dairy products.

With good weather, crops of most fruit items will increase. The acreage planted in vegetables for fresh markets in 1957 is expected to exceed all previous records. You can expect more potatoes, onions, sweet potatoes and Western lettuce. Supplies of both canned and frozen fruits and vegetables will be materially larger. Look for increases in juices, corn, peaches, tomatoes, snap beans and green peas. Certainly no one in America will need worry about a bare cupboard in 1957.

Here's my suggestion to start the new year in a thrifty manner. If you'd like more money saving recipes write to me: Nancy Carter, P. O. Box 4558, Atlanta, Ga.

- | | |
|--|------------------------------|
| 1 pound quality controlled ground beef | 1/2 cup chopped green pepper |
| 2 cups shredded raw potatoes | 1 1/2 teaspoons salt |
| 1/4 cup coarsely grated onion | 1/4 teaspoon black pepper |

Combine all ingredients; mix well. Shape into 8 patties. Pan fry in lightly greased skillet about 7 minutes on each side, or oven broil about 15 minutes turning once. Makes 8 servings.

METHODS OF YEARLING SLAUGHTER STEER PRODUCTION STUDIED

How Southwest Virginia livestock men can most profitably produce yearling steers for slaughter is the question under study by researchers at the Glade Spring branch of VPI Agricultural Experiment Station.

R. C. Carter and F. S. McClaugherty have reached what they call some "cautious" conclusions on the basis of one year's work. They say steer calves wintered "high" (to make about 1 1/2 pounds of daily gain liveweight during the winter) and fed about 15 bushels of corn on pasture in the summer can be expected to produce carcasses grading Good by October.

The experiment will be continued for two more years, the researchers say.

They explain that in recent years the demand for heavy beef carcasses weighing 700 pounds or above, such as are produced from the two- and three-year-old grass-fat steers weighing 1,200 to 1,500 pounds in Southwest Virginia, has declined greatly. The most popular beef carcasses at present are those weighing from 450 to 600 pounds and grading Good to average Choice. Carcasses in this weight range must be produced from yearling cattle.

Tests and practical experience over the past several years have shown that yearling steers handled in the conventional manner and slaughtered off grass at the end of their yearling summer will, on the average, produce carcasses grading too Commercial. It is not usually profitable to sell Commercial cattle for slaughter at this season of the year.

The scientists are trying to determine how much grain is needed in addition to pasture forage crops, to produce yearling slaughter steers grading Good or better; and at what season of the year the extra grain should be fed.

Fire Levels Kempsville School Building; Pupils Go To P.A.H.

Two hundred and twenty-five Kempsville eighth grade students are now attending classes at the Princess Anne High School as a result of an early morning fire Tuesday of a $20,000 temporary building at the Kempsville school site.

The fire gutted eight classrooms used for 300 fourth and fifth graders at Kempsville. The ruined building was located approximately 100 feet from the main brick school building.

Jeanene Davis

Concert Group To Sponsor Recital Jan 22

The Virginia Beach Concert Association will present Jeanene Davis, pianist, in a recital at The Cavalier on Tuesday evening, January 22, at 8:15 o'clock. This is the second in a series of three recitals to be given during the current season.

The lovely, young Texas-born pianist studied with Adele Marcus, and more recently, with Mrs. Rosina Lefevre at the Juilliard School. Upon graduation from Juilliard, Miss Davis was presented with the Carl Rosendorfer Award granted to the pianist "most outstanding in talent and achievement".

This honor was another in a string of recognitions including the Chopin Award of the Kościusko Foundation with its $1000 prize, the Josef Lefevre Memorial Scholarship, the Olga Samoroff Foundation Grant, and for two years, the Juilliard Concerto Competition.

On the occasion of her concert debut at the National Gallery in Washington, D. C., Miss Davis displayed the exciting and brilliant pianism that has placed her foremost among young artists of her generation. Hailed by critics as the "most interesting pianistic newcomer of the season," she was immediately re-engaged for performances with the National Gallery Orchestra in Washington and Annapolis. During the past two seasons Miss Davis has given solo recitals in many Eastern, Southern, and Midwestern states. She has appeared as soloist with several of the major symphony orchestras, including the Battle Creek Symphony, Mobile Symphony, Little Falls Philharmonic, and twice with the Dallas Symphony. In the summers of 1955 and 1956 she was soloist with the Chautauqua Symphony.

Admission to the series of concerts is by season membership only.

The "coffee break" during intermission, inaugurated at the first concert, proved so popular that it will be repeated for this concert.

The program follows:

1. Récitair and Toccata from a theme in The Old Maid and the Thief Gain Carlo Menotti, Partita in c minor n. 11 Bach.
2. Sonata in D Major opus 10 n. 3 Beethoven.
3. Fantasy in f minor opus 40 Chopin.
4. Prelude in D Major opus 23 n. 4 Rachmaninoff.
- Etude Tableau in E flat Major opus 33 n. 7 Rachmaninoff.
- Prelude in E flat minor opus 23 n. 9 Rachmaninoff.
- Du and Du (The Friedmann Waltzes) Strauss-Dohnanyi.

Mayor Frank A. Dusch is shown receiving the first ticket to the Folies, the bi-annual musical show sponsored by the Junior Woman's Club of Princess Anne County which will be presented February 1 and 2. The young lady presenting the tickets is Miss Judy Faye Henley. Looking on is Mrs. Samuel J. Perdue, program chairman of the event. (Boice Photo).

Frank W. Cox, superintendent of Princess Anne County schools, said the quick reshuffling necessitated the use of music rooms and audio-visual rooms as temporary classrooms. He said eighth graders will be picked up by school bus today as usual and taken to the Kempsville school. From that point, he said, they will be "expressed" by bus to the high school. Other eighth graders already go to the high school, he pointed out.

According to Fire Chief George M. Held of the Kempsville Volunteer Fire Department, the blaze broke out about 6 a.m., apparently caused by a faulty furnace. A passing motorist, on his way to work, caught sight of the flames licking at the roof structure and telephoned the fire group. Chief Held said that 40 men from the Kempsville group, the Thalia Volunteer Fire Co. and the Davis Corner Volunteer Fire Department fought the fire for an hour before it was quelled.

He said the fire fighting was hampered slightly by the fact that the school was located on the edge of a creek, making it impossible for the firemen to get at the front of the blaze. He said the main brick structure close by never was in any danger, since the wind was blowing in an opposite direction.

The temporary structure built five years ago of corrugated iron and masonite boards, cost $20,000, according to Cox. He said the site already was overcrowded and he doubted the burned-out structure would be rebuilt. However, he said, that is a point to be worked out by the school board.

The honey-blond Diamond Springs Navy wife awaiting trial at Princess Anne for the killing of her husband has been arrested by county police on three morals charges, it was revealed Tuesday.

Two men have been arrested in connection with the same offense. Mrs. Helen Marian Smith, mother of five children, was freed under $10,000 bond on the charge of fatally shooting her husband, Chief Boatman's mate Edward N. Smith, 36, at their home last October.

The morals offenses, with which she is now charged are alleged to have taken place since then.

Two of the charges made against Mrs. Smith allege unnatural moral acts under Sec. 18-98 of the State Code. The third charge made under Sec. 18-113 involves pornographic photographs.

The men arrested with her are Frederick Joseph Kubaska, 27, enlisted sailor of the Naval Amphibious Base Little Creek, and Fred Shellman Barker of 125 Birmingham Ave., Norfolk.

All three are slated to appear in county court Friday.

The Miracle drugs have "opened a new life" for mentally retarded children according to Mrs. Clyde Daughtry, Director of the Princess Anne County School for Retarded Children at Broad Creek.

Speaking at a meeting of the Woman's Club of Princess Anne County at the Pine Tree Inn on Tuesday, she explained that these children can be rehabilitated if they are reached at an early age. Mrs. Daughtry explained there is no longer a stigma to retardation. She told how parents could be trained in basic skills in order that they may impart them to the children.

She told of the possibility of a new building to provide, in cooperation with the federal government, services such as evaluation of mental level and capacity, which are not available any place other than at the Medical College of Virginia. She told the club that she could not build institutions fast enough to take care of the children. Mrs. Daughtry was introduced by Mrs. James Kellam, Chairman of Health and Mental Health.

Mrs. Francis S. Stribe, Fine Arts Chairman, introduced Mrs. George Campbell who played several folk songs on the zither.

The following were elected to the Nominating Committee: Mrs. George Aldridge, Mrs. R. H. Owen, Mrs. D. Y. Malbon, Mrs. H. E. Halstead, and Mrs. James Neidlinger. The club, cooperating with the General Federation of Women's Clubs voted to give $100.00 to Hungarian Relief Work. They also gave $10.00 for repairs to club headquarters in Washington, D.C.

Hornets Nip Beach Quintet In Thriller

Three foul shots by Eugene McKay in the final 35 seconds gave Deep Creek a 62-61 victory over Virginia Beach in a NorPort Division basketball game Tuesday night.

Trailing by two points with 35 seconds left in the game, McKay was fouled. He threw in the two shot and then made the winning point when the referee called a technical foul against the Virginia Beach bench for protesting the call.

McKay was high for the Hornets with 20 points and Hardee was runner-up with 13.

Harold James and Vince Grayson led the Seahawks with 26 and 25 points respectively.

The loss was the second of the year for the Seahawks in the NorPort Division against one victory. The win was the first for Deep Creek in league play.

Pulley Elected P. A. Red Cross Board Chairman

R. Bradshaw Pulley has been named chairman of the board of directors of the Princess Anne Chapter, American Red Cross.

Pulley will fill the unexpired term of Will D. Baugh until the annual spring meeting of the chapter when new officers will be elected.

At a meeting of the board Jan. 9, it was announced that the chapter has filled its quota for Hungarian relief. The national Red Cross organization, however, now desires clothing and anyone wishing to donate clothing may take it to the Community House, 18th St. and Arctic Ave.

Jaycees Begin Hungarian Drive

Jaycees to collect the following items: Blankets, Baby food, Surgical and X-ray Equipment and money. These items are most urgently needed and are the only items requested in this particular drive.

A spokesman for the local Jaycee Chapter requested that anyone having such items and willing to donate them please phone 2700 or 2130 or contact any Jaycee member for prompt pick-up. Williams Street Fishing Pier at the south end of Atlantic Ave. has been designated the collection and storage area during the drive. Donations may be taken directly to Williams Pier if desired.

In emphasizing the need for the blankets and baby food in particular, a Jaycee spokesman requested that anyone willing to give "one jar of baby food" as a whole case of it, be said.

Jayce president—William Robertson. Committee Chairman—Josh Vaughan.

District Group Of Girl Scouts Holds Meeting

Junior Womans Club Donations Gets Library Fund Underway

The Junior Woman's Club of Princess Anne County is determined that Virginia Beach will someday have a first rate library and the club is sponsoring a drive to raise $45,000 for the purpose. The club has already donated a check in the amount of $2500 toward the project.

The initial check from the Junior Woman's Club represents funds expected to be realized from its forthcoming "Folies" which is held every two years and will be staged February 1 and 2.

City officials are cooperating in the library venture and a proposed site next to the Virginia Beach High School has been approved by the School Board. The first individual contribution was one for $100 made by Frank D. Tarrall, Jr., a member of the City Council.

Prior to the start of the drive, Mrs. James A. Sadler, chairman of the investigation committee for a new library, and Mrs. Joseph C. Sadler appeared before the city council for approval of plans and with a request that the city maintain a staff when sufficient funds were raised for construction.

The council appointed City Manager J. Russell Hatchett and Tarrall to serve with the club in planning the library.

The club board has authorized the opening of an account to be called the Junior Woman's Club Library Fund. Formation of a Friends of the Library Society is planned.

Members of the club on the Library Drive committee are Mrs. W. F. Ferrell, president of the club; Mrs. T. H. Caffrey; Mrs. C. S. Mason; Mrs. John Anderson, chairman; Mrs. James A. Sadler; Mrs. Joseph C. Sadler; and Mrs. J. A. Colenda, vice president of the club and treasurer of the committee.

Current plans call for construction of a building which will be in one room of the Community Center. Facilities are lacking for proper storage and books are not catalogued. Donations of books, such as one 300-volume gift from the late Mary Eugenia Parke, book editor of The Virginian-Pilot, are stacked on windowsills and over the drapery valences.

A Library League was organized in 1916-17, of which two of the original members surviving are Mrs. A. C. Maury and Mrs. Darlie Patch.

Mrs. Maury, Mrs. Patch, with Mrs. W. S. Johns and several others, members of the Women's Municipal League Inc. in 1929 or 1930 brought two books each to a party, to form the nucleus of the present library.

A one-room real estate building was purchased for $50 to house the books. This small frame building, heated then by a wood stove for which committee members used to chop wood, was moved, books and all, to five different locations within 15 years. Abandoned in 1946, when the library was moved to its present room in the Community House, the "first mobile library at Virginia Beach" is now in repose behind the city hall.

The library serves approximately 20 people a day, at a cost of 50 cents every three months for membership. The Women's

Rail oddities

Although having a total length of only 277 miles, the Chockfield Railroad extends into five states.

At today's prices for rail, ballast, cross-ties and labor, the replacement of eight miles of main line track costs a railroad about a million dollars.

Lots of freight trains have both names and nicknames. One named the "Texas-Oklahoma-Missouri-Kansas-Arkansas Traveler" is called "TOMKAT" for short.

FORT STORY...

MILITARY POLICE TO SCHOOL
Five members of the Fort Story Military Police Detachment are now attending the Norfolk Police School. The men, first Military Policemen to attend the school, will study all phases of police work along with the Norfolk city officers at the invitation of Chief Harold Anderson.

The course will continue through the month of January.

Attending from Fort Story are Sergeant Theodore Ortiz, an investigator of the Provost Marshall Investigation Branch, and Sergeants Howard J. Worick, Leonard V. Willis, Lee H. Wilkins and Ernest R. Hart all on general police duties at the post.

The Fort Story Military Police Detachment has also been bolstered by the arrival of nineteen new members, including the latter four sergeants listed above.

HUNGARIAN RELIEF DONATION

Fort Story personnel are donating $100 to the American Red Cross for Hungarian Relief.

The money is taken from the post's United Charity Drive, and from additional voluntary donations by post personnel, and is being donated through the Princess Anne Chapter of the Red Cross as part of their $854 quota.

CIGAR SURPLUS

This tiny Cape Henry post, is overstocked on cigars just now.

An old Army traditional calls for newly-promoted soldiers to pass out cigars to friends. A large number of the post's junior officers entered the service at almost the same time with the result that fourteen men were elevated from second to first lieutenant within four days. Each is passing out the traditional cigars.

No shortage of cigars is expected either. Six more promotions are due at the end of the month.

PORT STORY, Va. — Major W. P. Freigh, post comptroller, will speak to Virginia Beach Exchange Club on January 26 concerning the results a survey now being conducted by this Cape Henry post.

The survey will show Fort Story's impact on the surrounding communities to be out of all proportion to its small size. The results of the survey are to be released Sunday, January 26.

The Fort Story Speakers Bureau, which provides speakers on a wide variety of topics to civic and fraternal groups throughout the Tidewater area, is offering speakers to explain the findings of the survey to the people of the communities surrounding the post.

Sergeant Donald G. Hill, the post's public information supervisor, addressed a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Virginia Beach Chamber of Commerce last week discussing the preliminary results of the survey and methods of publicizing its findings. A speaker is also scheduled to speak to the Norfolk Exchange Club.

SIGNAL SCHOOL

Approximately 50 Fort Story personnel are completing an annual unit tactical radio operation course conducted by the Signal Corps. The men being trained will then return to their unit to instruct in the subjects covered by the course.

Hershall Patrick and William Horton of the Lexington Signal Depot are instructing the 40 hour course, which was divided into two sections of students. The first received training January 7-11 and the second January 14-18.

SOJOURNERS OFFICERS

Colonel Frederick A. Ward (U.S.A. ret.) was installed as new president of the Cape Henry Chapter, National Sojourners at the Fort Story Officers Open Mess on January 12.

Officiating at the ceremonies was Brigadier General George O. Van Orden (USMC, ret.), regional representative for Virginia, who also installed Commander Frank A. Dusch, USNR, as first vice-president; Lieutenant Colonel Frederick G. Ward, second vice-president; and Major William P. Freigh, secretary-treasurer.

The incoming president announced the following appointments: Chaplain (First Lieutenant) William W. Owen, chaplain; Captain Ralph L. Donae, marshal; Major H. M. Chesley, color bearer; Lieutenant Col. Norman A. Turnbull and Captain Walter L. Miller and Captain Nathaniel R. Thompson, Jr. as the entertainment committee. Major Gerald R. Stewart is in charge of membership and First Lieutenant Herbert R. West is historian.

BATTALION HONORS

Two members of the 376th Transportation Battalion were honored as a special formation recently.

Sergeant First Class Roy L. Goodhus received a special letter of appreciation from Major Herman Nadler, projects officer, for his work in the testing of the Superduck which concluded here recently.

Captain James P. Ventura received a letter of appreciation from the battalion's commanding officer, Lieutenant Colonel E. A. McCarthy, for his work as plans and training officer. He will depart soon for duty in Japan.

First Lieutenant Robert A. White will replace Captain Ventura.

BLOODMOBILE VISIT

A new post record of donations at the Red Cross Bloodmobile was set at Fort Story on January 9.

The Red Cross unit collected 268 pints of blood from the 440 volunteers who showed up at the post's service club at 9 a.m. The former record was 211 pints, set last January. Common colds, caused by the chill, wet weather, along with the usual causes such as age and recent inoculations were blamed for the large numbers of rejections of possible blood donors.

Top unit record was set by the 14th Transportation Battalion, commanded by Major A. R. Campbell. The battalion's 382 enlisted men and 16 officers, volunteered "en masse".

Officials said the unusual turnout of donors was believed to have been caused by the receipt of word that the Norfolk Blood Bank was at a dangerous low, due to the lack of regular donors and the increased use during the holiday period just past.

Ten volunteers began taking the blood for the Red Cross, however the number was doubled during the collections and additional supplies had to be rushed in from Norfolk. Red cross workers continued through the lunch hour and, although they had originally planned to be through by 12:30 p.m., did not complete the collections until nearly 4 p.m.

HOLY NAME SOCIETY MEETS

Robert Lee Simpson, associate judge of the Princess Anne County Court, spoke to the Fort Story Holy Name Society at its annual Communion breakfast at 9 a.m. Sun., January 13.

The men received Holy Communion at the 8 a.m. Mass at St. Theresa's Chapel. After Mass, the annual reception of new members into the Holy Name Society was conducted. Breakfast followed in the Non-Commissioned Officers Open Mess.

Busy and Efficient

The Christmas season is a busy period for everyone and there is little question that just about the busiest place in Virginia Beach during the pre-Christmas season was the Virginia Beach Post Office.

The volume of mail handled by the local post office this past Christmas season was fifteen per cent greater than for the like period a year ago, which at that time was an all-time record.

Despite this increased work load post office patrons have expressed amazement and praise in the post office's handling of outgoing and incoming mail during the Christmas season. In addition, the general delivery which was handled in the lobby of the Post Office for the first time—functioned so smoothly that patrons lost little time in receiving or sending mail. It was also a great aid in that patrons were able to get information in the lobby rather than having to stand in line at busy windows.

Postmaster Howard S. Myers and his entire staff deserve the thanks of this entire community for the fine manner in which the incoming and outgoing mail of the people of this area was handled. In addition to the increased facilities that were made available and the fine cooperation of the Postmaster and his staff the decorations of the Post Office was very much in keeping with the Christmas spirit that prevailed in the "Christmas City by the Sea."

The Sun-News takes pleasure in commending this fine public institution and because of our daily contact with the Post Office, we feel that we speak not only for ourselves but for the community when we say, "congratulations to Howard Myers and the entire personnel of the Virginia Beach Post Office on a big job well done."

"For All These Blessings"

More and more, Americans are being reminded that if our people and our nation are to survive, there must be a revival of our faith in God and our dependence upon prayer.

A powerful factor in this nationwide spiritual endeavor is The American Legion's most commendable "Back to God" movement.

For some years billboards, window posters, carcards, newspaper advertisements and radio and television programs—all sponsored by The American Legion—have proclaimed that "America's first line of defense is God and His Church," and have admonished that we "teach children religion."

A new and unique phase of this great religious crusade is the grace-before-meals cards which are appearing in increasing numbers on the tables of hotel dining rooms, restaurants, hospitals and even the dining cars of at least two large railway systems.

The cards contain words of grace by men of God, approved by spiritual leaders of the Protestant, Catholic and Jewish faiths.

Their purpose of course is to encourage people to return to the old-fashioned custom of giving thanks to God for our many blessings. It is not surprising to Legionnaires that a large percentage of these grace cards disappear from the tables where they have been placed. Diners are taking them home! And that is exactly what The American Legion says it hoped would happen.

Word has come to The American Legion that many of the people who take these grace home with them are using them there to encourage the saying of grace in a revived family circle. Some of them have learned to pray for the first time—or at least for the first time in many years.

The American Legion has asked the people of America to join its three million members in encouraging in every way possible, first, regular church or synagogue attendance, second daily family prayer, and third, the religious training of children.

If each of us will do only this much, we shall have laid a foundation of national strength for which those who challenge us have no answer.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

for all Intermediate Girl Scouts
Troop 251, Mrs. Robert Goodman and Mrs. Roy Polick, Co-Leaders, won first prize. The prize was $10.00 worth of campaign equipment.

A special word of praise goes out to Mrs. Buchanan for her constanding work with the March of Dimes parade.

This being March of Dimes
Month, the Girl Scouts of Virginia Beach will be doing their part in aiding this drive. All Intermediate troops will be collecting for the March of Dimes at the Virginia Beach Theatre during this whole month.

New officers for Girl Scout Troop No. 232 of Virginia Beach were elected at a recent meeting of the troop held at the home of the leader, Mrs. John Tucker.
Mary Lou Jard was elected president; Hazel Tucker, treasurer and Ginny Woodward troop scribe. The girls have been practicing up on their home-making skills as they have chosen "You and Your Home" as their major field for first class rank. They have completed the course in cooking at the V.E.P. Co., and attended a Girl Scout "Good Grooming" Clinic. Other activities in this same field include sewing and helping with the housework at home.

Troop No. 232 has also been active in community service. Members have made baby clothes for needy families, sold T.E. Seals at the Post Office, sang carols for shut-ins and helped with decorations at Santa Land.

Girls in the troop are: Cheryl Erhard, Lorraine Garrison, Mary
Lou Jard, Jane Keeney, Paula Scarborough, Connie Tillet, Hazel
Tucker, Diane Wilson and Ginny Woodward. Mrs. Melba Tillet is Co-leader for the troop.

TROOP NO. 230 MRS. S. KRANTZ AND MRS. ALBERT LADER- BERG CO-LEADERS

At our recent meeting, the whole troop paid a very important visit to Little Jackie Allen, age 5, who has been blind since birth. A doll and a complete wardrobe made by the girls with the aid of their Mothers, was presented to Jackie at that time. Jackie was thrilled as she dressed and undressed the doll and it wasn't long before she knew each girl by name by feeling their faces. We were very thrilled to have met such a sweet little girl and hope to visit with her again real soon.

An election took place and the new officers are as follows: Pres:
Ann Simpson; V. Pres: Diana Furnass; Treas: Jackie Lemley; Color Guards: Nancy Day, Mary Payne, Gail Edge. At this time a special thanks to Mrs. Simpson and Mrs.
Furnass for conducting last week's meeting.

Once again an appeal must be made for volunteers for Brownie and Girl Scout leaders. There are so many girls, who we must refuse due to the lack of leaders. Think of your children an give up one afternoon a week for them—Girl Scouting is a must in their bringing up.

Edith started the policy of dropping beavers from planes in hotelled regions, to build dams to regulate flow of streams. Believe it or not, it works.

Reincarnation

"The Evidence For Reincarnation" will be the topic of Hugh

R. E. TOWNSEND, Complainant
IN CHANCERY
A. S. NELSON, et al, Defendants

Order of Publication
The object of the above styled suit is that a partition of the real property, which is the subject matter of this suit, be made by the Court in one of the modes prescribed by law and if such be impracticable, that the property be sold by the Court in this cause and the proceeds divided amongst those entitled thereto.

All those certain lots of land in Kempsville Magisterial District, Princess Anne County, Virginia, designated as Lot Numbers twenty-eight (28) and twenty-nine (29), Block Number twenty-six (26) according to the map of Euclid Place, of record in the Clerk's Office of the Circuit Court of Princess Anne County, Virginia, being the same property conveyed to Cleland K. Nelson, Sr. by Home Realty Company by deed dated March 4, 1912, of record in the Clerk's Office in Deed Book 88, page 276.

It appearing from the averments of the Bill of Complaint filed herein and by Affidavit duly filed:

FIRST: That the last known address of A. S. Nelson and Douglas Nelson is Lynchburg, Virginia.

SECOND: That the City Sergeant of the City of Lynchburg has made a return that he has had the subpoenas in chancery in this cause in his hands for twenty-one days and has been unable to locate the said A. S. Nelson or Ellen Douglas Nelson or make service thereon.

THIRD: That Sallie Carter and J. Frank Nelson are not residents of the State of Virginia; that their last known addresses are: Sallie Carter, Lion County, Florida, and J. Frank Nelson, sometimes known as Frank Nelson, Canawha County, West Virginia.

FOURTH: That the defendants in this suit may have been married and if so the names of their respective consorts are unknown and their last known post office addresses are unknown. That some of them may have died leaving heirs, devisees or personal representatives. If so, the names of said heirs, devisees or personal representatives are unknown and their last known post office addresses are unknown.

It is therefore Ordered that the above named persons, if living, and if dead, their heirs, devisees and personal representatives, and if married, their respective consorts, and all persons other than those herein named, who are or might be interested in the real estate to be disposed of in this suit, whose names are unknown, do appear within ten days after due publication of this notice and do what is necessary to protect their interests. It is further Ordered that the foregoing portion of this order be published once a week for four (4) successive weeks in the Virginia Beach Sun-News, a newspaper published in the City of Virginia Beach, Virginia.

VEPCO . . .

The number of customers served by Virginia Electric and Power Company passed the three-quarter million mark in the year just ended.

Veeco President, Erwin H. Will said the utility at the end of the year was supplying electric service to 888,000 customers and gas service to nearly 89,000 customers for a combined total of 774,000. This represents an increase of 35,000 customers during the year.

The company serves gas as well as electricity in the Norfolk and Newport News areas supplies electricity to customers throughout most of Virginia, the Eastern fringe of West Virginia and North-eastern North Carolina.

Customers served by Veeco have nearly doubled in the past ten years. Electrical customers on December 31, 1946, numbered 385,000 and gas customers 54,000 for a total of 439,000.

Residents of Veeco's service area, too, have more than doubled the amount of electricity used in individual homes.

Will said the average residential customer of Veeco in 1946 used 1,442 kilowatt hours of electricity. During the twelve months ended in October, the latest 12-month period for which comparative figures are available, the average residential customer of the company consumed 2,215 kilowatt hours.

This compares with a national average of 2,842 kilowatt hours for that period. Will added.

He said this record growth, both in number of customers and individual use, has required record spending by Veeco over the past ten years.

Their first meeting of the new year, Thursday evening, January 10th at the Kempsville Community Center.

The program was under the direction of the Public Affairs Chairman, Mrs. Cliff C. Fanning. First on the program were the Brownie Scouts of Troop 231, which are sponsored by the club. This troop presented a short selection of their favorite songs. Mrs. Lyman Clarke, of the Kempsville Woman's Club spoke on the "General Federation of Women's Clubs", after which Mrs. Chester Bamforth demonstrated the art of making a corsage.

BAYLAKE PINES GARDEN CLUB

The Baylake Pines Garden Club held their regular meeting, Wednesday night, January 9, at 8:00 P.M. at the Bayside Christian Church, on Greenwell Road.

Mrs. J. F. Reynolds was appointed Sunshine Chairman of the club.

A special committee composed of Mrs. John V. Sutton and Mrs. W. E. McIlveen, was appointed at the December meeting, to look into the needs, and making a cheerful Christmas for someone. The ladies reported Wednesday night that they took care of one family with nine children. Food and gifts were distributed to them. They also reported that they visited the Cavalry Nursing Home and took a Christmas tree there as well as gifts for each patient and fruit and candy.

Mr. Arthur Lancaster, Jr., from Coleman Nursery talked to the club and showed them slides on landscaping and European Gardens.

THE WOMAN'S CLUB OF CHESAPEAKE BEACH

The Woman's Club of Chesapeake Beach met Tuesday afternoon, Jan. 8 at 1:00 P.M. at Shore Drive Inn for a luncheon meeting. The president, Mrs. Oscar Edmondson, presided.

A nominating committee was elected. They are as follows: Mrs. H. W. Fulford, Mrs. T. B. Petty, Mrs. W. B. Meekins, Mrs. R. B. Hines and Mrs. O. A. Freund. The Committee will bring a slate of officers at the February meeting.

Mrs. Frederick Rieder was re-elected to serve on the Building Committee for a three year term.

This being Polio Month, Mrs. R. J. Webbon, Welfare Chairman, announced the following activities: On Sunday, January 20th members of the Woman's Club will be at the Shore Drive Inn to collect for the "March of Dimes." Saturday night, January 12th the pre-teens and teen-agers are invited to a polio dance given by Miss Janet King, at the Lee Manor Hotel. The Woman's Club of Chesapeake will hold their annual Polio Dance, Saturday night, January 26th at 9:00 P.M. at the Chesapeake Beach Community Center. Again this year the members of the Woman's Club will participate in the Mothers March on January 31.

Mrs. W. H. Gaylor, youth chairman, announced that the pre-teens will hold their regular dance, Saturday night, January 19th, at the Chesapeake Beach Community Center, from 7:30 to 9:30 P.M.

Mrs. Lucille Clark, Princess Anne County chairman of the Polio Foundation talked to the club on polio. She stressed the importance of the Salk vaccine.

Miss Betty Burton, child welfare worker in Princess Anne County, spoke to the club on the Welfare program in the county. She said the Welfare Department takes care of disabled persons, the blind, old age, foster care for children, hospitalization, adoption, court work, juvenile delinquents and general relief, that is groceries, clothing, fuel, etc.

She said there were around fifty juvenile delinquents in the Princess Anne County courts last year. A musical program was presented by two Shelton Park pupils, Waylon Webbon and Danny Rabb. They played the clarinet and saxophone.

BAYSIDE JUNIOR WOMAN'S CLUB

The Bayside Junior Woman's Club met Tuesday night, January 8, at 8:00 P.M. at the Bayside Christian Church.

The club is planning a joint dance with the Bayside Junior Chamber of Commerce, to be held Saturday night February 9, at 9:00 P.M. at the Chesapeake Beach Community Center. The chairman and co-chairman for the dance are: Mrs. Forrest P. Old and Jack Hecks.

The club voted to send $5.00 and cancelled stamps to veterans in hospitals.

Mrs. J. S. Hoots will hold a benefit "coffee for polio" on Wednesday, January 16 at 10:00 A.M. at her home 1517 North James St. Club members will also participate in the Mother's March.

Edward Douglas, guest speaker, discussed meat merchandizing. He said "the sweetness of price is not worth the bitterness of poor quality." A new member Mrs. E. B. Brown, was welcomed.

The members of the club staged a "crazy hat contest." The winner was Mrs. T. J. Campbell. She wore an Elvis Presley fan hat. It was composed of a child's stuffed dog and miniature guitar, tied on with a big red ribbon. Around the dogs neck was a sign "Ain't nothin' but a Mound dog!" Honorable mention went to Mrs. J. S. Hoots for her "tea and cookies" hat and Mrs. R. D. Mickelson for her "Story of my life." The hat show was very original and showed everything from Christmas packages to pots and pans!

Judges for the hat show were from the Chesapeake Beach Woman's Club. They were: Mrs. H.W. Fulford, Mrs. O. T. Edmondson and Mrs. E. E. Hudson.

LAKE JOYCE GARDEN CLUB

The Lake Joyce Garden Club met on Wednesday, January 9, at the home of Mrs. S. M. Parker, on Lake Smith.

Mrs. C. M. Hodgman, Jr. was welcomed as a new member.

Mrs. M. K. Crockett spoke on "Principles of Landscaping."

The Lake Joyce Club will sponsor a coffee hour on Tuesday, January 15 at 10:30 A.M. at the home of Mrs. Everett P. Seay, Lake Smith, for the "March of Dimes" campaign.

Mrs. W. C. Griffin gave a critical analysis on the arrangements and horticulture.

The following were awarded ribbons for arrangements: Mrs. E. P. Seay, Mrs. R. L. Beale, Jr., Mrs. Cecil H. Reed, Mrs. Vernon Watts, Mrs. J. L. Jernigan and Mrs. S. M. Parker. Ribbons for horticulture were awarded Mrs. R. J. Rhodes and Mrs. C. M. Hodgman, Jr.

BAYLAKE PINE CIVIC LEAGUE

The Baylake Pines Civic League will meet Friday night, January 18 at 8:00 P.M. at the Y.M.C.A. Beach Club.

The civic league will have as their speaker for the evening a representative from the C.E.P. Telephone Company who will talk to the group on better future service.

Comd. Hal Pherault, Chairman of the Wildlife committee will report what progress is being made to eliminate the useless fish in Lake Joyce and what will be done to restock the lake.

COFFEE HOUR FOR POLIO

Mrs. E. A. Hudson and Mrs. J. A. Bible were hostesses at a "Coffee Hour for Polio," Friday January 11 at the home of Mrs. Hudson on Lake Drive, Chesapeake Beach.

$15.00 was realized from this project, to swell the march of dimes. The guest were not only treated to coffee and doughnuts but also to Smithfield Ham rolls and sweetpotato biscuits. In addition to some of the Woman's Club members, the Maude Fulford Golden Circle members were present. Other "Coffee Hours for Polio" are being planned by members of the Woman's Club of Chesapeake Beach.

Cape Henry Woman's Club

The January meeting of the Cape Henry Woman's Club was held Thursday Jan. 10, Princess Anne County Club.

Mrs. Wallace T. Clark, American Home, Chairman spoke on the American Home and presented a food fair. Members brought proven receipts which were on display and exchanged by members participating. Mrs. Clark stressed the importance to every one taking the Polio Vaccine. Miss Phyllis Jones a teacher in the Cook School played several accordion solos. The Club donated $10.00 to CARE for Hungarian Relief and added $28.71 to the March of Dimes fund by the sale of blue crutches.

Arriola, the 16th-century German "father of mineralogy," popularized the term "rossi!" It comes from the Latin rosselli, meaning "dug up."

Chevrolet shows you some important differences in low-priced cars just by the look on its face!

There's a look of substance and character and quality about that new Chevrolet front end that reveals a lot. Feel the strength and solidity of the grille and you learn even more.

Wouldn't you say that most of the '57 cars look good from 50 feet away, but what about from 50 inches away? What does a close-up of the grille tell you, for example? Is it solidly made like the new Chevrolet grille? Or, in comparison does it look less rich in design—feel less strong and solid? Compare the quality and construction of the bumpers and headlights, the fit of the chrome trim.

The more closely you look all around the car, the more clearly you'll see that Chevrolet has the edge in the way it's put together. You'll find, for instance, that Chevrolet is the only car in its field with a lacquer finish... that only Chevrolet Bel Air models give you foam rubber cushions in front and rear seats as standard equipment. These are just a few of the advantages of Body by Fisher. And Chevrolet, you know, is the only low-priced car that has a Fisher Body.

We'll be glad to give you a close-up, comparative look at this new Chevy any time you care to come in. This week, maybe?

COMING EVENTS

The New Year will start off afire for those Virginia farmers who are convention-conscious.

Underway this week (January 7-10) is a dairy management short course at VPI. Next week, the Virginia State Horticultural Society will meet in Roanoke, January 14-16, and the State Soil Conservation District Supervisor's Association will meet in Bristol, January 15-17.

Other events this month include annual conference, Dairy Products Association, Roanoke, January 21-22; annual conference, Virginia State Dairymen's Association, Roanoke, January 24-25; annual short course for nurserymen, VPI, January 21-26; annual meeting, Southern Virginia Purebred Sheep Breeders' Association, Bland, January 23; and annual meeting, Valley-Northern Purebred Sheep Breeders' Association, Staunton.

Scheduled for February are: swine sale, Winchester, February 8; annual meeting, Virginia Feeder Calf Sale Association, Natural Bridge, February 11; swine sale, Tappahannock, February 12; annual meeting, Virginia Beekeepers' Association, Winchester, February 14-15; and annual pasture school, for dairymen and livestock producers, Middleburg branch, VPI Agricultural Experiment Station, February 26-27.

NOMINATIONS BEING RECEIVED FOR RURAL SAFETY AWARDS

Nominations for groups and individuals to get awards for work in rural safety are now being received by the Virginia Rural Safety Council.

Nomination blanks are available from the office of Pick Butler, secretary, Virginia Rural Safety Council, Box 2-B, Richmond. All nominations must be in by February 1.

The awards will be made at an annual luncheon meeting of the Council to be held March 4 in Richmond, in conjunction with the Southern Safety Conference. L. L. Koonce, Roanoke, chairman of the Rural Safety Council, who will preside at the luncheon session, says all interested in rural safety are invited to attend. A joint meeting of the home, school, youth, and rural sections is scheduled for Monday afternoon, March 4.

Principal speaker at the luncheon will be Mrs. Agnes D. Boston, director, Woman's Division, Automotive Safety Foundation, Washington, D. C., who will discuss the homemaker's role as the family's safety engineer.

At the joint session in the afternoon speakers will include J. Robert Anderson, Virginia Department of Health, Richmond, and Hiram Smith, Governor's Highway Safety Committee. Also scheduled are two panel discussions to be moderated by P. H. DeHart, assistant director, VPI Agricultural Extension Service, and Henry M. Hambrecht, Jr., State Department of Education.

MORE ANIMALS PER ACRE CAN MEAN MORE DISEASES

More animals per acre (the modern-day agricultural trend) can also mean more disease trouble, if the farmer doesn't follow some preventive practices.

When a disease outbreak does occur, it is more severe where livestock populations are concentrated than where there are few animals.

The trend toward more animals per acre has brought along with it more emphasis on preventive medicine. If every farmer would use his veterinarian first to outline a program to prevent animal maladies, and then follow that program faithfully, instead of waiting until trouble looms before calling for medical help, he would get more per dollar spent for veterinary aid than he does at the present time, the specialists say.

Procedures will vary with individual farms, but generally speaking, you should:

1. Isolate for 30 to 60 days all animals brought before adding them to the herd; then retest them for TB, brucellosis, etc., as seems indicated.

2. Raise calves under proper conditions (individual pens, or pens for only a limited number, etc.).

3. For hogs, use the routine vaccinations available, and provide proper farrowing quarters.

4. Attend to cleanliness, sanitation, and proper nutrition—important safeguards against disease.

MORE FARMERS RAISING CHRISTMAS TREES FOR CASH THAN EVER BEFORE

More farmers are raising Christmas trees for a cash crop than ever before, according to survey of the Christmas tree industry conducted by the U.S. Forest Service.

Interest in Virginia is keeping pace with that in the rest of the nation.

Farmers own about 70 percent of the 225,500 acres planted solely to Christmas trees. About 35 percent of the naturally wooded or pasture lands which supplied 87 percent of the Christmas trees cut in the country last year are owned by farmers.

This increased interest in growing Christmas trees results from a steadily rising demand for them. The survey shows that more than 37,000,000 Christmas trees were used in this country last year as compared to 28,000,000 in 1947. Of those used in 1955, over 25,000,000 were cut in the United States — for the most part in states along the Canadian border. The rest came from Canada.

Still the most popular trees are Douglas fir, balsam fir, eastern red cedar, black spruce, and Scotch pine, in that order. Prices reported in the survey show that Christmas trees produced in 1955 would amount to a $25,500,000 wholesale business, or a $47,500,000 retail business. To the producer, they were valued at nearly $13,000,000 at the roadside or railroad siding.

As the supply of wild trees diminishes, the farmers' interest in producing Christmas trees as a cash crop likely will continue to increase.

It's a dear bargain when you carry automobile insurance in a company that isn't licensed in every state in the country and that can't serve you wherever you go.

We have a hunch you'd rather BUY FROM AN AGENT who places your insurance in companies that have facilities all over the country so that you can have "home town" treatment no matter where you may be.

That's how this Agency conducts its business.

THEY'RE GOING TO STICK A NEEDLE IN ME

Yes, Sonny, we do it all the time! Mommie holds you in her lap. And that nice, friendly doctor gets the needle ready. Then... OUCH! And there's one less disease for you to worry about.

If only it were that easy to protect you from some of the other diseases that infect the world... the plagues that eat away man's moral and spiritual fibre.

But religion can't be injected with a needle! So it requires wise parents, and Christian homes, and worshipping families, and vigorous churches to get you ready for a happy life.

Better take it up Sunday with your folks: ISN'T IT TIME FOR ALL OF US TO GO TO CHURCH?

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For the sake of his community and nation. (3) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Blake - MacFarland Marriage Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Preston Blake of Norfolk announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Florence Rachel Blake, to James MacFarland, son of Mrs. Alfred A. Phillips of Santa Barbara, Calif. The ceremony took place Monday, January seventh, at 1 P.M. in Encenada, Mexico.

Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon are residing in Los Angeles.

The bride is a former resident of Virginia Beach and is the niece of Mrs. William L. Morrisette of Pinewood Road. She received her B. A. degree from Longwood College in 1955 and is presently attending the Claremont Graduate School of Associated Colleges in Claremont, Calif., where she is a candidate for M.A. degree.

Mr. Sheldon is a graduate of Inland Preparatory School, Santa Ynez, Calif.; and of Pomona College, Claremont, Calif., class of 1954. He recently returned after serving two years with the Army in Germany.

Engagements

Dr. and Mrs. Milton A. Clark of Norfolk and Virginia Beach announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Arlene Sandra Clark, to 1st Lt. Jack Rephan, USAF, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rephan of Little Rock, Ark.

Lieutenant Rephan received his Bachelor of Science degree at the University of Virginia, where he was a member of Phi Kappa Phi social fraternity. He is now serving with the United States Army at Fort Eustis. A June wedding is planned.

PA Country Club Holds Party

The Princess Anne County Club will hold a 40th anniversary party at the club on January 26. Charter members of the Club will be among those in the receiving line. A special dance team and vocalist will render dances and songs from the years 1917 to 1957. The party will begin with a cocktail hour at 6 o'clock followed by dinner and dancing from 9 to midnight. A Sunday-night buffet at the club will be held this Sunday from 6:30 to 9 o'clock.

Personal Mention

Mrs. R. Stanley Holland has returned to her home on 7th Street after spending several days in Richmond with Mr. Holland's sister, Mrs. J. Norman Bowen.

Mrs. D. Conrad Little is spending several days in Richmond this week as the guest of Mrs. H. Godwin Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. William Darden will leave tomorrow to spend the week-end in Mt. Airy, N. C. with their son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. Tilmann C. Bytt. From there they will leave for Naples, Fla. where they will be joined on Tuesday by Mr. and Mrs. James Beasley.

Mr. and Mrs. Julian B. Peason of Rudee Heights have left to spend the winter season in their new home at Pompano Beach, Fla.

Lt. Cmdr. and Mrs. Alvin Meints and Leslie Meints of Crystal Parkway, Bay Colony have left to spend some time in Key West, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Skinner Jr., and little daughter, Cotton Skinner, of Greenville, N. C. spent last week-end as the guests of Mr. Skinner's sister-in-law, Mrs. Louis Skinner at her home in the Mayflower Apartments.

Mrs. Louis Gray left yesterday to visit her sister and brother-in-law Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Lane in Richmond and her nephew A. Rem Lane, Jr. and Mrs. Lane in Ocean City, Md.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Webb, of Great Neck Road, have left to spend several months at West Palm Beach, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Kessel, who were married on January 15th at the First Baptist Church, are spending their honeymoon at Gettysburg, Pennsylvania. On their return they will be at home at 533 High Point Avenue, Virginia Beach.

Mrs. Kessel is the former Miss Kathryn Blake, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Blake, Jr., also of Virginia Beach, Virginia.

supply at the blood center is dangerously low because of the recent holidays. The Bloodmobile will be at the Community House, 18th and Arctic Ave., on Monday, January 28th from noon until six o'clock. Anyone desiring transportation to and from the community House may call the Red Cross office, Virginia Beach 938. There will be baby sitters at the Community House to look after small children. The length of time for donation is about 45 minutes.

Mrs. David H. Batchelder, Blood Program Chairman, has pointed out that one of the many uses of blood is Gamma Globulin. This is a derivative of whole blood and is used for immunization to anyone that has been exposed to poliomyelitis, measles or infectious hepatitis.

A new record was set at Fort Story at the last visit of the Tidewater Regional Red Cross Blood-

Jr. Women Elect Committee

The January business meeting of the Junior Women's Club of Princess Anne County was held Tuesday, January 8th at the Community House with Mrs. William Ferrell, president, presiding.

The following members were elected to serve on the nominating committee: Mrs. Art Colenda, Mrs. Paul Maestas, Mrs. Samuel Perdue, Mrs. William Snider, Mrs. Doris Eberhard, and Mrs. Gordon Potter.

Plans are well underway for the forthcoming Presentation of the "Follies of 1957", to be held at the Princess Anne High School on February first and second.

Mrs. John Davis, Public Welfare Chairman, and her committee conferred with officials at Eastern State Hospital in Williamsburg last week. It was recommended and voted upon by the club, that a committee be appointed by the President to look into the feasibility of planning a concrete educational program on an After Care Clinic and Mental Hygiene Clinic in the county. Mrs. John Dennis and her committee delivered material for therapy, clothing, and magazines to Eastern State Hospital.

Mrs. Ferrell appointed Mrs. John Anderson to serve as chairman of the Library Drive Committee, and the following members to serve with her: Mrs. T. H. Caffery, Mrs. C. B. Mason, Mrs. James A. Sadler, Mrs. Joseph G. Sadler, and Mrs. J. A. Colenda.

R. Bradshaw Pulley was named chairman of the Board of the Princess Anne County Chapter of the American Red Cross. Pulley will fill the unexpired term of Will D. Baugh until the annual meeting of the chapter held in the spring when elections will be held. At the Board meeting on Wednesday, January 9th it was announced that Princess Anne County chapter has met its quota for Hungarian Relief and that National Red Cross has sent a plea for anything that people might like to donate. Any donations may be taken to the Red Cross office at the Community House, 18th and Arctic Ave. or call Virginia Beach 938.

A new record was set at Fort Story at the last visit of the Tidewater Regional Red Cross Blood-mobile. 400 men showed up to donate blood and there were 268 pints accepted. The large number of rejects was due to many men having colds and also many had received various inoculations within the last seven days. Major Alfred R. Campbell, USA and his 14th Transportation Battalion turned out en masse, 382 men and 16 officers. Volunteer personnel and workers from the Blood center worked through lunch up until 4 o'clock. The visit is usually over at 12:00 noon.

Ray Cassett has announced that the Virginia Beach Lions Club will sponsor the next visit of the Tidewater Regional Bloodmobile to Princess Anne County. The Lions are sponsoring this visit in the name of Al Craft, Sr. who is in a Charlottesville hospital after major surgery. Craft has received many pints of blood and this blood is taken from the Tidewater Regional Blood center. Charlottesville being included in this region. Each Lion will donate a pint and also bring in one other donor. The quota for Princess Anne County is 125 pints and it is hoped that more will be collected. The supply at the blood center is dangerously low because of the recent holidays. It was recommended and voted upon by the club, that a committee be appointed by the President to look into the feasibility of planning a concrete educational program on an After Care Clinic and Mental Hygiene Clinic in the county. Mrs. John Dennis and her committee delivered material for therapy, clothing, and magazines to Eastern State Hospital.

Mrs. Ferrell appointed Mrs. John Anderson to serve as chairman of the Library Drive Committee, and the following members to serve with her: Mrs. T. H. Caffery, Mrs. C. B. Mason, Mrs. James A. Sadler, Mrs. Joseph G. Sadler, and Mrs. J. A. Colenda.

R. Bradshaw Pulley was named chairman of the Board of the Princess Anne County Chapter of the American Red Cross. Pulley will fill the unexpired term of Will D. Baugh until the annual meeting of the chapter held in the spring when elections will be held. At the Board meeting on Wednesday, January 9th it was announced that Princess Anne County chapter has met its quota for Hungarian Relief and that National Red Cross has sent a plea for anything that people might like to donate. Any donations may be taken to the Red Cross office at the Community House, 18th and Arctic Ave. or call Virginia Beach 938.

The MIXING BOWL..

IT'S Fun TO COOK

By LUCILE CLARK
SUN-NEWS FOOD EDITOR

For the very latest in food fads and foibles... for practical, down-to-earth recipes that please both palate and pocketbook, read the "Mixing Bowl" by Lucile Clark each Thursday in the Sun-News.

Nearly all of us like to travel. A stroll through the ancient Streets of Rome, a visit to a sidewalk cafe in Paris, a glimpse of the market place in Cairo—these are indeed inviting dreams. But if it isn't possible to make these dreams come true, don't forget that coffee can help bring the world to you.

Try making Italian Coffee in a Macchinetta or you might be sitting in a Florentine coffee house. Combine strong coffee & hot milk in the same cup, nibble a croissant—that's the cafe au lait breakfast you'd be having on the French Riviera. We'll also have a cup of Coffee in New Orleans, Ireland, Turkey, Hawaii & Vienna. We've even included a frosty cooler that would please an Eskimo!

Italian Coffee
The best known of all "foreign" Coffees is the Italian version. It is often called "Caffe Espresso" although technically, this is always made in an Espresso machine. Italian Coffee is an excellent after-dinner demitasse.

4 standard Coffee measures (8 level tablespoons) Italian or French-roast pulverized coffee
1½ cups water

A drip pot may be used, but a macchinetta is best. This coffee-making device consists of 2 cylinders, one with a spout & a coffee sieve between them (a two tiered maker). Measure coffee into to sieve. Put together with cylinder having the spout on top, and with measured water in lower cylinder. Place on heat & wait for small opening in lower cylinder to steam. Then remove from heat & turn the macchinetta upside down until all the brew has dripped through. Serve in demitasse cups or 4 oz glasses with a twist of lemon peel & sugar - never with cream - makes 4 demitasse servings.

Cafe au lait is the breakfast drink of France. Every tourist enjoys a Continental breakfast on his first morning in France - fruit, cafe au lait and fresh croissants. 1½ cups strong, hot - freshly brewed coffee 1½ cups hot, rich milk.
Use two p-ts, pour, simultaneously into cups. Makes 4 servings.
Cafe Brulot Diabolique

No New Orleans visit is complete without a dinner at Antoine's. And that dinner won't be complete until you have the spectacular "specialite de la maison. Cafe Brulot Diabolique".

8 pieces of lump sugar
8 whole cloves
1 1-inch cinnamon stick
1 cut-up lemon peel
4 jiggers cognac brandy
4 cups demitasse coffee.
Place all ingredients, except hot demitasse coffee, in chafing dish. Ignite Cognac with match & stir ingredients until well blended. After a minute or two, slowly pour in the hot black coffee & continue to stir. (In winter, heat brandy before using) makes 4 servings! To serve, strain into Brulot or demitasse cups. This was given by special permission, Antoine's New Orleans.

Irish Coffee
Irish Coffee traveled from Shannon, Ireland straight to San Francisco - and from there to the rest of the United States.

Strong Black Coffee
Irish Whiskey
Slightly whipped cream
Fine granulated sugar.
Into a warmed tall wine glass, place 2 teaspoons of sugar and fill glasses about ¾ full with hot coffee. Mix - add about 2 tablespoons of Irish Whiskey & top with softly whipped cream - make 11 servings.

Trish Coffee
In the Near East, coffee is served in tiny cups about the size of an egg shell. Each guest is sure to get his share of the creamy foam formed on the coffee. In Arabia this is called "the face of the coffee" and you lose face if you serve coffee without it.

1½ cups water
4 teaspoons sugar
4 tablespoons finely pulverized coffee
Measure water into heavy sauce pan. Add sugar bring to a boil, stir in coffee. Allow brew to froth up 3 times then remove from heat. Add a few drops of cold water. Spoon some of the foam into to each cup & pour in the coffee. Makes 4 demitasse servings.

Frosted Coffee Hawaii
Coffee comes from the tropics & so does pineapple juice. Here they meet in a delicious summertime cooler.
2 cups strong cold coffee
1 cup chilled pineapple juice
1 pint soft coffee ice cream
Combine ingredients & beat thoroughly with a rotary egg beater or electric blender until mixture is smooth & foamy. Pour into tall glasses - make 4-5 servings.

Viennese Coffee
The Viennese enjoy many versions of their world - renowned coffee. They may drink it spiced with addition of little or much hot milk or plain, but always with a "drift of Schlagobier - what's that? Its Viennese for whipped cream. Here's the simplest recipe:
Brew extra - strength coffee, sweeten to taste & top with "Schlagobier" - that is whipped cream.

Can't resist giving you a recipe for Coffee Coconut Cream Pie - sounds so good.
½ cup all-purpose flour
½ cup sugar
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup coffee
1 cup evaporated milk
3 egg yolks
2 tablespoons butter or margarine

1 teaspoon vanilla
½ cups shredded coconut
Coffee Coconut Shell.
Combine flour, sugar & salt thoroughly in top of double boiler. Add Coffee & milk gradually, & blend thoroughly - and when mixture is hot at a little of it to lightly beaten egg yolks & return to double boiler. Cook 2 minutes stirring constantly when it is thick remove from fire, add butter & vanilla & 1 cup coconut. Cool. Pour into Coffee Shell - Garnish with whipped cream & remaining ½ cup coconut - toasted.

Coffee Coconut Shell
1 can coconut, shredded fine chop a little if you wish, I think it's easier to work with.
Strong-hot coffee
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
Empty can of coconut into bowl - Add enough strong, hot coffee to barely cover. Let stand five minutes, then drain well. Pat dry between layers of absorbent paper. Rub butter or margarine on bottom & sides of 9-inch pie pan & press coconut on buttered pan. Bake in moderate oven - 350°F. 10 minutes - cool.

Mocha Balls
½ 7-ounce box of vanilla wafers
2 cups confectioners' sugar
½ cup finely chopped pecans
2 tablespoons cocoa
¼ cup heavy cream
¼ cup double strength coffee
Crush or roll vanilla wafers into very fine crumbs (should be 2 cups). Add sugar & mix well. Stir in, almonds & cocoa. Add cream & coffee. Mix well & shape into balls about ¾ inch in diameter. Roll the balls in additional confectioners' sugar - (Do not bake). Makes about 4 dozen.

I hope you hear these treasured words regularly - "Now - there's a cup of Good Coffee." True-hey must be earned - but the earning is a simple matter if you're willing to keep a few fundamentals in mind & follow them consistently. In the United States & Canada we like our coffee clear & fragrant, strong but not bitter. We like our hot coffee really hot. And we like it plentiful - enough so we can say "Thanks, I will have another" when the first cup is finished. Bye - now - it's been so much fun chatting about Coffee-I've learned so many things I didn't know-Have you?

New York City spends more money on governmental affairs now, than our Federal Government spent in any year up to 1917.

People seem to find it easiest to criticize in others what generally is their own greatest fault. Thus, the town drunkard is usually the first to see the Leading Citizen step inside a saloon, and the town gossip is usually the first to blame others for practicing her trade.

BAYSIDE BAPTIST CHURCH

The Bayside Baptist church held "Constitution Day" service, Sunday afternoon, January 6 at 3:00 P.M. The service of Constitution was led by Dr. John A. Brown, Superintendent of Missions, Norfolk Baptist Association.

Wayne K. Williams, Chairman of Deacons, Norview Baptist Church read a history of the Bayside chapel. The chapel was started by the Norview Baptist Church in co-operation with the Norfolk Baptist Association, in December 1954. The church has 190 members. 335 are enrolled in the Sunday School, 72 enrolled in the training union and 37 enrolled in the Woman's Missionary Union.

The presentation of church letters was given by Mrs. Audrey Nock, Church Secretary, Norview Baptist Church.

The declaration of the Church Covenant was given by Rev. John R. Wright, pastor.

The congregation voted to call the church the "Bayside Baptist church." To affiliate with the Norfolk Baptist Association and the Southern Baptist Convention. To retain all elected officers of the church and Sunday School. To make January "Charter Membership" month. The Rev. John R. Wright, has been called as pastor of the church.

Army Engineers Asked To Make Erosion Study

Virginia Beach will ask the United States Army Engineers to make a further study of the beach erosion problem which has plagued this city for many years as a result of action taken by the City Council at its regular meeting Monday afternoon.

The request was interpreted as a means for getting additional federal aid in financing the beach erosion project here since the City has conducted a continual battle against erosion of its beach front. Several years ago, the Federal government gave $228,000 toward the effort to replenish sand along the beach. Since then, it has been necessary to maintain pumping continuously to maintain the beach.

In other action, the Council appropriated $1,286 for engineering which finally defined the municipal boundary lines on the south end of the beach.

City Manager W. Russell Hatcher said that with the engineers' new findings, it appears a bridge over Rude's Inlet, now lies half within the county and therefore within the jurisdiction of the State Highway Department.

Hatcher has sent the Highway

Department a $9,000 bill for repairs made to the Rude's Inlet bridge.

Final Council approval was given to new taxes on utilities—10 per cent on telephone, electric power and gas bills, up to certain limits.

A controversy had been holding up enactment of the gas tax bill. Many residents objected on grounds they use large quantities of gas for heating.

In the final draft, the gas tax ordinance specifically excludes gas used entirely for heating purposes. The tax is applied to the gross amount of bills up to $6 a month. Both the electric power and telephone taxes apply to bills up to $12 a month.

National Education Specialist Confers With Local Educators

Friday, January 25, and Monday, January 28, are days in the Princess Anne County-Virginia Beach City School Division that teachers go to school, though not in their usual role, to teach and guide children, for there will be no pupils in attendance. With all pupils at home, the principals, classroom teachers, and supervisory staff will have two days to devote to their professional growth and to further planning for the remainder of the school term.

"Frost to Teach" is the theme

W. H. Gaylord New First Citizen Chesapeake Beach

William H. Gaylord is the new first citizen of Chesapeake Beach. He was awarded the honor last week at the annual meeting of the Chesapeake Beach Men's Club held in the Community House there.

Presentation of the award to Gaylord was made by Richard J. Webber, a past recipient of the honor. The meeting also served as the installation dinner.

The group was addressed by Princess Anne County Circuit Court Judge Floyd E. Kellam who spoke on the responsibility of good citizenship.

New officers of the club for 1957 were installed by Mack Wilkins, the club's first president. New officers include Pete Harmon, president; Joe Gibson, vice-president; Bill Gaylord, secretary; and Luther Rieder, treasurer.

Elected to the board of directors were "Hun" Loftin, Lundy Lester, Bill Blade, R. J. Webber and John Simpson. A dance followed the meeting.

Planning Mother's March

Scheduled for Friday and Saturday nights, 8:15 P. M., February 1-2, in the Princess Anne High School Auditorium, the major proceeds from "Follies" will be used for the new library now in early planning stages.

Following the Saturday night performance, a Carolee Dance is planned to climax the festivities. Dance will be held in the Cavalier Room of the Cavalier Hotel, for which you make reservations now by phoning 1208, 3777-W, or 1674.

These young mothers, members of the Princess Anne Woman's Club and the Cavalier Junior Woman's Club, are planning the annual Mother's March on Polio to be staged on January 31. The ladies are Mrs. Ralph W. Carper, Mrs. William F. Ferrell, Mrs. E. George Middleton, Jr. and Mrs. Marvin Bruce Jones.

Follies Theme a Secret

One of the Follies cast is shown as they line up under the direction of Spence Rawlerson, an associate of Cargill Productions. The "Follies", sponsored by the Junior Woman's Club of Princess Anne County will be presented on the nights of February 1 and 2 at the Princess Anne High School. Proceeds will go to the library fund started by the club.

Follies Chairmen See Success

With little more than a week before the "Follies", the musical comedy presentation sponsored by the Junior Woman's Club of Princess Anne County, Mrs. Harvey M. Williams, general chairman, states that she is receiving enthusiastic reports from her chairmen.

Mrs. Samuel J. Perdue, program chairman, and her committee, have completed their laborious task of procuring the essential information and advertising space, and happily announce that the program is in the hands of the printer.

Mrs. L. C. Brennan, ticket chairman, states that the demand for tickets is moving at an accelerated tempo . . . and suggests that those who wish black seats should purchase them immediately—at Ingram's Pharmacy, through a Junior Woman, or by phoning her at 4773-J.

Mrs. Samuel Mason and Mrs. Robert Molloy, patron chairmen, today released their patron list, comprised of those persons invited to serve as patrons for the "Follies", of which more than one hundred have graciously accepted, and a few additional names are expected.

Mrs. Gordon Potter, costume chairman, describes the costumes as "heavenly"—like something from "My Fair Lady". These were arranged for by Cargill Productions, Inc. in conjunction with a costume-designing manufacturer.

The "Follies" is a musical comedy with a sprinkling of local color to provide a lot of saucy and spicy laughs. The theme of the show is top-secret material, but anyone lucky enough to sit on a couple of rehearsals, will predict that it's the best "Follies" yet.

One chorus line who refer to themselves as SWAN'S consist of: Clara (Mrs. William) Snider, Martha (Mrs. William F.) Ferrell, Artie (Mrs. S. J.) Perdue, Jerry (Mrs. Aton) Colenda, Shipley (Mrs. R. R.) McChesney, Jackie (Mrs. F. M.) Durham, Jr. (Mrs. Wm. F.) Kellam, Shirley (Mrs. Donald) Fantone, Evelyn (Mrs. L. E.) Miller, Martha (Mrs. Stuart E.) Huddleston, Susan (Mrs. James H.) Caffery.

And one skit "So Long, Mary," features Mary Ellen Kelly, Angie Alexander, and Dr. John Anderson.

Scheduled for Friday and Saturday nights, 8:15 P. M., February 1-2, in the Princess Anne High School Auditorium, the major proceeds from "Follies" will be used for the new library now in early planning stages.

Following the Saturday night performance, a Carolee Dance is planned to climax the festivities. Dance will be held in the Cavalier Room of the Cavalier Hotel, for which you make reservations now by phoning 1208, 3777-W, or 1674.

These young mothers, members of the Princess Anne Woman's Club and the Cavalier Junior Woman's Club, are planning the annual Mother's March on Polio to be staged on January 31. The ladies are Mrs. Ralph W. Carper, Mrs. William F. Ferrell, Mrs. E. George Middleton, Jr. and Mrs. Marvin Bruce Jones.

Almond to Speak Here Next Wednesday, Jan. 30

Democratic candidate for Governor, J. Lindsay Almond, Jr., speaker for the Jefferson Jackson Day Dinner, to be held at the Cavalier Hotel, Wednesday, January 30, 1957, has evidently contributed much to the sale of tickets for this event. Ticket chairman, James G. Darden, states that he is very pleased with the report of ticket sales throughout Princess Anne and Virginia Beach, however.

PUBLIC RECEPTION
There will be a public reception for Virginia's Attorney General, J. Lindsay Almond, Jr., and Governor-elect, J. Lindsay Almond, Jr., at six o'clock on the Wednesday evening, January 30, at the Cavalier Hotel.

Following the reception a Jackson-Jefferson Day Dinner will be served. Tickets to the dinner affair are available at $10 per person.

Almond is expected to be the Democratic nominee for Governor and Governor-elect has announced that he will be a candidate for the attorney general post being vacated by Almond.

There are still some available and may be purchased by County or City officials and the sponsoring democratic organizations.

The event will offer a stimulating talk by the young democratic candidate, Attorney General, Howard E. Kellam, Jr., by the gubernatorial candidate, J. Lindsay Almond, Jr., a most affable speaker and strong supporter of the principals of the democratic system of government.

Not only does the program offer a most interesting disquisition on the democratic idealogy, but also, the dinner menu will afford a pleasant repast for the many who attend. Chairman of the function, Sidney Kellam, hopes that everyone who has not yet been contacted, to call any one of the officials or members of the local democratic groups.

Mrs. Smith Given Ten Year Sentence by Jury

Second Degree Murder Verdict Returned by PA Court

An all-male jury of twelve deliberated more than three hours late Tuesday night and returned a verdict of guilty against Helen Marian Smith and the 38-year old blonde was sentenced to a 10-year prison term for the pistol slaying of her husband on October 12, 1956. The trial was held in the Princess Anne County Court.

The trial itself lasted approximately 11 hours and much of the testimony dealt with the defendant's unconventional sex life.

Defense Attorney Richard G. Brydges immediately asked the court to set the verdict aside as contrary to the law and evidence. Judge Floyd E. Kellam continued the motion generally.

Commonwealth's Attorney Robert S. Wahab, Jr., in addressing the jury, asked for a first degree murder verdict for what he called "calculated, premeditated, cold blooded murder." He argued Mrs. Smith shot her husband "because he stood in the way of her promiscuous sexual activity."

Two witnesses — Mrs. Smith's mother-in-law and a Norfolk man — told of threats on Smith's life made by his wife prior to the fatal shooting.

Mrs. Neil Smith, a former Norfolk resident, now living in Decatur, Ga., said Mrs. Yela Smith told her, "I've got him to kill."

After the slaying, the weep-haired witness said, her daughter-in-law telephoned her to tell her Smith was dead.

"I said, 'Well, you little b-----, why did you do it?' the elder Mrs. Smith stated."

Officers said Mrs. Smith claimed her husband struck her in the face, but that they could find no bruises.

Dr. F. G. Siten, a lieutenant in the Navy Medical Corps, said he performed an autopsy on Smith at the Portsmouth Naval Hospital Oct. 13.

He attributed death to massive bleeding caused by bullet wounds in the lungs. He said a blood test showed Smith was intoxicated at death.

Dr. Bernard Cohen, a Norfolk optometrist, said he examined Mrs. Smith's eyes last Nov. 16 and found her eyes "very, very poor." He described her as nearsighted.

Mrs. Gloria L. Lane, Mrs. Doria Etheridge and Mrs. Anna Stout, Diamond Springs neighbors of Mrs. Smith, told of seeing bruises on her. However, they said they did not see the bruises inflicted.

Mrs. Smith, her husband's second wife, said they were first married in New York City in 1947. However, the marriage was defective because he wed too soon after divorcing his first wife, she said. They were remarried in Elizabeth City, N. C., in April, 1949, the witness stated.

The Smith's five children, whose ages range from 10 years down to eight months, are now in the custody of county welfare authorities.

Lions Club To Be Sponsors of Visit By Bloodmobile

The Tidewater Regional Red Cross Bloodmobile will visit Princess Anne County on Monday, January 28th at the Community House, 18th and Arctic Ave. Donations will be accepted from noon till six o'clock. Dr. Fitzhugh Mayo and Dr. Andrew White will be the volunteer physicians in attendance.

The Lions Club of Virginia Beach is sponsoring this visit in the name of Al Craft, Sr. Dr. White in talking to the Lions Club stressed the definite need for blood at all times and reminded the members of the group that they never can tell when their families would need blood. Every member of the Club has been asked to donate one pint of blood and bring in one other donor. Anyone having any questions regarding the program may call the Red Cross Office, Virginia Beach 908. Transportation is always available for anyone needing it and there are baby strollers at the Community House during the visit. It generally takes about 45 minutes for the whole process, which includes being thoroughly checked by the physician, orange juice, donating the blood and sandwiches and coffee after you have given your blood. The date is Monday, January 28th, the place, Community House, 18th and Arctic Ave. and the time, from noon to six o'clock. Give a pint of blood, and help save somebody else.

In the little sentence "to be or not to be" it is possible to make almost 3 million errors by transposition of letters.

Teenagers Dance

This is a scene at the Virginia Beach Community House where teenagers dance every other Friday night. The next dance is scheduled for February 1 and a Valentine dance is set for February 15. The dances are sponsored by the Newcomers Club in association with the Community House.

-CUB SCOUT NEWS-

"Eyes in the Sky" was the January theme for Cub Scouts, Pack 60. Maybe by foresight, maybe by happy coincidence, they got well-primed to the possibilities of this subject by a visit to Naval Air Station Oceana during Christmas week, thanks to the courtesy of C. O. Captain Henry H. Hale.

Inspiration for this educational adventure came through Lt. Com. Fred Turner, father of Cub Scout Freddie Turner, of Den 1, Lt. Cdr. John Murray, Special Services Officer, set up the tour. Cdr. James Holloway, C. O. of CA-83, was the official guide. He was aided by a number of men whose names I don't know, but all of whom showed remarkable patience and generosity throughout the extensive expedition.

The Pack Meeting, held Jan. 16 at the First Presbyterian Church, opened with a ceremony by Den 5, Honor Den for December. Earl DuVal announced that, in the Civitan Christmas Tree Sale, Dens 7 and 5 came out tops, with special credit going to Chris Goddard of Den 7, who sold $31 worth of trees.

A lecture on stars and planets followed by Hugh Lynn Cayce, dramatized by the use of a planetarium lent by Explorer Scout Harry Robertshaw.

Inspection proved Den 7 Honor Den for January, with Den 5 next. In the competition for achievement points, Den 5 was announced to be leading, Den 3 second, Den 6 third. But it's still touch-and-go, according to the officials, which den will be the winner at the end of the year.

A high spot of the evening was the skit put on by Den 6, under the leadership of Den Mothers, Mrs. F. I. Gilbert and Mrs. J. V. Powell, Jr. The title was "The 64,000 Penny Question," a well-acted, genuinely funny parody on — you've guessed it!

Category chosen by contestants in this mythical TV show was, of course, "Eyes in the Sky." All the familiar principals were there, including one Cub who, in yellow wig and dazzling female attire, represented "Lynn Nickel." There was even an isolation booth. The cast: Paul Chamberlin, Larry Powell, Tommy Robertshaw, Windy Bill, Skippy Gilbert, Ricky Berquist, Hampton Sewell, and Bruce Dunthorne.

"A very high level of entertainment," commented Cubmaster Julian Burke, after the show.

Exhibits presented a problem to the judges, since they all showed research, ingenuity, and craftsmanship on the part of the Cubs. Den 2 won the first award, with Dens 3 and 6 tying for second. Den 1 was commended, and Den 3 in particular, for the mastery with it had performed "the difficult task of figuring out the relative size of the planets."

Unfortunately, when this writer went down to look at the exhibits, they'd all been taken apart and taken home. We did get a glimpse of Den 3's planets, all done in modelling clay, each in the right color or colors, and all to scale.

A five foot man married to a three foot woman may think of himself as a giant — until he goes away from home.

D. A. R. Award of Merit Presented By Mayor Dusch

The Princess Anne County Chapter, National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, held its regular January meeting at the home of Mrs. W. R. Hatchett, 305 Pocahontas Drive, Virginia Beach, on Saturday the 19th at 2 o'clock.

In the absence of the Chaplain, Mrs. R. B. Carter, the meeting was opened with the Lord's Prayer by the members, followed by the Pledge of Allegiance and the American's Creed led by Mrs. Earnest Harden.

The State Conference will be held in Roanoke, March 19, 20, 21st. The following were elected to attend: Mrs. E. Guy Robertson, Mrs. August Bauman, and Mrs. Fern Withers. Those elected for Continental Congress in Washington, D. C., April 14-18 are Mrs. M. A. Glass, Mrs. George Bratten and Mrs. Hazel Etheridge.

Mrs. M. A. Glass, Transportation Chairman, brought out some interesting facts along the line of accidents occurring at the Beach, comparing the number from 1952 to 1956 and asking all members to be alert.

Mrs. G. K. Willis, D.A.R. Good Citizen Chairman, read a letter from Diane McCombs, who was selected from the Virginia Beach High School to receive the D.A.R. Good Citizen Award from the Chapter.

Mrs. Willis introduced Mayor Dusch who had acted with the Committee composed of Mrs. Penn Withers, Mrs. August Bauman and Mrs. G. K. Willis to select an outstanding person in the Community for "The Award of Merit." Their choice fell to Mrs. E. Guy Robertson. In a most gracious and sincere manner and with words of commendation and congratulations Mayor Dusch made the presentation.

The speaker for the afternoon was Mrs. Earnest Harden on her recent trip to Europe.

Mrs. D. Y. Malbon, Regent, presided. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. R. B. Tynes, Past Regent, presided at the tea table.

All Chairman and officers are asked to take note that there will be a Board Meeting, Saturday Jan. 26th at the home of Mrs. D. Y. Malbon for the purpose of setting reports ready.

Jays and Squirrels

In our back yard there is a great live oak with wide-spreading branches that shade half the place. The place is usually alive and vocal with blue jays and other birds. Two gray squirrels live somewhere in the tree and appear at intervals. One morning last August there was a raucous cry of jay birds that sounded something like hee, hee, hee!

The appearance of a squirrel had upset the jays and caused their loud chorus. And why? I decided it must have been due to the direction of the squirrel's movement toward some food that had been placed under the tree. I have never known of a blue jay and a squirrel having a fight, but I can testify that the raucous cry upset the winged creature.

Now human beings ought to be wiser and kinder than blue jays and squirrels. They ought not to be upset by little things and bitterness if some other gets what they wanted for themselves. Bitterness is the envy that steals away a man's peace of mind and leaves him the prey of his own selfish thoughts. Let us be content with what we have.

Association for Research and Enlightenment to Meet

Members and non-members of the Association for Research and Enlightenment will meet during the January 1957 Conference this week-end to study the subject of life after death. The conference begins Thursday, January 24 and ends Saturday, February 2, and will be held at A.R.E. headquarters, 67th and Atlantic Ave.

To introduce subjects and ideas on the theme of immortality, a panel forum will be conducted Thursday night at 8 o'clock, with Hugh Lynn Cayce, general manager, as moderator. Members of the panel will be Lydia J. Schrader Gray, Ester Wynne, Gladys Davis Turner and Eula Allen.

The remaining schedule includes a meditation period lead by Ruth LeNoir Friday and Saturday mornings at 7:30 o'clock, followed by classes at 10 p.m. Friday and Saturday on "Jesus Who Became the Christ" taught by Esther Wynne; and "Planes of Consciousness Between Lives in the Earth" taught by Lydia Gray.

Afternoon classes for both days will be "The Question of Interference and Possession" taught by Eula Allen; and "Voluntary Information Regarding Other States of Consciousness Through the Edgar Cayce Readings" taught by Hannah Miller.

Mrs. Gray will speak Friday night at 8 o'clock on "Personal Clairvoyant Experiences of Edgar Cayce Dealing with Life After Death." Hugh Lynn Cayce will speak Saturday night at 8 o'clock on "God's Other Door."

There will be rooms available to those attending the conference, and meals will be served at nominal prices at the headquarters cafeteria. The public is invited to attend, at the usual registration fee.

Albert E. Turner, chairman of the panel forum committee, will speak Sunday at 4 p.m. on the subject, "Is Reincarnation in the Bible?" concluding the Association for Research and Enlightenment lecture series on rebirth.

Turner has conducted an extensive research into the Bible with its possible support of the doctrine of reincarnation. Reincarnation is given credence in all great religions and literature of the world, it is pointed out, and it is natural to seek either confirmation or denial of ink that concept in the Bible, he has stated.

The general public is again welcome to attend the lecture, which is the final in a series of four given on various aspects of rebirth. Others this month were "The Panorama of Rebirth," given by Gladys Davis Turner; "The Law of Cause and Effect," by Lydia J. Schrader Gray; and "The Evidence for Reincarnation," by Hugh Lynn Cayce, A.R.E. manager.

LOOK!

...more than a car
...more than a truck

LOOK again! IT'S THE NEW FORD RANCHERO

HAULS LIKE A TRUCK! No need to hold back on load. Pile it on—the Ranchero packs a greater payload than many standard pickups! Power plenty, too—Short Stroke 144-hp Six or either of two Short Stroke V-8's, up to 212 hp. Fordomatic or Overdrive available at extra cost.

HANDLES LIKE A CAR! Ball-joint front suspension and outboard-mounted rear springs—first time on any pickup—give true passenger-car ride. Cab interior is exactly like that of the '57 Ford Ranch Wagon. Power steering, power brakes, power seat and power windows available at extra cost!

Looking at the boldly modern styling of the new Ford Ranchero, you may find it hard to believe that it's actually a man-sized truck, built to do a man-sized job. But it won't take you long to find there's a lot of belt behind the Ranchero's glamour.

It carries more than half a ton. That's more capacity than many standard pickup trucks offer you. The all-metal body floor is over six feet from front to back. Loading height is less than any pickup. No matter how you look at it, the new Ford Ranchero is a real workhorse.

And it's a show pony, too! The Ranchero looks, rides and handles like a passenger car. Its low, crisp lines and distinctive profile have a wonderful way of saying how progressive you and your company are.

The new Ford Ranchero is surprising in many ways, not the least of which is its low price. Never before has so much style and luxury been packed into so rugged a vehicle at such a low price.

Air Safety Record Improves

Recent tabulations show that air safety records in 1956 were an improvement over 1955. In the international field, U. S. airlines flying over the oceans completed a year without fatalities, it was announced recently.

Despite the improved air safety record of scheduled airlines, it should be remembered that 1956 was the year in which the worst commercial air disaster in history occurred—in the United States. Two commercial airliners collided over the deserts of Arizona in the middle of 1956 and plunged downward into the ragged depths of the Grand Canyon. In this disaster some 128 persons lost their lives.

It was not only the worst commercial disaster in the history of the world, but it was a reflection on the U. S. aerial navigation system. Therefore, despite the improved safety record—as reflected in the figures—the nation is urgently in need of a modernized control system for aerial traffic. This is one problem Congress should tackle in its new session, or similar disasters such as the Grand Canyon catastrophe may occur this year and in the future.

Sea Levels Change

Although most people do not realize it, the northern oceans actually rise and fall, according to the seasons, and reach a high point in late fall or early winter.

Offsetting the rise in the northern oceans, a fall is traceable in the southern oceans, reaching a low point at about the same time the northern oceans reach a high one. The amount of rise, from lowest, to highest, is about eight inches.

Dr. June G. Petullo, of the Scripps Institution of Oceanography, has recently reported on intensive research into this phase of ocean activity. Until the Petullo report, verification of the rise and fall of the oceans was lacking and practically nothing was known about the variations in level of the seas except the normal tide changes.

Although an eight-inch rise is relatively small, it represents the movement of a tremendous quantity of water and scientists are now trying to explain the shifting levels of the oceans. The Petullo explanation is not yet generally accepted, and if you know the answer, you might pass it on to the scientists.

Veterans Claims Official To Be at Beach Today

The Area Representative of the Virginia Division of War Veterans' Claims from Norfolk, Thomas A. Moore, announces his next service trip to this locality for the next week, at which time he will interview veterans or their application forms, and Government papers, and any other necessary services toward obtaining for them their benefits based on service in the Armed Forces. His schedule is below:

At The Community House, 15th St. & Arctic Ave., Virginia Beach, from 11:00 A.M. to 3:00 P.M. on Thursday (Jan. 24th, 1957).

Moore visits this same location on every second and fourth Thursday, each month. On other days he can be reached in the office at 105-4 McKenna Blvd., 203 E. City Hall Ave., in Norfolk. His telephone there is Madison 2-9671.

Chesapeake Beach Woman's Club Sponsors Polio Drive Dance

The Chesapeake Beach Woman's Club has, for several years, set a high goal and met it for the Polio Drive. An annual dance has been one of the ways they have hit upon to make their quota. This year, to be no different from the years past, the ladies have completed arrangements for what promises to be one of the most entertaining affairs to date.

The dance is to be held Saturday evening, January 26, at 9 P.M. in the Community Center at Chesapeake Beach. A well planned floor show will feature WTAR-TV's own LaVerne Watson as "Cousin Tibbie". Mr. Watson will serve as Master of Ceremonies and will headline a floor show featuring Miss Lynnette Twiford, Miss Norfolk 1956, who will dance. Andy McCullar, popular Princess Anne singer, brings his songs, along with Polly Lewis, and "Boots" Bennett, who are a delightful song and piano combination. Cap'n

Jim McGinley, who made a hit with the ladies back in October at their Birthday Banquet, will be back with his every popular Tap, Clog and Buck and Wing.

Dancing will be enjoyed from 3 until 4. A Waltz and Jitterbug Contest will also be put on. Prizes will be awarded the winners and there will also be Door Prizes, Food and Refreshments. The price of admission will be your contribution. It is hoped that folks will respond, come down for real fun, and help the good cause.

The Dance is sponsored by the Welfare Department of the Club with Mrs. R. J. Webber, Chairman. Mrs. Elwood A. Hudson is Chairman of the Floor Show arrangements. Mrs. W. B. Meekins, Dance Contest, and Mrs. L. E. Ledington Food and Refreshment Chairman.

FURIOUS BATTLE FRONT

Q—Does the Food & Drug Administration seize and destroy food unfit for human consumption? If so on what grounds?

A—Yes, the Food & Drug Administration seizes and destroys thousands of tons of food each year after determining it unfit for human consumption. For instance in August the agency seized 600 tons of food of which 60 tons were contaminated by deleterious chemicals including ice cream cones containing boric acid; Wheat treated with mercuric compound; frozen spinach with an excess of DDT residue; imitation vanilla flavoring containing cumarin, etc. 533 tons of wheat was seized containing filth contamination; one seizure was made for misbranding.

Q—Can you tell me if people with mental handicaps are included in the state-federal vocational rehabilitation program?

A—Yes. For the year ending June 30, 1956, approximately 3,000 persons who had mental handicaps were placed in jobs, about 12% more than in 1955.

Q—Who receives the monthly Veterans Administration allowances under the War Orphans Educational program—the student or the parent?

A—If the student is under 21, his living parent or guardian will receive the allowance. If he is 21 or over the allowance will be paid directly to him.

Q—What is the latest figure on Commodity Credit Corporation surplus?

A—As of July 31, 1956, the CCC reported $2,130,919,000 invested in price-supported agricultural commodities. $2,311,000,000 in outstanding loans, and $5,518,000,000 in inventories. This was more than a billion-dollar increase over July 31, 1955. CCC reported it lost $68,071,434 on price support operations during July alone, almost double the loss in July 1955.

Q—What police power does the Federal Government maintain over the states?

A—The Federal Government controls inter-state commerce, communications, and such police activities as come within the jurisdiction of the FBI and other units of the Department of Justice.

Evangelistic Services at Scott Mem.

Dr. Walter C. Gum

A week of Evangelistic Services will be held in Scott Memorial Methodist Church, beginning Sunday, January 27th and continuing through Friday, February 1, 1957. The services will begin at 8:00 P.M. with an inspirational song service. This will be preceded by a prayer service which will begin at 7:30.

Dr. Walter C. Gum, Pastor of Park Place Church, will deliver the Evangelistic Sermons throughout the week. Dr. Gum has served some of the most outstanding Churches in the Virginia Conference, has served as District Superintendent of both the Norfolk and Richmond Districts, and is one of the most outstanding preachers and leaders in the Virginia Conference as well as of the entire Methodist Church. He serves as a leader on several of the boards and agencies of the Virginia Conference and throughout The Methodist Church in America.

The Rev. J. Hillman Coffee, pastor of The Methodist Church in Vineland, New Jersey, will be the Director of Music for the Revival. A graduate in theology of Drew University, he is now working on his dissertation for the P. H. D. Degree. He has had wide experience in leading the music in Evangelistic Services in his own New Jersey Conference and elsewhere.

Presiding at the organ will be Mrs. F. H. Strieby, wife of the pastor of Scott Memorial Church. The pastor, the Rev. F. H. Strieby, extends a cordial invitation to the people of the Oceana and Virginia Beach community to attend this series of Evangelistic Services. A special invitation is extended to the service personnel and their families, as well as to all of the new people now residing in our area.

African Violet Society Discusses Party Plans

The Princess Anne African Violet Society held its regular monthly meeting on Thursday, January 17 at the home of Mrs. A. J. Ketsules with Mrs. Nick Asler and Mrs. J. Y. Okada as hostesses. Mrs. L. C. Mallory, club president, presided and the meeting was opened by repeating the Lord's Prayer in unison.

Plans for a card party to be held on March 14 were discussed. The club voted to have one in a small way, guests to be by invitation and reservation only. The dessert card party will be held at the home of Mrs. A. J. Ketsules. Table and door prizes will be awarded. Chairman is Mrs. C. L. Herschberger, co-chairman, Mrs. Harry Billups. Chairman of refreshments, Mrs. H. F. Ames, tables, Mrs. Ruth Manges; prizes, Mrs. C. H. Wroten.

Mrs. C. L. Herschberger asked the club members to consider attending the National African Violet Club convention to be held in Cincinnati, Ohio in April.

Mrs. Herschberger explained to the club a new way of starting violets. Refreshments were served to the 14 members present. Mrs. Frank Klepper was a guest. Ribbons were awarded as follows: Mrs. C. L. Herschberger, blue for Hildegarde, blue for Velvet Empire. Mrs. Harry Billups, blue for Double Sea Girl, blue for Queen Neptune. Mrs. C. H. Wroten for Pink Cloud, blue for Lacy Lavender. Mrs. H. F. Ames, blue for Air Wave, blue for Ohh Beautiful. Mrs. A. J. Ketsules, red.

Paul H. Davis Appointed

Paul H. Davis, Little Neck Rd., Lynnhaven, has been appointed resident agent for Nationwide Insurance according to word received today from O. D. Gardner, local district sales manager for the Companies.

A native of Wilson, N. C. after finishing high school in Rocky Mt., N. C., Davis served in the Armed Forces from 1943 through 1946 mostly in the Pacific Theatre. He later served with the U. S. Navy in the African and European areas from 1950 to 1952. He is married to the former Geraldine Rietel and they have three children. He is a member of the London Bridge Baptist Church and has served as a baseball manager for the Princess Anne Little League for several years.

Working in Lynnhaven and vicinity, Davis will represent the Nationwide Mutual Insurance Company, the Nationwide Mutual Fire Insurance Company and the Nationwide Life Insurance Company, selling Auto, Fire, Life Insurance, General Casualty and Marine Insurance.

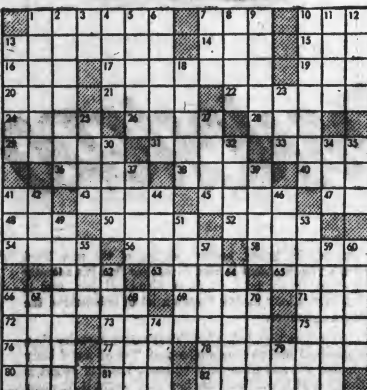

Protestant Churches Observe Christian Youth Week

The young people of the Protestant churches of the Virginia Beach-Oceana area will begin observance of Christian Youth Week on January 27.

The week, which will be concluded by a special worship service on February 3, is being sponsored throughout the nation by the United Christian Youth Movement. Theme for the observance is "Consider Your Call", which points out to the young people that any type of work they choose—properly dedicated—can be a Christian vocation.

During this week, Christian young people are asked to consider how they can best serve the Kingdom of God with their particular talents and personalities.

Virginia Beach Pirates Lead County Basketball Loop

Last Week's Highlights
PRINCESS ANNE — The Virginia Beach Pirates again dominated play in the County Senior Cage Loop. Led by the league's leading scorer, Horace Flora, who has an average of 28.2 points per game in four contests. Last week the Pirates racked up two more victories to give them undisputed first place in league standings. Earlier in the week they defeated the Creeds Indians, 56 to 53, while last Thursday evening they completely wore the net out, throwing in 117 points to Creeds' 45. The Kempsville Athletic Club pulled the unexpected by upsetting the highly rated Bayside Lions in a nip and tuck game, 66 to 63. Joe Baines and Ernest Knox were the big guns for the Kempsville five, scoring 25 and 18 points respectively. Ken Allen and Lutherian Senter scored 21 and 17 points apiece for the Lions but not enough to give their team the victory. The loss of Senter late in the third quarter was a big blow to the Lions.

Creeds Indians and the Glenrock Independents are determined to come up with a good team. Last week saw several changes in their line-ups.

Miles and Miles of Highways and Not a Place to Play

PRINCESS ANNE, Miles and miles of highway and not a place to play! Does this situation exist in your community? The Recreation Department of Princess Anne is prepared to do something about it for the communities in the county.

Jim Lail, County Recreation Director states that this situation does exist in a number of the communities in Princess Anne County today. In order to cope with this problem he intends to organize the communities on a wagon wheel basis with the Recreation Department being the hub and the spokes spreading out from the hub, the various communities in the county.

Mr. Lail, further states that some people seem to think that with the employment of a director for recreation by the Board of Supervisors, all that was necessary for them to do was idly wait while he comes out to the community, organizes the program and does the work. Many visualize recreation being served them on a "silver platter."

The urge for recreation must come from the communities to the department. The department will not take recreation to the people. If recreation is worth having, it is worth coming after.

A community may have any kind of a recreation program they are willing to work for. If the people of your community are not ready to roll up their sleeves and go to work, it is better that no program be attempted. In this plan of recreation, the County Recreation Department does not dole recreation but rather helps the community to get it. After the program is under way, it is a community job to keep the program operating smoothly. The Recreation Department will help, but will not do the entire job. The aid coming from the Recreation Department will not exceed the community's efforts.

If your community wants recreation contact Mr. Jim Lail, Princess Anne Recreation Department. He will be glad to talk to any group or to you alone. It only takes one person to get the ball rolling in your community. No community is so small to have recreation. PLAN NOW FOR A BETTER TOMORROW!

Garden Club Council to Meet
 The Council of Garden Clubs of Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County will hold their regular meeting on Wednesday, January 30th at 10:00 A.M. in the Board Room of the Bank of Virginia Beach. All members are urged to be present.

Our Military Neighbor

Fort Story, Small by Comparison Has Big Impact on Virginia Beach's Economy

BY DON HILL

FORT STORY—This pint-sized Army Transportation Corps post poured enough money in Tidewater coffers last year to operate the city of Virginia Beach for almost four years.

A study released yesterday at this tiny Cape Henry installation showed that Fort Story has a year-around financial impact on its surrounding communities nearly four times greater than the resort city's operation budget.

During 1956, Fort Story accounted for an estimated 6% million dollar crop in Tidewater Virginia. Virginia Beach's 1956 budget was only $1,651,697.40 according to figures given by E. W. Smith, Beach Internal Revenue Commissioner, for this Army report.

The study showed the post's contribution is out of all proportion to its size. This was attributed to the fact that although the troop complement is little more than half the size of an infantry regiment—Fort Story is the site for all the U. S. Army's initial amphibious truck training.

In 1956, the post's average monthly military payroll was more than $258,000. This figure did not include monthly allotment checks received by wives of some 500 married men. Nor did it include other checks mailed directly from the Army Finance Center although much of this money was also spent locally.

Fort Story's 380 civilian employees—most of whom are Tidewater natives and all of whom are local residents—received almost $100,000 monthly.

CASH FOR SCHOOLS

According to Frank W. Cox, Princess Anne County Superintendent of Schools, his school division received $18,792 from the federal government for Fort Story children who attended Princess Anne schools in the past school year. In addition, he stated, "I estimate that our school system has received approximately $108,000 in grants for school construction because of (Fort Story) pupils in our schools (in the past five years)."

Fort Story's training mission as the "home of the trucks that swim" also delivered dollars to the area last year. Reserve training in the summer alone brought almost 1,500 civilian soldiers for two weeks of study on the Cape Henry site.

Fort Story testing of new Army Transportation Corps amphibious equipment attracted distinguished visitors and units to the area for limited times.

Last spring, 3,000 Army Transportation Training Command soldiers preparing for summer duty in the Arctic in Operation SJNEC and 572 received the amphibious portion of their training at Fort Story. Numerous training exercises at Fort Story spread to Fort Story for part of their activity.

According to Capt. George W. Schreiner, Jr., Post Engineer, more than $282,700 in construction contracts were let at Fort Story in 1956, the great majority to local firms.

In addition, plans were recently announced for construction of 150 Capehart three-bedroom b. h. units on the post. The apparent low bid announced for these is $2,174,500.

$40,000 MONTHLY RENT

The Fort Story study showed that approximately 460 military and 381 civilian employees live off the post. With their families, these represent a contribution of almost 2,000 to the local population. They pay almost $40,000 monthly in rent. The 232 homeowners own more than $2,600,000 in real estate locally.

Maj. W. P. Frelich, Fort Story Comptroller, reported that the post spent about $744,415 for routine recurring items of purchase last year. Broken down, these were: gasoline and oil, $211,295; utilities, $81,225; packing and crating, $15,000; locally procured items of troop supply, $391,000; and commercial line haul, $45,000.

Purchase by the post commissary totaled more than $1,237,000 in groceries and other products for troops, and resale to military families. Major Frelich reported.

The Fort Story Non-Commissioned Officer's Open Mess, which steward M. S. Jack Keeny says is the most active club of says in the area, spent more than $125,000 for supplies procured locally in 1956. According to Keeny, the club draws a major portion of its revenue from its 800 non-Fort Story servicemen members.

OFFICERS' MESS

The Officer's Open Mess, which also draws a number of offpost members from other military installations, spent more than $25,000 last year.

The study showed Fort Story to be a desirable neighbor in other ways:

During last summer's Hurricane Flopsy, the post's versatile amphibious trucks answered emergency flood relief calls on short notice in cooperation with State Police and other civilian authorities.

The post lent trucks to the Norfolk, Virginia Beach, and Bayside post offices for the recent Christmas rush.

For years, the Army has been throwing its gates open to pilgrims who visit the several Cape Henry Lighthouse and the Cape Henry Cross. The Lighthouse was the first ever constructed by the United States Government. The cross marks the landing spot of the first permanent English colonists to reach America's shores. This shrine is an integral part of this year's coming Jamestown celebration. With the full cooperation of Army authorities, the National Park Service is planning a $10,000 expenditure on its beautification for the festival.

The Fort Story Information Services Division (formerly PIO) offers guided tours of the post to school classes and similar groups. The division also operates a Speaker's Bureau which provides military speakers on a variety of subjects to local civic and fraternal organizations.

ORDNANCE DUTIES

Ordnance units assigned at Fort Story perform all maintenance and repair for the Army anti-aircraft artillery and Nike installations that will protect the vital Norfolk area in case of enemy air attack.

Fort Story, originally set up in 1914, is now a sub-installation of the Army Transportation Training Command with headquarters at Fort Eustis. Maj. Gen. Rush B. Lincoln, Jr., is the commanding general of the training command. Col. George Woods, is the Fort Story commander.

The post was a Coast Artillery installation when the original grant of 343 acres was given the United States by the State of Virginia, on March 10, 1914. During World War II, it was the site of a large hospital. Although the first Transportation Corps unit, The 456th Amphibious Truck Company, came to the post in 1946, Fort Story didn't become a Transportation Corps installation until 1948.

Fort Story has grown with its job. But the post still occupies only 1,394 acres although its mission is perhaps its greatest and most significant, yet.

R. M. Wainwright Elected to Head Realty Board

Robert M. Wainwright, resort realtor, was elected president of the Virginia Beach Real Estate Board, succeeding Frank V. Aikins.

Other officers for the ensuing year are Dave Miller, vice president, and J. Burks Withers, Secretary-treasurer.

On the board, in addition to the officers, are Atkins, W. S. "Duck" Bralhwale, Mrs. Ethel Ackels and Harold Kellam.

Wainwright and Bralhwale were named directors, representing the board, on the board of the Virginia Real Estate Assn. for the coming year.

The incoming president, after observing that the real estate market in the resort area was active, said multiple listing was responsible for $2.5 million in sales during the two and one-half years it has been in operation.

"Of course," he added, "Many other sales were made by individual salesmen or brokers."

Dictionaries give from 45 to 90 meanings for the word "run".

VEGETABLE OUTLOOK GIVEN FOR THIS YEAR

"Essentially unchanged" is the label put on the 1957 outlook for vegetable crops in Virginia. High consumer incomes are still a strong factor supporting the demand for green and leafy vegetables and tomatoes. The long-time upward trend in per capita consumption likely will continue, though probably at a somewhat lower rate.

Even though demand is high for vegetables, prices may be low if so many are produced that supplies become burdensome. Seasonal production resulting in exaggerated peaks of supply may also cause low prices through overtaxing the marketing system and storage facilities.

Efficient, well-balanced production should be the goal of vegetable producers in Virginia, the economists say. We advise producers to determine, on the basis of an up-to-date inventory and past experience, the patterns of production that best fit their individual farms. Annual production plans should be changed from this usual pattern when special short-term conditions vary.

For most crops grown in Virginia, forecasts of production for the 1957 season are not yet available. Producers should keep informed on intentions to plant, actual planting, and conditions of crops as reported periodically through the Agricultural Marketing Service, and through industry news.

Potato plantings may be somewhat over 1956 plantings in the early states, as a result of good 1956 prices. However, 1956 production in the northeastern late states was larger than in 1955, and marketing of this late crop may be carried over into the spring to such an extent early potato prices will be lower than in 1956, unless some diversion program is again put to use. Watch developments in the movement of Maine and New York potatoes up until planting time.

Sweet potato prices may be somewhat lower this year if producers increase 1957 plantings in response to favorable 1956 prices.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT SUPERVISORS TO MEET IN BRISTOL

An address by Congressman Jennings, and resumes of progress made in soil conservation in Virginia, are on the agenda for the 18th annual meeting of the Virginia Association of Soil Conservation District Supervisors in Bristol, January 15-17. Congressman Jennings will be the banquet speaker Wednesday evening January 16. Another feature of the banquet will be the presentation of awards to machinery dealers in the Holston River Soil Conservation District by R. G. Preston, Meadowview, district chairman. Toastmaster will be Robert Porterfield, Abingdon, director of the Barter Theatre.

Meetings of the executive committee and registration are planned for Tuesday. Speakers Wednesday will include: Parke C. Brinkley, commissioner of agriculture, Richmond; W. H. Landess, TVA, Knoxville; Mrs. Helen Tilson, Dublin elementary school teacher; John F. Copenhaver, Gade Springs winner of a soil conservation speaking contest; and Sherman Gold, Soil Conservation Service, Abingdon.

A discussion on a cooperative program between the soil conservation districts and the State Department of Highways also will be presented on Wednesday by C. L. Billington, Brunswick county resident engineer for the Highway Department, and E. R. Minnick, Soil Conservation Service, Brunswick. Thursday the supervisors will hear discussions on watershed protection and flood prevention by Giles H. Miller, Jr., president, Culpeper National Bank. Election of officers and committee reports also are scheduled for the meeting. T. O. Ragsdale, Brandy, chairman of the Association, will preside at the conference.

APPLE PRODUCTION SLATED TO START BACK UP IN VIRGINIA

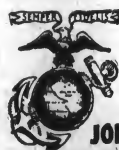

A slight uptrend in apple production in Virginia, and an improvement of the quality of pack offered for sale, is the long-term outlook for orchardists.

An increase in average yields in Virginia the past few years indicates that growers may be more efficient in their production. Increased yields have also tended to offset the reduction in the number of bearing trees. While the number of trees in the state has dropped, the size of orchards has increased. This indicates, the economists say, that apple production is becoming more concentrated as growers try to get the benefit of efficiency associated with larger operations. In view of the competition ahead, this production trend is likely to continue.

Buying apples wholesale also is being concentrated in the hands of a few buyers. As a result, apple packing requirements may tighten. Larger volumes will be packed under trade names as growers consolidate their operations. Formal or informal cooperation among growers in consolidating their packing house operations will make for increased efficiency. Better packed fruit sold under more widely recognized brand names will enable growers to do more effective advertising.

The demand for "built-in maid services" will continue to support expansion in the processing industry. The rate of increase will be determined by what happens to consumer purchasing power. Apple production in Virginia for 1957 will be determined largely by weather conditions.

ADJUSTMENTS IN ORDER FOR PEACH GROWERS

Some adjustments are in order for Virginia's peach producers if they expect to expand or maintain their present position, say agricultural economists at VPI.

Traditionally, Virginia growers have shipped their fruit to northeastern metropolitan markets. Virginia peaches were harvested and marketed after peaches from the South were off the market and before peaches near the northeastern markets had matured. However, in recent years producers in New Jersey and other nearby areas have switched to earlier maturing varieties so that their market season now overlaps the Virginia marketing season to some extent. Since these producing areas are nearer the traditional markets of the northeast, they thereby have an advantage in transportation cost and are better able to compete price-wise.

Facing this situation, Virginia growers are advised to shift production to earlier varieties, develop new market outlets, and increase efficiency in production to offset transportation advantages of other sections near present markets. Any one or a combination of these steps should help.

COUNTERPANE CATHEDRAL

There was a man who had stopped going to church because, he said, "Church doesn't make me feel any nearer to God."

One night he stepped into the children's room to kiss them good night. And suddenly he felt as though he were in church. There was a pillowed altar and a devout congregation in prayer. Yet he didn't feel any nearer to God.

And in that moment he learned the truth that every soul must learn: religion is not some outer force that brings God close to a man. Religion is man's inner yearning which reaches up and discovers how near God is.

And so, from the example of his children, he learned how to find the faith which had eluded him. And, finding it, he returned to church to share with other Christians the rich experience of worship . . . to receive the spiritual gifts of Word and Sacrament . . . to serve Christ in the vital, challenging work of the Church.

He knows that in church—or in a moonlit nursery—God is near those who want Him near!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

NORFOLK, Va. (FHTNC) — Robert D. Kimball, boatwain's mate third class, USN, of 410 20th St., Virginia Beach, Va., is scheduled to arrive Feb. 5 at Norfolk, Va., aboard the destroyer USS Solely after six months in the Mediterranean and the Middle East with the 6th Fleet.

While in the Mediterranean the Solely took part in anti-submarine and air defense exercises and participated in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization Operation "Whipsaw."

In October the ship moved through the Suez Canal into the Red Sea where she participated in joint exercises with the Iranian Navy. With the closing of the Canal, the Solely was forced to remain in the Persian Gulf for an extended period before beginning the trip home around the Cape of Good Hope.

The ship visited France, Italy, Sicily, Greece, Arabia, Iran, Kenya, Union of South Africa, Sierra Leone, and Puerto Rico.

18.17 miles per gallon on North America's toughest truck run!

That's the gas mileage reported by the Camco Carrier after covering the entire length of the Alcan Highway in less than 45 hours! All six new Task-Force trucks that made the run turned in top scores for performance and economy!

Supervised and certified by the AAA.

New Task-Force 57 Chevrolet Trucks

Six heavily loaded Chevy trucks ran all the way up the rugged Alcan Highway in less than 45 hours! That's cutting more than a full day off the normal running time! They ran right around the clock, stopping only to refuel.

But the important fact about this run was that it proved new Chevy trucks through and through. The Alcan Highway is a supreme test of every truck component. Engines had to prove their power up high-climbing grades and through washouts. Frames and suspensions flexed their muscles over axle-deep ruts and miles of pounding gravel. "And not a single truck turned back or dropped out due to mechanical failure," states the official AAA report of the test. Every model proved its over-all economy by its ironclad ability to stay on the job! Stop by; we'll talk about it.

Champs of every weight class!

Bell Tidings

Traffic is a lot of cars moving swiftly from one place to another until your car joins them.

Are you a puzzled program chairman, looking for an entertaining, informative program? Every year the telephone company people give hundreds of talks to clubs, civic and church groups. Among them are talks and films that will be of special interest to men, others directed to women, and still others of interest to men and women. There are more than 300 from which to choose. Call your local manager of the C. & P. Telephone Company. All he asks is a little advance notice.

A wise-cracking friend says, "Money isn't everything. There's also wealth and riches!"

Ever stop to think that when you pick up the telephone, it's up to you whether you make a good impression on the person at the other end of the line? Do you want to appear pleasant, courteous and helpful? Here are some tips on how to do it: Before you call, be sure of the number. Place the call carefully. Give the person you are calling time to answer. Ask if it's convenient to talk. Use a normal tone of voice. Identify yourself when you call (or when you're answering). Concentrate on the conversation (oddly, lots of people don't). All this adds up to good telephone manners—and better, more useful telephone service for you.

Are your customers getting the buzz-buzz-buzz of a busy signal when they call you? (They may say, "Well, guess I'll have to call that other firm.") If lack of an extra line or two is costing you sales, why not invest in a couple of extra telephone "entrances" to your business? Just call your local telephone company business office for a complete review of your present phone service. No charge, of course.

The MIXING BOWL ..

IT'S Fun TO COOKBy LUCILE CLARK
SUN-NEWS FOOD EDITOR

For the very latest in food fads and foibles . . . for practical, down-to-earth recipes that please both palate and pocketbook, read the "Mixing Bowl" by Lucile Clark each Thursday in the Sun-News.

FACTS N' CHATTER ABOUT CHEESE

Everyone is familiar with cheese, and most are exceedingly fond of it, but few recognize it as a nutritionally important, REAL food—not just a sandwich filler or a plump at refrigerator-ridding time.

As a real food—

The Europeans have for centuries regarded cheese as the mainstay of their diets. And yet in this country it didn't really register until the government, after consultation with eminent scientists, included it in the list of basic foods. This high honor made a big shot not only of main dishes like Welsh rabbit, but the cheese sandwich as well! We'd always enjoyed eating these foods, but now they were on equal footing with meat, poultry and fish as a food to help children grow, to keep adults working at top speed, and to keep everyone feeling fit.

Did you know that half a pound of Cheddar gives you as much protein as a full pound of steak? (This is all a healthy adult requires in one day—and at less than one-fourth the cost.) Protein is THE life-giving element, you know, but it cannot be stored by the body. Each day it must be supplied by the food we eat or our tissues will slowly starve to death. You can't buy a better nutritional value per dollar than cheese.

Economy footnotes

Remember—with cheese there's no waste. And a half pound of cheese served in a main dish can provide four people with a sufficiency of protein for that meal.

What other food can still be eaten with relish when it's just a dry old scrap that got pushed to the back of the refrigerator? Cheese that has become hardened can be grated and added to casseroles, can top open-faced sandwiches or added as a flavor ingredient for some baked products.

Enough of economy—

Cheese has always been associated with beauty and strength as well. Indeed, the son of Apollo—god of youth and beauty—was credited by the Greeks with its invention. Athletes in training for the games of skill on Mt. Olympus used to eat cheese in quantities.

And did you know? Bread, cheese and kisses are the proverbial fare of poets and lovers alike! Its convenience and versatility . . . cannot be overestimated.

Of course it comes ready-to-serve, which makes it a real boon if friends stay on for supper. From cheese you can prepare a real gourmet dish in half an hour.

It's a gold mine of flavor in itself and a flavor flatterer for dozens of other foods. Can you imagine macaroni without cheese—Italian spaghetti, grilled sandwiches, fondue or soufflé? Cheese is almost their reason for being! (Cook it with most anything cookable and you have a delectable dish.)

Do you want to eat well?

Then a knowledge of cheese is a handy thing to have. Don't be dismayed by the fact that there are 400 varieties in all! Most are offshoots of the 18 main lines. So familiarize yourself with the eighteen and you are on your way to becoming a connoisseur.

Small wonder that cheese varies so much in flavor, color, texture, and use. There are mild, sweet cheeses, nippy, stout, and salty ones. There are spreadable, slicing, and grating cheeses—some white, some golden, some tawny brown. Do you prefer the creamy richness of cottage cheese, or the nut-like flavor of Swiss? Or perhaps you exult over the tang of aged Cheddar or Blue. Like them all? You're a real gourmet, then!

Some rules to remember:

When you buy cheese, the softer and moister it is—the more perishable. Waste no cheese—use every bit of it. Cut off only as much as you need each time. Then store the rest tightly wrapped in waxed paper, aluminum foil, or in an air tight container to prevent drying out and transference of flavors. Use promptly before the cheese dries out. Cheese may mold without spoiling, you know, and if it does simply cut off the mold and use the rest.

Keep in mind that the low refrigerator temperatures tend to temporarily numb the flavor, so let your cheese warm up to room temperature before serving.

Cheese N' Biscuit Fancies

Take a family favorite like biscuits—combine it with another favorite—cheese—and you have increased your taste delights fourfold! Not only that, you provide extra nutritive value at the same time.

Cheese Fan-Tans are just the ticket if you'd like to do a bit of showing off. Usually they're made with a yeast dough but this recipe has a biscuit dough base which means—if you use a biscuit mix—they can be a last minute proposition. Or make them up early in the day, cover with waxed paper or foil and refrigerate until needed. Cheese Fan-Tans are at their very best, though, if baked soon after making.

Step 1. Take your favorite biscuit recipe and, after kneading well, shape it into a smooth ball. Roll into a rectangle about 1/2 inch thick and 8 inches wide.

Step 2. Cut into 4 strips 2 inches wide. Spread with softened, not melted butter. Sprinkle three strips with a generous cup of shredded natural or process Cheddar cheese. This can be either mild or nippy, depending on your family's tastes.

Step 3. Pile the three strips of dough on top of each other, covering with the fourth strip. This has no cheese on it. Cut across into 8 pieces. Then carefully place each in buttered muffin pans or custard cups, leaving the cut side up. Brush with melted butter for extra flavor and a golden brown color, and into the oven they go! Bake in a pre-heated oven at 450 degrees for 10-12 minutes, or until cooked through with a light browning. Serve at once. It's only fair to warn you—better double the recipe. They're that good!

Step 4. Cheese Pocketbooks are the perfect accompaniment for steaming hot bowls of soup at lunchtime. Actually, they're a miniature variety of the popular cheese sandwich, but decidedly more dainty. And they pack a heap of nutrients, too, within their bite-sized exteriors!

Step 5. To make them you roll biscuit dough 1/4" thick and then cut into 2" rounds with a biscuit cutter. Spread each round with softened butter and place a piece of Cheddar cheese on each. Now fold over the dough and press the edges together. Brush tops with melted butter and bake.

Step 6. Have you ever considered frosting biscuits? Long have sweet rolls and coffee cakes boasted luscious sweet frostings—but, unlike them, this one is not sweet because cheese forms its basis.

Step 7. To make this frosting, place 1/2 pound or 2 cups of thinly sliced or shredded Cheddar cheese, along with 1/4 cup of butter, in the top of a double boiler. Stir until the cheese is melted and thoroughly blended with the butter. Place the biscuit rounds close together in a pan and top each with a spoonful of the cheese mixture. This runs down, over and through the biscuits as they bake. Um-m-m—good!

Here are some recipes. I think you'll thoroughly enjoy preparing and very definitely you—your family & guests will be saying—"This surely is good."

Scalloped Potatoes with Cheese 1 qt. sliced cooked potatoes (salted) Place a layer of potatoes in well greased baking dish—over it pour Part of sauce—made as follows. Melt 4 tablespoons butter in saucepan—blend in 2 tablespoons flour, add 2 tablespoons grated onion, 1/4 teaspoon salt, dash pepper & 2 cups milk—Cook slowly—stirring constantly so it will not burn—when it begins to thicken add 1/2 lb. grated sharp cheese and blend in—Place another layer of potatoes & pour over rest of sauce—Bake in 350° F. oven for about 25 minutes or until golden brown.

Golden Sauce Luncheon Special Make Cheese Sauce—Melt 4 tablespoons butter, Blend in 2 tablespoons flour. Add 1 cup milk & cover over low heat until thickened. Stirring constantly, add 1/2 teaspoon salt—dash pepper—1/4 lb. grated cheese—use sharp or medium lay slices of Turkey or Chicken—or Ham if you prefer on toast & top with hot asparagus spears—Pour hot cheese sauce over—garnish with strip of pimento.

Cheese Puffs

Blend 1/2 lb. medium cheddar cheese & 1 stick butter—when well blended, mix in about 1 cup flour and 1/4 teaspoon salt. Chill for about an hour—longer if desired. Roll into miniature balls & bake at 450° F. for 15 minutes.

Bacon Pinwheels

Remove crusts from slices of sandwich bread & cut slices in half. Lay 2 strips of bread lengthwise on a slice of bacon & then heap grated cheese on bread. Roll loosely like jelly roll & secure with toothpicks. Place in a pan & bake in 400° F. oven for 12-15 minutes or until crisp. Allow 3 pinwheels for each serving & serve with salad or soup.

Maybe you'd like to make a cheese crust for your deep dish apple pie—

Cheese Crust

Sift 2 cups flour & 1 teaspoon salt together. Cut in 1/2 cup shortening and 8 tablespoons grated cheddar cheese. Add about 4 tablespoons water & mix lightly. Roll out & place over top of apples—make gashes to let air escape—Bake at 450° F. for 10 minutes—reduce heat to 350° F. and bake about 30 minutes longer—or until crust is golden brown & apples are done. You'll probably have some cheese dough left over—unless you're making a very large deep dish apple pie—if you do roll out crisp & brown—

Jefferson-Jackson Fete Well Attended

More than 450 residents of Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County heard Virginia's Attorney General J. Lindsay Almond, Jr. deliver the principal address at a Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner at the Cavalier Hotel Wednesday night.

In addition to Almond, who is an announced candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor of Virginia, the Democratic gathering also heard an address by H. Ward Gilmer, former United States District Attorney, who is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for attorney general of Virginia.

Lieutenant Governor A. E. S. Stephens was also scheduled to be present for last night's affair, but was unable to come to Virginia.

Supervisors Back Beach Boulevard Safety Campaign

The Princess Anne County Board of Supervisors Monday authorized County Planning Commissioner Mason Gamage to work with the State Highway Dept. on a safety program for Virginia Beach boulevard.

The highway department presented a safety study made of traffic over the 11.24 miles of the boulevard between the resort city and Norfolk.

The survey showed that the highest accident rate in the state occurred on this stretch. In 1955 there were 362 accidents in that area in which six persons were killed, 182 injured, and public and private property damaged to the value of $146,476.

At present the plan for improving the safety on the Virginia Beach Blvd., includes the closing of nine left hand turn exclusive of traffic light controlled corners. It is the present plan to close the left turn areas on a temporary basis only.

The board will meet on Feb. 1 at 10 a.m. at the court house with the Soil Conservation Group to study plans for the drainage of the south end of the county.

Building reports for the month ending Jan. 28 showed 67 building permits issued at an estimated cost of $649,331.

The board met in executive session during the afternoon to discuss the county budget, which probably will be presented at the next regular meeting.

Safety Program Launched Here By Virginia Beach Police Dept.

"Traffic signs," signals and markings are silent policemen," Chief Reeves E. Johnson of the Virginia Beach Police Department warned motorists today as February's traffic safety program was launched here by the Virginia Beach Police and the Governor's Highway Safety Committee. The campaign is part of the year-long national "Back the Attack on Traffic Accidents" program.

"All signs should be observed the same as if a traffic officer were stationed with every traffic sign," Chief Johnson said. The Chief explained that the purpose of this month's program is to focus attention on traffic signs—called "Signs of Life." The program is designed to encourage recognition and observance of all traffic signs in an effort to cut down traffic crashes.

"In four out of five fatal crashes, one or more driver violations are reported," he said, "and many of these involve the deliberate or unintentional disregard of traffic signs, signals and markings."

He advised motorists to learn the sign shapes and know the meaning of each one so they can be recognized at once. The six signs, shapes and meanings are: OCTAGON, the stop sign, is red with white letters or yellow with black letters. It means come to a full stop and be sure the way is clear before proceeding. RECTANGLE, white with black lettering, states the law, including speed limits, parking regulations and turning and passing regulations. DIAMOND, warning, yellow with black lettering, warns of school zones, curves, side roads, intersections and other hazardous conditions ahead.

ROUND, yellow with black X and RR. This identifies a railroad-highway crossing ahead. TRIANGLE, the newest sign, is yellow with black lettering and means yield right of way. This sign requires drivers to give the right of way to cross traffic by slowing down and being ready to stop if necessary. Chief Johnson cautioned pedestrians to know and obey all signs, signals and pavement markings directing pedestrian movements. These include traffic lights and signals and crosswalk lines at intersections.

"The pedestrian and motorist share responsibility in preventing pedestrian accidents," he said.

Livestock School To Be Held Feb. 5 At Oak Grove

Beef cattlemen, sheep and swine producers will have an opportunity next Tuesday to learn new and better methods when a livestock school will be held at the Oak Grove Community Hall. It has been announced by E. R. "Dick" Cockrell, county farm agent for Princess Anne County. The meeting is scheduled for 10 o'clock Tuesday morning.

Producers of Princess Anne and Norfolk Counties are invited to attend and hear Curtis Marks of Virginia Polytechnic Institute, discuss better production techniques; Shirley Carter, lowering livestock costs; Role Godsey, swine production; George Allen, sheep production; and K. C. Williamson, marketing beef cattle.

Gay Follies To Be Held Feb. 1-2 at P. A. High School

As "Follies" went into last rehearsals today, there was a smattering of the graduation-day sentimentality, but there was also a burst of "the show must go on" enthusiasm. And a lot of cute, pert housewives looked like real pros as they rehearsed intricate dance routines.

Then as the high-school chorines took their places, spectators gasped, "Ah, the beauty of youth!" Representing the male agenda, George Mullens, Johnny Addenbrook, and Angie Alexander were creating hilarious humor, as fresh to the cast as if they had not heard these lines before.

Mrs. F. M. Durham and Mrs. J. W. Wolcott, Jr., talent chairmen, are due a plaud of congratulations for their job well done.

Advance ticket sales have far surpassed expectation, reports Mrs. L. C. Brennan, but to those who have not yet arranged for tickets, they may be purchased at Ingram's Pharmacy on 25th Street, or reserved by phoning 4773-J.

Following the Saturday night performance, a Cabaret Dance is planned to climax the festivities. Dance starts immediately after the "Follies" performance - in the Cavalier Room of the Cavalier Hotel. If you plan to attend, you should make reservations n.w. by phoning 1209, 3777-W, or 1674.

Mothers March For Polio Tonight

On Thursday, January 31st, the Mothers March on Polio will observe the cherished tradition of the Mothers March on Polio. The glow of porchlights all across the land will reflect the nation's pledge to finish the job of controlling a crippling disease.

Residents in unlighted rural areas will be called upon in the afternoon, and in some sections of Virginia Beach marching Mothers will be calling in the early evening.

Although volunteers in this area will not be wearing badges, they may be easily identified by their pamphlets and collection containers, and if there is any question about identifying the following chairmen should be called:

Mrs. James W. Batchelor (Princess Anne Junior Woman's Club) and Mrs. M. B. Jones or Mrs. R. W. Carper (Cavalier Junior Woman's Club).

Approximately 750 volunteers will be calling on every house in Virginia Beach and all county areas. Nearly $2,500.00 has been collected to date in the current Polio drive, but thousands more will be needed for care and treatment of the 76 active local polio cases this year. So turn on your porch lights, welcome your marching polio volunteer, let her tell you of the importance for polio shots for yourself as well as for your children, and let's finish the fight!

PROCLAMATION

I commend the observance of Brotherhood Week, February 17-24 to all our citizens. It is well, at a time when the principles upon which our democracy is founded are gravely threatened, that we should reassert them firmly and rededicate ourselves to their daily practice. Brotherhood Week provides an opportunity to affirm our acceptance of the obligations implicit in the brotherhood of man under the Fatherhood of God.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Frank A. Dusch, Mayor of Virginia Beach, do hereby invite the attention of the People of Virginia Beach to the worthy purposes of this week and urge that they observe it by public recognition, where appropriate, but especially by personal and individual practice during this week and every week throughout the year.

City-Owned Convention Hall Favored by Council

Ruritan National Convention Held In Richmond

Ruritan National launched plans for expansion as its 28th National Convention held in Richmond last week ended with the election of Elmo Johnson of Mosheim, Tennessee as president.

Marvin L. Gray, executive secretary, stated that organizational plans include "expansion into at least two new States, continued growth in the 16 States now strongly organized, with an emphasis on community service in every local Club."

More than a thousand delegates attended National convention. They heard U. S. Senator Harry Byrd of Virginia plead for "economy in government, a balanced budget, and conservative policies in Washington." On the other hand H. I. Willett, Richmond public school administrator, asked are we spending enough money for education. "Education is really public defense. Think of what we are spending for defense. Are we spending enough for education?"

Other speakers included Coca-Cola official Warren Foster of Atlanta, General Herbert D. Vogel of Tennessee Valley Authority, and Air Defense officer William V. Plowden, who presented President D. B. "Boss" Hill of Duncan, S.C. a plaque in recognition of Ruritan participation in Ground Observer Corp and civil defense.

Rome Schwab of Hagerstown, Maryland was named vice president; Dick Holberton, Lynchburg, Va. treasurer; Thomas V. Davenport of Richmond was named national secretary for the third time. Districts named were Alva Williams for North Carolina, Art Stein, Virginia, Georgia having qualified for a director named Alvin Davis of Cave Springs.

Delegate James Thomas Darling of Salem, Ohio was not the typical Ruritan at National convention, for Ohio has only twelve clubs in three north-east Ohio counties. He stated, however, that Ruritan was not "a regional movement; the idea and program of Ruritan suits Ohio fine, furthermore, I like Senator Byrd."

Ruritan started at Holland, Md. Southside Virginia in 1928. There are now more than 25,000 members in 16 States, mostly Southern. National headquarters are located at Wakefield, Virginia.

Night Classes

Night classes under the auspices of the College of William and Mary will begin next Tuesday night at the Princess Anne High School starting at 7 o'clock. It has been announced.

Anyone interested in enrolling in these classes should be present next Tuesday night, the announcement stated.

DESSERT BRIDGE

A dessert-bridge party will be held at the Cavalier Club on February 13 sponsored by the Bird-neck Point Garden Club, a spokesman for the organization has announced.

The party is scheduled for one o'clock and is being held to raise funds for beautification projects of the club and the Council of Garden Clubs.

Mothers March Today, Tonight

The annual Mother's March on Polio by members of the Junior Woman's Club today will not be confined to one hour tonight, it has been announced.

Some members of the club, who are busy with rehearsals for the Follies which will be presented Friday and Saturday night can be among the 1,500 at the Princess Anne High School, will conduct their March on Polio this afternoon. The principal Mother's March will be conducted tonight for one hour between 7 p.m. and 8 p.m.

The Virginia Beach City Council has scrapped plans for an armory-convention hall building and has laid tentative plans to construct a city-owned convention hall. This action was taken at Monday's regular meeting.

Original plans for an armory-convention hall would have been partially financed by state and federal funds. City Council drafted a resolution asking for the return of a city block deeded to the State for an armory, which would have been utilized as a convention hall.

In other action, the council approved a $350,000 bond issue for public improvements which will have to go to the electorate for final approval.

The bond issue, which will have to be approved on a second reading coming up on the third Monday in February, earmarks $230,000 for improvement of Pacific Avenue as a second main artery for the community; $40,000 for a health center and moving the city shops; $75,000 for improvements on Balch Avenue and Holly Road, and $15,000 for a reassessment of property within the city limits.

City Manager W. Russell Hatchett told the Council that while the exact figures on the bonded indebtedness of the city were not at hand, $534,000 of bonded debt has been retired since 1953.

The Council was told by Hatchett that the combination armory and convention hall would require an outlay by the city of $218,000 besides the land already deeded for the purpose, valued roughly at $150,000.

It was the opinion of the council that it would be more practical to authorize a convention building owned outright by the city at the cost of $350,000, exclusive of the land.

The new convention hall, according to present plans, would have a capacity of 1,500, would cover 25,000 square feet and would be deeded at least 75 per cent of the available convention trade that the city would hope to attract. It would afford seating for 1,300 persons.

A resolution will be addressed to the State Adjutant General asking that the deed to the property already set aside for the armory be returned to the city. It is a square block between 19th and 20th Streets, Pacific and Arctic avenues.

Miss Gisela Grimm Speaks To Cavalier Garden Club

Miss Gisela Grimm, well known landscape designer and horticulturist addressed the Cavalier Garden club after their monthly lunch and business meeting which was held at the Princess Anne Country Club. Miss Grimm's talk was very interesting and enlightening stressing small gardens which the considers can be among the loveliest.

In the exhibits the following members were given awards. Arrangement, a blue each to Mrs. John Winn, Mrs. J. G. Traflet, Mrs. William G. Thompson, a red each to Mrs. Grayson Whitehead, Mrs. Mason Johnson and Mrs. Arthur Winder. Mrs. Rudolph Watson received a gold award. Specimens, Houseplant, a blue to Mrs. Johnson and for the open class a red to Mrs. Walton Saunders.

Follies Workers

Mrs. F. M. Durham, Jr., Mrs. J. W. Wolcott and George T. Mullens look over the script of a skit in the Follies production sponsored by the Junior Woman's Club of Princess Anne County to be presented Friday and Saturday night at the Princess Anne High School. Mrs. Durham and Mrs. Wolcott are talent co-chairmen of the event and Mr. Mullens is a member of the cast.

Reed, president of the Lake Joyce Garden Club, who showed slides of the Lotus Gardens at Sandbridge and of the Lotus Festival, which was sponsored by the Cape Henry Woman's Club during the summer. She also showed scenes from the Smoke Mountains, all of which the members enjoyed very much.
Activities of the past year were reviewed and the fact brought out that what started but two years ago to be a "Shut In Club" has become one of the most active departments of the Chesapeake Beach Woman's Club. This Circle is part of the Garden Department of the Woman's Club of Chesapeake Beach.
Among the accomplishments of the circle are the following:

The Case of the Unhappy Sparrow

A gutter guard not only prevents birds from nesting—it keeps out leaves, twigs, pine needles, etc. These clog your gutters and cause overflow, which seeps into the house or stains the siding. Equip your house with a gutter guard this spring before the birds arrive. Make one out of galvanized wire cloth. Or, for a few cents more, buy the ready-made kind you install in a few minutes. A "snap-on" lockhart gutter guard fits standard gutters and lasts as long as the house.

State Federation of Garden Clubs To Hold Course in Show Judging

First Course in Flower Show Judging sponsored by the Virginia Federation of Garden Clubs will take place February 4 thru 7 at the John Marshall Hotel, Richmond.

Flower Show Practice will be given by Mrs. Archibald Wilson Walker of Spartenburg, South Carolina.

Mrs. Walker has served as Vice-president of South Carolina State organization and as General Chairman of five flower shows of the Spartenburg Council. She is the author of "Twenty Year History of the Garden Club of South Carolina," also "Fun With Herbs."

Mrs. Walker is an accredited judge and instructor by National Council of State Garden Clubs, and an accredited authority on Period Arrangements and the author of the National Iris Society. She is a graduate of Smith College in Massachusetts, holding a B.A. degree with a major in botany and a minor in zoology, and has done post-graduate work at the University of Minnesota.

The instructor in Horticulture will be Dr. Francis DeVos of Washington, D.C., who is Assistant to the Director of the National Arboretum.

Recreation Department to Hold Cage Loop Reorganization Meet

PRINCESS ANNE, Jim Lail, County Recreation Director announced that a meeting will be held in the Trial and Justice Courtroom, located on the second floor of the Volunteer Fire Department, next Wednesday night, February 6th at 8 P.M. to reorganize the Junior and Senior Basketball Leagues for second half play.

Groups and organizations desiring to organize and sponsor teams in these leagues for the second half of league play are invited to do so at this meeting. Regardless as to whether a group had a team entered in the first half or not they must be present at the meeting and submit their entry in order to be eligible for second half play. New teams entering the leagues will have the same opportunity to win the County Championship as those teams that participated in the first half. Current-ly four teams compose the Junior Loop and six teams the Senior Loop.

Boys participating on teams in the Junior Cage Loop cannot have reached their 16th birthday prior to January 1, 1957 and must reside in Princess Anne County while in the Senior League there is no age classification; However the players must reside in Princess Anne County and the city of Virginia Beach. Players who are active with teams in other leagues are not eligible to participate with teams in the Senior Loop.

Groups and organizations desiring to organize and sponsor teams in a Junior High League for boys who have not reached their 16th birthday prior to January 1, 1957, are also invited to this meeting.

Mrs. Lottie Capps Dies in Accident
Mrs. Lottie Parke Capps of Town of Mount Royal, Quebec, Canada, wife of T. Lee Capps, formerly of Princess Anne County, was killed instantly in an accident in Montreal.
Mrs. Capps' daughter, Margaret Christian Capps, was also seriously injured and is now in a Montreal hospital.
Mrs. Capps is survived by her husband, daughter, several nieces and nephews and two sisters-in-law in this area: Mrs. Pannie Capps, a sister of Mrs. Capps, who is a resident of Virginia Beach, and a brother-in-law, W. T. Capps of Baltimore.
Graveside services were held in Elmwood Cemetery in Norfolk by the Rev. Harold A. Malmborg.

NEWS FOR VETERANS

The veteran still is a potent force on the American college campus, according to the Veterans Administration.

Approximately one out of every four males in the nation's colleges and universities is a veteran, enrolled under the Korean GI Bill, VA said. Further, large numbers of veterans are expected to be attending schools of higher learning for at least the next five or six years.

Complete Korean GI Bill enrollment figures, released by VA, disclosed a record-breaking 473,000 veterans in college.

This is 12 percent above last fall's Korea GI college enrollments of 416,800 and 8 percent higher than the previous record of 436,600, reached in the spring of 1956.

GI students in college probably never again will be as numerous as they were shortly after World II, when three out of four males in school were World War II veterans and veteran college enrollments totaled more than 1,000,000 for three successive years.

Yet the current number of Korea veterans in college still is high enough to exert a real impact.

In addition to the 473,000 GI college students this fall, VA said there were 287,000 other Korea veterans enrolled in schools below the college level, on-the-job training and on-the-farm training.

Q—I am the widow of a World War II veteran, and I have been drawing a monthly VA pension. I am planning to get married. Will my pension continue after my marriage?

A—No. Under the law, your pension must be stopped when you remarry.

Q—May I get a GI business loan to buy an automobile? I need it to get to and from my place of business.

A—A GI business loan for this purpose would be prohibited by law. Veterans may obtain GI loans for automobiles only if they are essential in carrying on their business.

D.A.R. Meets

Mrs. R. Allen Brown and Mrs. Charles Wells were hostesses to the Daughters of the American Revolution at their January meeting held at Mrs. Brown's home on Ninth Street, East Ocean View on last Friday evening, January 25.

Mrs. Thomas A. Moore, Chapter Regent, presided and announced that Mrs. C. R. Boehm, First Vice-Regent of the Chapter, had been requested to serve as page at the 46th Continental Congress of the D.A.R. to be held in Washington in April.

American History was the theme of the meeting and the speaker, Mrs. Glenwood Fischer, spoke on "Yorktown as a Field of Mars."

She also announced the placing of 50 of the historical color books sponsored by the chapter with children of primary school age.

Mrs. Vivian L. Ott reported on plans for the card party to be held at Evelyn Ott's Dance Studio on Thursday evening, January 31. Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Ott at MA 5-4848.

The chapter welcomed a new Junior member, Miss Nancy Braun, also a visitor, Miss Barbara Dix.

FORT STORY TELLINGS

FORT STORY—A savings to the government of $18,000 was realized at Fort Story during the Fiscal Year 1956 through the incentive awards program, military authorities announced this week.

Incentive Awards Programs are set up on military installations to encourage members of the Armed Forces and civilian employees to think of ways of improving jobs and equipment. The suggestions are considered by a board and, if feasible, put into action, usually at a great saving of time and money. The person who submitted the suggestion is then rewarded with a cash award or free time.

Fort Story's total placed second among the various units of the Transportation Training Command. The Quartermaster Office at Fort Bustin, this tiny Cape Henry post's parent installation, led the command with a savings of $20,166. In third place was the Fourth Terminal Command C with $12,953.

In all, suggestions by Transportation Training Command personnel brought about a saving of $68,382 during FY 1956 — the highest total for a Transportation Corps installation in the United States. Some 787 suggestions were submitted and the TTC adopted 160.

Nicknamed "the home of the trucks that swim," Fort Story conducts all the Army's amphibious truck training as part of the Transportation Training Command.

VISITORS

Three different sets of visitors toured Fort Story last week.

Two officers from Thailand were on the post from January 21-25 to observe the Army's methods of training personnel in the operation of amphibious vehicles.

Captain Keen Nuykan and Lieutenant Colonel Nuykan Nuykan toured the post headquarters and observed operations in the working units of Fort Story.

Colonel J. C. C. Shapland and his party from the British Joint Services Mission in Washington, D. C. spent the afternoon of January 24 on the post as part of his visit to Fort Bustin, headquarters of the Transportation Training Command of which Fort Story is a part. During his tour of the post, Colonel Shapland observed amphibious operations and Transportation Corps equipment.

Earlier in the week, approximately 75 officers from the Transportation School at Fort Bustin received special amphibious training.

The men, members of Transportation Company Officers Course Number 13, received the training during a one-day tour as part of their course of instruction in a wide variety of transportation subjects. The Company Officers Course is one of several offered by the Transportation School to further train the TC's officers.

Seven foreign countries were represented in the class: Iran, Thailand, France, Korea, Japan, Turkey and Colombia.

CONSTRUCTION

Contracts let for construction at Fort Story will account for a portion of the $66 million in the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers will spend in Virginia, according to Brigadier General Walker K. Wilson, Jr., deputy chief of engineers, Corps of Army Engineers.

Before the Builders and Contractors Exchange at its annual meeting in the Cavalier Club on January 25, Wilson said that the money would be expended during the Fiscal Year 1957 for runways, hangars, barracks, dormitories, service clubs, mess halls, and field houses and electrical distribution systems for a number of Armed Services Bases in the Old Dominion.

A $2,174,500 low bid was recently accepted for construction of 150 Capehart three-bedroom houses at Fort Story. The project is being funded by the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers.

NEW PERSONNEL

Three new technicians have been added to the NIKE Guided Missile Shop at Fort Story.

William Elrod has been transferred to the shop, which is part of the post's Ordnance Office, from Douglas Aircraft at Charlotte, N. C. A native of Chaburn, N. C., Mr. Elrod was formerly a Western Electric Liaison Engineer.

He replaces Melvin D. Wagstaff of Roxboro, N. C., who had been Senior Western Electric Engineer with the NIKE projects in the Hampton Roads area since December of 1954. Wagstaff left on January 24 for San Francisco where he has been promoted to Chief in Charge of the Western Electric engineers in the Sixth Army Area.

S. J. Pike, now senior Douglas Aircraft Engineer with the project, was transferred here in mid-December from Fort Sheridan, Ill. He succeeds C. P. Gerard who was transferred to White Sands Proving Ground, N. M.

The recently assigned Ordnance Corps technician for the NIKE launcher is Donald Howard, who had just completed six months at ables are lumber, furniture, metals and metal products, all kinds of machinery, transportation equipment, instruments and stone, clay and glass products.

Capital expenditures came to $11 million dollars, or about 8 per cent less than in 1947 when Virginia had experienced an above-average outburst of manufacturing expansion, but running about the same as in the nation.

There were 242,000 people at work in Virginia manufacturing plants—over 25,000 or 12 per cent more than in 1947. However, Virginia's population grew by 11 per cent, hence employment in manufacturing merely increased a little faster than the population.

Wages and salaries totaled 788 million dollars. This averaged about $3,200 per worker and was 42 per cent more than he earned in 1947, while the cost of living rose only 20 per cent in the same seven years.

The value added by manufacture amounted to 1.6 billion dollars, up 56 per cent from 1947. This is the value of shipments or products, minus the costs of all materials, supplies, fuel, electric energy and contract work and is regarded as the best measure available for comparing the relative economic importance of manufacturing among industries and geographic areas.

Eastern Shore Garden Club Hears Bonney

The Eastern Shore Garden Club met Jan. 21st at Clola's Restaurant with 16 members present. A most interesting talk was given on the planning and care of roses by Mr. George L. Bonney of the Delhaven Gardens, Bayside.

Mr. Russell Gilbert, horticultural chairman, gave a talk on shrubs to be pruned now.

Ribbons were won by Mrs. Couch, Mrs. Green, and Mrs. Russell.

Next meeting will be Feb. 18th.

a NIKE course at the Redstone Arsenal before reporting to Fort Story.

SPEAKERS

Military personnel from Fort Story spoke at two Tidewater organizations this week.

Major W. P. Freilich spoke to the Virginia Beach Exchange Club in the American Legion Hall at 7 p. m. on January 28. Major Freilich, who is controller for Fort Story, amplified the findings of a recent survey conducted to determine the impact of the post on its surrounding communities.

On January 29 at 12:30 p. m. in the Commodore Maury Hotel, Sergeant Donald G. Hill, public information supervisor of the post's Information Services Division, spoke to the Norfolk Advertising Club. During his talk, Sergeant Hill discussed various aspects of the public information program of Fort Story.

The talks were arranged through the Fort Story Speakers Bureau, which provides military speakers to local civic, fraternal and educational groups on a wide variety of subjects. Further information can be obtained from the Information Services Division at Fort Story, telephone, Virginia Beach 4080, Extension 73.

GUEST SPEAKER

Mr. E. L. Gill, plant-wide chief for the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company in Suffolk, spoke to an Officers Conference at Fort Story on January 29.

Gill's subject was "Automation in the Telephone Industry."

The conferences are arranged monthly to keep Fort Story personnel informed on a wide variety of topics. The subject was particularly appropriate as Fort Story is currently in the process of converting to dial telephone use.

POLICE SCHOOL

Five Military Police sergeants from Fort Story will finish classes today at the Norfolk Police School, which began the first part of the month.

The men, all non-commissioned officers of the MP Detachment at Fort Story, will return to their unit to conduct classes in what they have learned.

Graduation exercises are set for 8 p. m. Monday (February 4) at the Suburban Park School in Norfolk.

The sergeants, first Military Police to take the course, feel that the knowledge gained there will prove of great value in the future conduct of their duties.

Attending the course from Fort Story were Sergeants Theodore Orris, Howard J. Worlock, Leonard V. Willis, Leroy Wilkins and Ernest R. Hart.

Linkhorn Park P-TA To Meet Monday Night

The Linkhorn Park School Parent-Teachers Association will hold its monthly meeting at the school auditorium on Monday, February 4, 1957 at 8 p. m. The topic, "Our Heritage" will be presented by Douglas Huber—founder and first president of the Linkhorn Park School P-TA. All rooms will be open for visitation prior to the meeting.

A note of interest to all is the Christmas Fashion Show. The proceeds from this show amounted to $350.44. The money will be equally distributed between books for the Library and Playground equipment.

There are some people who believe that a cash contribution is all that they are expected to do for their communities.

'Look All Ways' School Safety Lesson for February

A 14-year-old, eighth grade student created the AAA traffic safety poster which will be displayed in 200,000 classrooms throughout the country during February. Locally, the poster will be distributed to elementary and junior high schools along with the regular monthly safety lesson by the Tidewater Automobile Association.

The young artist who designed the prize winning poster is Norma Jean Mewell, a student at Monroe Junior High School, Mason City, Iowa. Norma's poster was awarded a first prize in the 12th Annual National Traffic Safety Poster Contest, sponsored by the American Automobile Association and the Tidewater Automobile Association.

Mr. John B. Dev, Vice President of the AAA, pointed out that the theme of the poster and lesson material is "Look All Ways Before Crossing," and it, proper signal is no guarantee of is a slogan adults should learn as well as children.

"At no time should pedestrians assume they can cross streets without first making absolutely sure the way is clear," he said. "Even crossing at intersections with the proper signal is no guarantee of safety. Last year, about one pedestrian in 20 killed in traffic was doing just that."

The motor club official said the word "all" in the poster slogan "Look All Ways Before Crossing" should be emphasized. He explained that it is just as important to check for turning cars to front and rear while crossing the street as it is look for traffic to the right and left.

"Look All Ways Before Crossing" is one of the ten basic pedestrian safety rules the motor club stresses in its school safety program.

Bay Shore Garden Meets, Approves Constitution

The newly formed Bay Shore Garden Club of Virginia Beach approved its constitution and by laws on Wednesday, Jan. 23rd at the home of Mrs. A. W. Baggett on Abington Road in Bay Colony.

Mrs. Dennis B. Boykin gave an interesting and informative talk on the rooting of shrubs.

Arrangements brought by Mrs. John Bibb, Mrs. Roy Polck, Mrs. John Matthews and Mrs. Jack Traxton Jr., were constructively criticized, but not judged.

Mrs. Baggett was assisted by Mrs. John Bibb and Mrs. Russell Marshall.

The March will be preceded by a Parade led by the Chesapeake Beach Fire Department. After the March all Workers will return to the Chesapeake Beach Community Center, where refreshments will be served.

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hughes, of London Bridge, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Joann Elizabeth, above, to Harry Dean Daugherty, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Jack Daugherty, of Lynnhaven. The wedding will take place February 16 at the London Bridge Baptist Church.

Shore Patrol Notes Better Military Driving

The red flashing light of the Norfolk Area Shore Patrol vehicles kept the 1956 military accident reports in the Norfolk area at a lower over-all mark than in 1955.

The two-man car patrols roamed the city and outlying area to keep a constant watch on would be violators. During the around the clock patrol only 157 military personnel were arrested for reckless driving compared with 428 arrests in 1955. Speeders caught in the act dropped from the 1955 mark of nearly 700 to 437 last year.

The Shore Patrol picked up 26 military men driving "under the influence" last year, cutting in half the 1955 total.

The Navy constantly warns its men against "stitching but 63 were found thumbing rides. However this is a drop of 33 from the previous year.

Even though outstanding success was noted in the curbing of speeding, reckless and drunken driving the number of fatalities went up two this year over the 1955 total of 15. Personal injuries increased by three for a 284 total. Shore patrolmen investigated 744 accidents during the year and issued 165 warnings while patrolling the three zones in the Norfolk area. Zone one covers the major part of Norfolk while zone two takes in highways 51 and 60 and the Ocean View area. Patrol cars assigned to zone three takes in the Military Highway.

Property damage in accidents totaled $342,039, a decrease of nearly $6,000 during the past year. Eight-three military vehicles were involved in accidents investigated by the Shore Patrol.

The area Shore Patrol officer is Lieutenant C. L. Press, USN.

Services At Scott Memorial

The evangelistic services of Scott Memorial Methodist Church in Oceana are in progress during this week, with Dr. Walter C. Gum, pastor of Park Place Methodist Church in Norfolk preaching throughout the series.

An interesting feature of the services is the song service, conducted by the Rev. J. Hillman Coffee, pastor of the Methodist Church of South Vineland, N. J. Rev. Coffee leads the congregation in the great gospel songs and choruses in a manner which is inspiring to all. His solo work and the playing of several instruments has added an additional touch of interest to the music.

The Fishermen's Club of the Church, composed of a group of people who visit new people in the interest of church membership, go out each evening to call in the homes of new families in the community.

The services will be held each evening at 8 o'clock through Friday, February 1. The pastor, the Rev. P. H. Surley, extends a cordial invitation to all of the people in the area to attend the services.

Notes From Your County Agent

CATTLE MAY SOON RITE BACK AT HEEL FLY GRUBS

Entomologists have been working for a long time to find an insecticide that can be fed or injected into the bodies of beef cattle to destroy heel-fly grubs before they bore holes in the hide on the animal's back.

Many insecticides have been tried and rejected either because they were ineffective or because harmful residues remained after their use.

Latest news on this front, report scientists at VPI, is that an apparently successful systemic insecticide (one that works internally) has been found. It's Dow ET-57, an organic phosphate chemical with an almost unpronounceable name—O, O-dimethyl 0-2, 4, 6-trichlorophenyl phosphorothioate. Preliminary tests, conducted by the U. S. Department of Agriculture and several state experiment stations, indicate that one dose, given orally to an animal just after the heel-fly season ends, will move throughout the body to destroy both worm and common species of grubs before they break through the hide.

ET-57 will not be available com-mercially, however, for some time. Although considerable research has been done, it will take at least another year to investigate fully its effects on treated animals, possible residues in meat and dairy products resulting from various size doses, the most practical means of administering the insecticide, and its performance in different geographical areas.

Among the experiment stations investigating the problem is the one at VPI. Preliminary results on the Virginia tests should be forthcoming soon.

GOALS ARE VARIED FOR FEDERATION

Virginia's 33,000 home demonstration club members will turn their attention to a variety of subjects during the next year.

Mrs. J. Blaine Gwin, president of the Federation of Home Demonstration Clubs, Fairfax, says six goals have been chosen and state chairmen named for each.

Mrs. Charles Bass, of Frederick county, is "art in daily living" chairman. Club members who study this subject will learn to appreciate and enjoy the simple and artistic things of everyday life. —Mrs. John M. Garnett, Jr., Spotsylvania, is "citizenship" chairman. She suggests that every home demonstration club member accept the privileges and responsibilities of citizenship.

Mrs. L. J. Crosey, Wythe, is chairman of the "family life" program. Its aim is to stimulate interest in and understanding of the importance of a satisfactory relationship between family members. As "health" chairman, Mrs. W. L. Dunn, of Henrico, recommends that club members acquire knowledge about and use of existing health facilities in Virginia.

Mrs. Goode Robinson, Campbell, is "safety" chairman. She believes that each home demonstration club member has a responsibility for the safety of herself, her family, and her community.

"To see ourselves as tourists see us," is the slogan of Mrs. G. Wright Thompson, Bland, "home and community beautification" chairman. The aim of this program is twofold: to make Virginia homes more attractive, and to conserve Virginia's natural resources.

Also announced was the appointment of Mrs. David Kennedy, Culpeper, as state news chairman for the Federation.

THE MEASURE OF CIVILIZATION

Some folks judge civilization's progress by the kind of houses they live in.

Others point toward the giant strides of science or industry—or the striking advance of music, art and literature.

Yet civilization is perhaps best measured by the kind of people it produces.

Picture a man who respects the dignity and rights of others, and who looks with compassion on human suffering. He is guided in all things by an abiding love for God. His moral stamina never ebbs. His spiritual courage grows stronger.

Multiply this man by the thousands . . . by the millions . . . and you'll see a civilization higher and greater than has ever existed.

The Church is the one great institution that devotes itself to the development of man's character and spirit. As long as it continues to thrive, we can expect our civilization to flourish and progress. Help extend the influence of the Church—give it your support, make it a part of your life!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

New Ford Trucks To Be At Dealers February 1

DEARBORN, MICH. — Ford's new 1957 truck line, originally not scheduled for production until 1958, will be introduced by Ford dealers February 1. Offering nearly 300 different models, the Ford line represents the biggest change in the history of the company, and cost $77,000,000 to design and put into production.

"We have made this great change in our truck line because we believe truck users are on the threshold of vast improvements in delivering goods to the American public," said Robert S. McNamara, Ford Motor Company vice president and Ford Division general manager.

"To help truck operators make this progress, Ford has launched this new line a year ahead of its original 1958 scheduled introduction," he explained.

Cutting one year off the design and production schedule cost Ford an extra $5,000,000, it was disclosed.

The new Ford truck line features new "Style-side" pickup models with streamlined head area 25 per cent flatter than last year; a new series of six tilt-cab transport truck models which are the lowest priced in the industry; a new Ranchero model which combines passenger car styling and comfort with all-around pickup truck utility; greater payload capacities in medium and heavy duty models; and an expanded parcel delivery series.

Engine power throughout the line has been raised an average of 25 per cent to help truck operators stay abreast of modern traffic flow. Engines have been redesigned for better breathing. They have a new rotor oil pump for more effective lubrication, a dry-type air filter that is more easily cleaned, new economical heavy duty carburetors, and lighter flywheels to permit faster acceleration. Hydraulic clutches are a new feature, standard for the whole line at no added cost.

Four basic power plants are offered, with 27 different modifications available for special hauling service.

Ford's largest selling truck, the F-100 pickup, has been radically changed to make it the best riding, most beautiful pickup in the industry.

The Style-side pickup, a brand new idea in light-weight trucks, has cab contours carried straight through to the rear of the truck. The full-width sheet metal outside the pickup bed is a welded structural part of the F-100, and is standard equipment, providing not only greater strength but a body over five feet wide inside.

The new pickup is rated at a GVW of 5,000 pounds and its load space has a capacity of 56.05 cubic feet, a marked increase over previous Ford models.

The Style-side pickup has a steel floor for durability, and for greater driver visibility has a wrap-around rear window as optional equipment.

Ford's truck line for 1957 includes a wide range of medium and heavy and extra heavy duty trucks for all work and transportation purposes.

Medium and heavy truck frames have been strengthened by increasing the depth of the side rails over the axle. Larger model trucks use four venturi, instead of two venturi carburetors, for more efficient fuel mixing and combustion.

The new model is the F-400 parcel delivery truck, built on a 137-inch wheelbase which is ideal for 10-foot bodies. In addition, V-8 engines are available for all Ford parcel delivery trucks for 1957. Higher GVW ratings are designed into the C-550, C-600, C-750, C-800, C-900, B-500, F-600, and F-700 models.

The most original design in many years in the trucking industry is Ford's Ranchero, an entirely new idea in transportation.

The Ranchero has the driving comfort and styling of a passenger car with the working ability of a pickup truck. Built on a 118-inch wheelbase and with a capacity of 30.4 cubic feet, this practical vehicle has a double steel floor for added ruggedness. The driver compartment and controls are the same as those of a passenger car.

The Ranchero is ideal for those who require a vehicle for both work and social purposes. Although it has all the driving ease of a passenger car, the Ranchero can carry a payload of 1,190 pounds, which is more than most pickups are required to handle during normal working operations.

PASSENGER CAR STYLING comes to the trucking business in Ford's 1957 Style-side Pickup. It typifies revolutionary changes in new Ford trucks which Ford dealers display February 1. Full-width styling has more than just "eye appeal." It widens the truck's load area by 20 inches, and adds 25 percent more load capacity than old-style models offer. This pickup is one of nearly 300 models in the 1957 Ford line which ranges upward to huge extra heavy duty models.

Little story about a big partnership.

The Norfolk and Western's "product" is transportation...freight service and passenger service which people need in business and in private life

From the income it receives as payment for its "product" the N&W employs many people, and last year provided jobs for a Norfolk and Western Family of 21,113 and paid them $102 1/2 million

...these millions of N&W payroll dollars pass from employees to "the butcher, the baker and the candlestick maker." They promote PROSPERITY wherever they go. Also, to provide dependable rail service the N&W is a big purchaser of MATERIALS, SUPPLIES and SERVICES (last year its "shopping bill" amounted to $40,485,000) and a large part of these purchases are made, year in and out, from business firms located "along the line" ... these dollars, too, help build a bigger PROSPERITY...

During the past 15 years our population has increased tremendously ...millions of new jobs are needed and the best source is industry

...with a strong staff of plant location specialists and extensive, consistent ADVERTISING, the N&W has forcefully joined civic and other business interests to develop new industry and new jobs. Last year in the territory

it serves—the Land of Plenty — 64 new plants were located and 94 established industries were expanded at a capital investment of $220 million, creating 10,700 JOBS for "folks along the line" ...and finally the N&W's taxes last year -Federal, State and Local-were over $45 million. These tax dollars are paid from unsubsidized income, tightening the individual's tax load by helping substantially to build and support public schools and highways and to provide police and fire protection, parks, libraries and many other public benefits.

Because the railroad receives its income from business and people and, in turn, serves business and people in these and other ways, a very real partnership exists between the N&W and 'folks along the line.' As we move forward together in this New Year, the Norfolk and Western will continue to serve in the best ways possible.

The MIXING BOWL..

IT'S Fun TO COOK

By LUCILE CLARK
SUN-NEWS FOOD EDITOR

For the very latest in food fads and foibles... for practical, down-to-earth recipes that please both palate and pocketbook, read the "Mixing Bowl" by Lucile Clark each Thursday in the Sun-News.

Peanut butter has long been a favorite of the sand pile set, and since it couples nutritional value with taste appeal, mothers have been happy to supply their clamoring demands. Menu-wise home-makers are finding that peanut butter has a potential far beyond its sandwich combinations. Flavorful peanut butter spreads produce truly dramatic results served with hot breads and muffins.

Since peanut butter provides a goldmine of nutrition for growing youngsters, there is no need to worry about the amount consumed. Folks of all ages take to its delightful flavor. Tastes vary, so it's a thoughtful homemaker who keeps both creamy-smooth and chunk-type peanut butter on the cupboard shelf at all times. Peanut butter comes in fairy-tale decorated glasses nowadays that make good coaxes for reluctant milk-drinkers long after the peanut butter is gone. One premium peanut butter also comes in clever sand-pails that are just right for larger families. These big help-yourself containers are a great source of fun, used as a centerpiece at the lunch table.

Hot apple muffins team well with peanut butter spreads. The next time you're having folks in for coffee, or hunting something for family luncheon interest, serve a peanut butter spread with apple muffins fresh from the oven.

PEANUT BUTTER - APPLE JELLY SPREAD

Yield: ½ cup spread
¼ cup peanut butter
¼ cup apple jelly
Combine peanut butter and apple jelly. Stir to thoroughly combine ingredients. Serve with hot apple muffins.

PEANUT BUTTER - BACON SPREAD

Yield: ½ cup spread
¼ cup peanut butter
½ cup crumbled crispy cooked bacon

Combine peanut butter and crumbled bacon. Stir to thoroughly combine ingredients. Serve with hot apple muffins.

PEANUT BUTTER - ORANGE MARMALADE SPREAD

Yield: ½ cup spread
¼ cup peanut butter
¼ cup orange marmalade
2 teaspoons lemon juice

Combine peanut butter, orange marmalade and lemon juice. Stir to thoroughly combine ingredients. Serve with hot apple muffins.

APPLE MUFFINS

Yield: 8 muffins
1 cup bran cereal
¾ cup milk
1 egg
1 cup finely chopped apple
¼ cup sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 cup sifted flour
2½ teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
Combine cereal and milk. Allow to stand until milk is absorbed. Stir and thoroughly combine with bran-milk mixture, melted shortening, egg, apple, sugar and cinnamon. Add flour which has been sifted with baking powder and salt. Stir only until all ingredients are just blended. Fill muffin pans (rubbed with shortening) two-thirds full. Bake in a hot oven (400° F.) about 30 min.

PEANUT BUTTER BALLS
Combine 2 cups snipped shredded coconut with ½ cup chunk-style peanut butter & 2 teaspoons vanilla - mix well. Shape into small balls - arrange on waxed paper in pan. Refrigerate until firm - makes 2 dozen.

PEANUT BUTTER BROWNIES
½ teaspoon baking powder
1 cup sugar
¼ cup peanut butter
¼ cup soft shortening
2 eggs - unbeaten
1 teaspoon vanilla
2½ squares unsweetened chocolate (melted)
¼ teaspoon salt
1 cup chopped nuts (pecans - walnuts or peanuts)

Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Grease 8" x 8" x 2" pan - Sift dry ingredients Cream shortening & sugar until very light & fluffy. Add eggs one at a time beat thoroughly - add vanilla - mix in melted chocolate then dry ingredients & then nuts. Pour into pan - bake - 30 to 35 minutes - cool slightly - cut into squares - sprinkle with 4 x sugar if you like

Here's a favorite of the children - and it was so interesting to read a few weeks ago - just how much the little folks do love peanut butter - treats - whether Sandwiches - candy - cookies or these Marlowes. They much prefer these simple suggestions than fancier more expensive party foods.

PEANUT BUTTER MARLOWES
Top graham crackers with a thin layer of peanut butter, top with a marshmallow, then pop into a medium hot oven until marshmallow becomes soft & lightly browned

PEANUT BUTTER FINGERS
1 cup sifted all purpose flour
¼ teaspoon soda
1½ teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup soft shortening
½ cup peanut butter
½ cup (light) brown sugar
½ cup granulated sugar
1 egg

dents & mix well. Pinch off small pieces & roll into finger shape pieces about 2 inches long - place on ungreased baking sheet - press with tines of fork to trim - Bake 12 to 15 minutes or until golden brown.

PEANUT BUTTER HAM ROUNDS

Preheat oven to 375 degrees. Quickly brown small slices of ham about ½ inch thick in hot frying pan. Spread each slice after lightly browning with 1 tablespoon peanut butter - arrange in shallow baking pan side-by-side-with peanut butter side up - add enough milk to come just to top of ham but not to cover - bake until fork tender - as milk evaporates at a little more. When done - place on heated platter & serve. This should please the big folks as well as the youngsters - Sound so good & different too. Bye now—

BLOODWORTH'S CELEBRATE GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Bloodworth, who were married fifty years ago on January 20, 1907 at Herring's Chapel, Pender County, North Carolina, marked their golden wedding anniversary Sunday.

A reception was held at their home 604 Kempsville Road, Lake Terrace.

Two hundred guests attended the ceremony including the Bloodworth's six children, Sgt. and Mrs. Robert Bloodworth, who have recently returned from three years in Germany; Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Bloodworth, Jr., of Washington, D. C.; Marcus Bloodworth, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Bloodworth, Mr. and Mrs. Hunter Bloodworth and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Meekins.

The Bloodworths also have thirteen grandchildren and one great grandchild. Mr. Bloodworth began work with the David Pender Grocery Company in 1920 and retired as manager of Colonial Stores in 1946. Since his retirement he has spent most of his spare time gardening.

Mrs. Bloodworth is an active member of the Lake Terrace Club. Both have been members of the McKendree Methodist Church for 30 years.

In recent years the Bloodworths have also spent some time traveling in the United States. Following his retirement they toured the Northwest for a year. Recently, they toured Florida accompanied by their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Bloodworth, Jr.

The Bloodworths also have thirteen grandchildren and one great grandchild. Mr. Bloodworth began work with the David Pender Grocery Company in 1920 and retired as manager of Colonial Stores in 1946. Since his retirement he has spent most of his spare time gardening.

Mrs. Wright and Mrs. W. F. Davis judged the exhibits. Mrs. C. C. Marks was awarded a gold ribbon and Mrs. L. E. Burford and Mrs. J. D. Gregory were presented other ribbons.

The W. P. Phillips entertained their guests Sunday with a new type of gathering — a combination oyster roast and skating party. Their home on Phillips road is situated on Lake Taylor. Last weekend for the first time since 1939 the lake froze over.

Almost all day Saturday the family and neighbors figure delighted on the ice. Mr. Phillips and J. D. Gregory sprayed the lake with cold water to smooth over the ruts from the day's skating Saturday evening and to assure a frozen surface for the next day. A few in the group were experienced skaters. Gregory had learned to ice skate while in Germany. Mrs. Phillips grew up on Long Island, N. Y. and had learned to skate there. Skating continued Sunday until the ice started getting thin and one fell in up to his knees.

Those enjoying this new type of social gathering were Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Baker and children Linda and Holly; Mrs. J. D. Gregory, Mary Carol Gregory; J. D. Gregory, Mr. and Mrs. Les Baker and child, Mr. and Mrs. E. George Middleton and children, Kitty Lou Phillips, Margaret Ann Phillips and Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Jones and children, Sharon, and Kanen, recreation board accepted at a recent meeting of the League and gave the Aragona Village community recreation committee permission to unite all individuals and groups interested in recreation into a single unit in order to "bring the most and best recreation to the community through cooperative efforts and the exchange of ideas."

The new committee is composed of W. W. Franz, R. W. Huffman, L. E. Harris, L. L. Reinhardt, G. S. Hendricks and N. R. Cidley. Any resident who is willing to "volunteer time, energy and leadership for the betterment of its entire community in recreation" is urged to get in touch with any of the members.

GIRL SCOUT TROOP 476 FORMED Intermediate Girl Scout Troop 476 has recently been organized in Aragona Village.

Mrs. L. A. Neilson is the troop leader and Mrs. W. W. Franz is the assistant leader.

The 15 girls meet each Wednesday evening from seven to nine o'clock at the home of Mrs. Franz, 7801 Floral Street.

This troop is sponsored by the Aragona Village Civic League. The troop is now busy planning their Investment Services, which will be held soon.

KEMPSSVILLE NEIGHBORHOOD SCOUT LEADERS MEET The Kempsville Neighborhood Girl Scout Leaders met at the home of their Neighborhood Chairman, Mrs. J. D. Gregory on Lake Terrace Circle, Thursday evening.

There were eleven leaders present. Mrs. Gregory said March 20th is to be Girl Scout Week and the theme of the week is "Girl Scouting is a Family Affair" with emphasis on "Men in Girl Scouting." The Leaders were told of the Banquet to be held February 21st at the Paramount Restaurant in Virginia Beach. Everyone was urged to attend, including troop committee members.

It was decided to have the meetings the second Monday of each month with the next meeting being February 11th at the home of Mrs. M. Bruce Jones, 6508 Virginia Beach Blvd.

KEMPSSVILLE WOMAN'S CLUB BENEFIT CARD PARTY The Public Affairs Department of the Kempsville Woman's Club have made plans for their second annual benefit Card Party. It was announced by the chairman, Mrs. Ray M. Nelson. Serving on this committee, with Mrs. Nelson, are Mrs. Charles S. Denton, Mrs. Richard W. Mears and Mrs. R. M. Whitfield.

The Card Party will be held in the Kempsville Community Center, February 28th, Friday at eight o'clock. Tickets will be seventy-five cents and those interested are asked to bring their own cards and tables. There will be door prizes and refreshments served.

Proceeds from this card party will be used toward a Scholarship Fund, to be given to any boy or girl at Princess Anne High School who is planning to make teaching his or her career.

Aragona Village To Have Food Fair Supermarket

Food Fair Stores, Inc., of Philadelphia, continuing its expansion program in Virginia, has acquired tracks in Norfolk where it plans to erect ultra-modern supermarkets and has leased space in the Aragona Village Shopping Center, Norfolk, for a market. It was announced by Byer B. Marcus, executive vice president of the company.

In making the announcement, Mr. Marcus said the expansion of the Norfolk area had created a need for increased food shopping facilities. "We intend to make Food Fair Stores, in the Norfolk area showplaces of food retailing, and offer every customer convenience," he said.

The supermarket chain, which operates 267 units in 10 states from Connecticut to Florida, recently entered Virginia with units in Falls Church and Arlington.

Mr. Marcus disclosed that Food Fair has purchased a five-acre tract in Norfolk at the northeast corner of Little Creek Road and Mona Avenue where it plans to develop a neighborhood shopping center, which will feature a Food Fair Mart.

In the Aragona Village Shopping Center, Food Fair will install a 25,000 square foot store. It will be the largest in the 40-unit center, which will house both local and nationally known retailers. The store will face Virginia Beach Highway between Jefferson Street and Aragona Boulevard. There will be parking for 500 cars.

Construction is scheduled to start in March, according to Mr. Marcus.

Dept. of Defense Civil Employees

(The following is a text of a message from the Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson, to civilian employees on the 74th anniversary of the Civil Service.)

On the occasion of the 74th anniversary of the Civil Service Act, I would like to express my appreciation to the over one million Civil Service employees in the Department of Defense throughout the world for their able and productive service during the first four years of this administration.

I have been both pleased and impressed with the wide range of talent which exists in the career Civil Service and with the quality of the work performed.

The career Civil Service has provided a practical means for the recruitment and development of the quality of experienced personnel continually needed in the Department of Defense for such functions as research and development, supply, maintenance, production and administration of world-wide support programs.

Career Civil Service employees can take justifiable pride in the major role they play in developing and maintaining the modern combat forces needed in our nation's defense program.

Aragona Village Approved By Recreation Department

PRINCESS ANNE. The Community of Aragona Village request to affiliate with the County Recreation Department was approved and accepted by the Recreation Board at a meeting held last Tuesday afternoon. Thus the Village became the first spoke in the wagon wheel for organizing recreation in Princess Anne County.

Members of the newly organized committee include Mr. W. W. Frank, Mr. R. W. Hoffman, Mr. L. E. Farris, Mr. L. L. Reinhold, Mr. G. S. Hendricks and Mr. N. R. Cidewicz.

As the Aragona Village Community Recreation Committee this group will be recognized by the County Recreation Department as sole authority for recreation in their particular community and will be the only group dealt with by the County Recreation Department. This plan in no way excludes other individuals and groups of Aragona Village who desire assistance from the Department in promoting recreational activities; however other individuals and groups desiring assistance must be

CATTLE MAY SOON BITE BACK AT HELL FLY GRUBS

Entomologists have been working for a long time to find an insecticide that can be fed or injected into the bodies of beef cattle to destroy hell-fly grubs before they bore holes in the hide on the animals' backs.

Many insecticides have been tried and rejected either because they were ineffective or because harmful residues remained after their use.

Latest news on this front, report scientists at VPI, is that an apparently successful systemic insecticide (one that works internally) has been found. It's Dow ET-57, an organic phosphate chemical with an almost unpronounceable name—O, O-dimethyl 9-2, 3, 5-trichlorophenyl phosphorothioate. Preliminary tests, conducted by the U. S. Department of Agriculture and several state experiment stations, indicate that one dose, given orally to an animal just after the hell-fly season ends, will move throughout the body to destroy both worm and common species of grubs before they break through the hide.

ET-57 will not be available com-mercially, however, for some time. Although considerable research has been done, it will take at least another year to investigate fully its effects on treated animals, possible residues in meat and dairy products resulting from various dose doses, the most practical means of administering the insecticide, and its performance in different geographical areas.

Among the experiment stations investigating the problem is the one at VPI. Preliminary results on the Virginia tests should be forthcoming soon.

Mrs. J. Blaine Gwin, president of the Federation of Home Demonstration Clubs, Fairfax, says six goals have been chosen and state chairmen named for each. Mrs. Charles Bass, of Frederick county, is "art in daily living" chairman. Club members who study this subject will learn to appreciate and enjoy the simple and artistic things of everyday life. Mrs. John M. Garnick, Jr., of Spotsylvania, is "citizenship" chairman. She suggests that every home demonstration club member accept the privileges and responsibilities of citizenship.

Mrs. L. J. Crosey, Wythe, is chairman of the "family life" program. Its aim is to stimulate interest in and understanding of the importance of a satisfactory relationship between family members. As "health" chairman, Mrs. W. L. Dunn, of Henrico, recommends that club members acquire knowledge about and use of existing health facilities in Virginia.

Mrs. Goode Robinson, Campbell, is "safety" chairman. She believes that each home demonstration club member has a responsibility for the safety of herself, her family, and her community.

"To see ourselves as tourists see us," is the slogan of Mrs. G. Wright Thompson, Bland, "home and community beautification" chairman. The aim of this program is twofold: to make Virginia homes more attractive, and to conserve Virginia's natural resources. Also announced was the appointment of Mrs. David Kennedy, Culpeper, as state news chairman for the Federation.

THE MEASURE OF CIVILIZATION

Some folks judge civilization's progress by the kind of houses they live in.

Others point toward the giant strides of science or industry—or the striking advance of music, art and literature.

Yet civilization is perhaps best measured by the kind of people it produces.

Picture a man who respects the dignity and rights of others, and who looks with compassion on human suffering. He is guided in all things by an abiding love for God. His moral stamina never ebbs. His spiritual courage grows stronger.

Multiply this man by the thousands . . . by the millions . . . and you'll see a civilization higher and greater than has ever existed.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor in the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.
